Report Twelve Thousand Nisei in Japan Have Applied for Repatriation to United States

First Large Group Leaves This Week for West Coast on Government Supported by Japanese-Americans

WASHINGTON—A bill to provide for the repatriation of Japanese Americans to the United States has been introduced by Senators Pat Harrison (D., Idaho) and Charles F. Johnson (D., Utah). The bill was sent to the President on Tuesday, March 8, 1948.

Mr. Johnson said that 3,000 applications already have been processed and forwarded to the United States. He declared that the first large group of repatriates, 70 in number, would leave for America on March 8 for the Emergency Session of the CRDU.

The bill was introduced in response to a request from the CRDU for funds to finance the repatriation of Japanese Americans to the United States. The CRDU has been working for several years to secure a law for the repatriation of Japanese Americans to the United States.

Hawaiian Statehood Official Answers Anti-Nisei Criticism By Michigan Congressman

WASHINGTON—Returning from a 24,000-mile tour of the Pacific on March 5, Rep. Clair Engle, D-Calif., asserted that Gen. MacArthur would not go to Hawaii as MacArthur leaves, he said, "the Hawaiiians would soft-pedal the criticism of the Nisei." Crawford explained that "many people of both races in Hawaii would be tied in negotiating with the future territorial status of the area, there should be Hawaiian and Japanese representation."

"This is true, the Michigan Republican said, "I think the territorial status of the island's Japanese population is going to be affected by some of those ties which interfere with the mixing of Hawaiian and Japanese Americans who are able to serve in Congress as soon as possible."

In answering Crawford, MacArthur blamed Crawford's snobbish about the Nisei. He pointed out that in the recent territorial census, of 279,567 people, 25 of 197 candidates were Nisei American, and there were 33 who were in excess of 10,000. He also reported, representing 8.9 per cent of the 197 candidates. He also reported, "It is a fact that 12 persons of Japanese ancestry are permitted to serve in the territorial legislature演变 achieved."

Racial Minorities Victimized As Scapegoats in Time of Economic Crisis, Says Writer

LOS ANGELES—Racial minorities become scapegoats in times of economic crisis, Carey McWilliams, noted author and lecturer, said on Feb. 21 at a mass rally held by the Los Angeles JACL at St. Mary's Episopal church in DTLA.

One of the paramount issues today, the author said, is the furnishing of economic security and social opportunities to the people. He said the Nisei are used to inflation and this is the loyalty of the territory's people.

President Truman also is on rec- ord as a contributor to the loyalty of the territory's people.

Boise Valley JACL Conducts Drive For Membership

Nampa, Idaho—Member-ship committee members of the Boise Valley JACL conducted door-to-door canvases in their present area of Idaho with special emphasis on the Japanese community of the area, said Ted Takashita, 3rd vice-president, in a statement to the JACL's News Scottsdale-Phoenix chapter.

The membership committee is headed by Mr. J. W. Okimoto, Mrs. K. Okamoto, Mrs. T. T. Ishibashi, Mr. H. Okamoto, Mrs. H. Okamoto, and Mr. K. T. Okamoto.

Miss Gretchen Feiker, 16, Evansville, Ind., shopped for the Institute president during the session.

WASHINGTON JACL Holds First Social

WASHINGTON—The Washington JACL played host to a social gathering at the Pacific Club on Feb. 26 at 6:30 p.m. George Williams, national president of the JACL, was the featured speaker.

His address was the first of a series of socials which will be held every week during the session.

Court of Canada ruled on February 20, 1946, that the Dominion has such power.

Thus, says O'Brien, as result of its pro-program of reclassification of the Japanese citi-

ers of Japanese ancestry by the Canadian and American governments.

In the beginning the two countries embarked on a number of policies for removing from the west coast areas of the two countries all persons of Japanese ancestry. This was never granted until 1944 in Canada, and the reclassification of Japanese citizens was established from the very first as part of the operation against Americans and resident aliens of Japanese ancestry. In areas in which these separate posts exist, minority group veterans are ad-sorbed not into the "mainstream," but rather than affiliate with other established posts.

The argument advanced by advocates of separate posts is that these areas would give veterans of minority races an opportunity to organize their own activities and to gain ex-erience in leadership in veterans affairs.

It is also emphasized that separate posts will give racial groups direct representation and a vote in the affairs of area councils of vet-
ers. There are also in stressions of the fact that many of the activities of a veterans' group are of a fraternac-social nature, members of minorities may be more comfortable in such groups than rather than affiliate with other established posts.

Earl Finch was sitting in his stockinged feet in his room at the favorite Washington hotel, the Mayflower. He was discussing the sentiment of the Nisei. He was talking about his favorite subject—the Nisei. He was explaining his point of view about the problems of the Nisei. He was trying to express his feelings about the situation. He was trying to make the Nisei understand his point of view.

Earl has visited a number of his boys in Hawaii in the recent weeks, and he expects to plan a large number of the boys who are taking part in the next year's educational rights gatherings. About 300 of these boys are attending the University of Minnesota, and in addition, many of the Hawaiian boys were sent to the states to enter school. Earl says that they are only a few in the islands.

Earl says that in Chicago, there are many boys in college schools. In every community, he says, boys either hitting the books or playing. Some of them are up almost every trade imaginable of themselves. They are getting a sporting, and dental plate making, etc.

Earl is chiefly concerned at the moment with getting a better break through for the boys to get specially-equipped automobiles. He is supposed to get new cars in order to have a better break for the Nisei veterans in Hawaii and on the mainland. It is also one, although some fellows in the mainland, as the east and the west have secured their cars.

This discrepancy is due to a situation caused by the cost of these cars shall not exceed $1,000. West Coast veterans cannot buy cars because of their income and are not able to spend $200 more. And so, he says, it is difficult to divide the difference out of their income to buy cars. This is all the more reason that he would like to see the Nisei division to get George Washington university.

Earl found that a large majority favored having the California bill passed. They were all for going to the Islands for permanent burial, and the majority said they would like to put one single large cemetery in Hawaii or in a cemetery some place in the islands, which of course would be a great convenience for all.

As for the parents on the mainland, Earl says that they have had expression of definite views of what they want their boys to understand because many of them have been dead. As a result of the dissolution by the evacuation of the Nisei, they have lost their homes, and they do not want to lose their children, who are known until they have decided what to do with the cars that are burned in their homes.

CAPITAL NOTES

Sharon A. Dhawan, director of the American Civil Liberties Union in California, volunteered last week to confer with Mr. Manase. She also announced that she would work on the West Coast in the next few weeks, and that she would hold a conference call with the Congregational Church council.

Earl Finch was set to go to South America for the Department of Veterans Affairs, and Miss Insu, who returned last month from a four-month trip to Korea for the War Department, is now a part of the Department of Public Health... But we did not hear from her last week. We are not sure if she is still in the Department of Veterans Affairs.

Bill Introduced For Japanese Woman of GI

Joins Legislation
For Entry of Three Chinese Nisei

WASHINGTON. — The first private bill session this season to permit the entrance of Chinese Nisei as citizens of the United States of Japanese ancestry has been introduced into the House of Representatives, the Washington Office of the JACL. A joint committee was named to report the bill this week.

The bill was introduced by Conggressman Louis E. Grahame of Pennsyl-via, and cosponsored by Representative
Mrs. Akiko Tobacco Miller, who is the wife of Governor John J. Miller of the United States Navy, who was admitted into this country under the provisions of the Alien Citizen Act of 1940.

Almost 2,800 bills were passed in the 86th Congress and 450 in the 85th Congress.

Eight Teams Enter Chicago Tournament

CHICAGO — Basketball teams from Portland, Ore., Honolulu, N. J., Minneapolis, New York, Cleveland and Los Angeles have entered the Mid- west invitational basketball tournament, which will be held March 20 and 21 in Chicago under the sponsorship of the Nisei Athletic Association.

Intermountain Cage Tournament Will Be Staged in Salt Lake

A Midwest basketball tournament will be held in Salt Lake City, March 25, 26 and 27, in place of a national tournament.

The change was made because of a lack of response from teams outside the Intermountain area and the fact that tournaments also will be held in California during the same period.

The Salt Lake Midgets, last year's champions, will return to Salt Lake for the tournament. The Manchuck Rockets of Denver also will enter.

Teams from Idaho, Oregon, the Pacific Northwest and the Intermountain area and the slate Lake NIAU league will be invited to participate.

Canada May Set Up Claims Commission to Review Sales of Properties of Evacuees

WINNIPEG, Man.—The Canadian government may set up a claims commission to review the forced sales of Japanese Canadian lands by British Columbia during the war, the New Canadian reported this week.

The report said Secretary of State Colin Gibson, under heavy grilling from opposition members, had told the House of Commons on Feb. 18 that a commission may be set up to deal with claims by Japanese Canadians whose properties were confiscated and sold.

Gibson said that he could give no details as to when decisions had been made but declared that the organization of a commission was under consideration by the cabinet.

"It is difficult to know the extent of the number and what the possible way of handling them" Gibson remarked.

M. J. Caldwell, national leader of the Progressives, told the House of Commons on Feb. 18 that the New Canadian report was accurate.

Kuroro Cancels Speaking Tour in Deep South

Concludes Series

In Washington, D.C., the JACL's Kuroro, who has been conducting an unflagging fight for democracy under the auspices of the East and West Methodist Group

WASHINGTON — Ben Kuroro, who has been conducting an unflagging fight for democracy under the auspices of the East and West Methodist Group, arrived in Washington, D.C., for the last leg of his speaking tour which was planned to take him to the Deep South.

Kuroro, who is also a member of the JACL's board of directors, spoke at several churches and community centers in the Washington area. His talks focused on the importance of democracy and the need for continued activism in the struggle for civil rights.

In his last appearance, Kuroro addressed a sell-out crowd at a church in Washington, D.C., where he delivered a powerful speech on the need for unity and solidarity in the fight against racism and discrimination.

Kuroro's upcoming speaking engagements include appearances in other parts of the United States, where he plans to continue his efforts to spread the message of democracy and equality.

Japanese American evacuees from British Columbia during the war had their property confiscated and sold at a loss by the government.

The paper reported that Secretary of State Cohn Gibson, who had been conducting an unflagging fight for democracy under the auspices of the East and West Methodist Group, had been scheduled to arrive in Washington, D.C., for the last leg of his speaking tour.

Kuroro's talks focused on the importance of democracy and the need for continued activism in the struggle for civil rights.

In his last appearance, Kuroro addressed a sell-out crowd at a church in Washington, D.C., where he delivered a powerful speech on the need for unity and solidarity in the fight against racism and discrimination.

Kuroro's upcoming speaking engagements include appearances in other parts of the United States, where he plans to continue his efforts to spread the message of democracy and equality.

Japanese American evacuees from British Columbia during the war had their property confiscated and sold at a loss by the government.
