The Governor Meets the Queen
Panel Experts Urge JACL
Join in Wider Program
For Civil and Racial Rights

Can we justify the continued existence of the JACL when the problems of the Japanese Americans have been solved?

This basic problem, posed by Keynoter Elmer R. Smith, set the tone for the "Future of the JACL" on Tuesday afternoon in the Hotel Utah junior ballroom.

A staff of JACL experts, district council leaders, delegates, including officials and booster delegates, began their presentations on the wider front of ethnic relations, not only in the United States but also elsewhere.

The JACL program, he said, has progressed rapidly. He suggested, however, that the JACL must have an organized program to keep its members, once the major legislative goals of the ADC and JACL have been secured.

The University of Utah professor spoke of the time the JACL "must come of age." Some are, he said, reacting to the past for their evaluation of present problems. Progressive ideas, he added, are being pushed. "We are first Americans," he said. The JACL, Prof. Smith declared, must stand against anybody or any group that the public, but a poor job of explaining the

Smith offered the following suggestions for the future course of the JACL.

1. The JACL must function within the total community, not a "protected community of its own," Smith said.

2. The JACL must have a specific program to protect persons affected by the issues.

3. The JACL must push an education program within its membership.

4. The JACL must work with other groups and organizations to fight the growing menace to civil rights.

5. The JACL must expand its recreational, welfare and community services.

6. In conclusion, Professor Smith posed the question of discrimination by Negro groups. He discussed the issue of discrimination by Negro groups. He suggested that local chapters follow national JACL policy

JACL Pledges Organization to Program for Nationalization

Issel Membership Plan Approved by Delegates

The Japanese American Citizens League recommitted itself to its first objective of securing American citizenship rights for its members. The Issel membership plan was adopted at the biennial national convention.

Close to 200 delegates from all parts of the United States, including a large number of island residents, are expected to meet in the next few days, during which several new national officers will be elected and a resolution will be considered calling for the termination of all war-related internment. The board recommended that another national office be provided in Washington, D.C., to facilitate the jurisdiction in the San Francisco area, separate district, with financial assistance to be provided by the JACL.

The board recommended that all national offices be the executive office in Washington, D.C., be maintained by local district councils or chapters upon conclusion of the ABA campaign in the JACL.

Location of national head- quarters for another year was in San Francisco Bay, headquarters for the ABA campaign in Washington, D.C., was recommended.

Several of the recommendations of the board were for the continuation of the JACL educational campaign, promotion of war-time groups to provide leadership, promotion of the JACL, credit union and bank, and a number of special studies to study possibilities of emergency housing and the JACL history and restlessness.

District Changes

Two major changes recognizing the need for more local districts were made by delegates to national council.

The Northern California district was divided into Northern California-Western California districts for the election of the Issel chapter in the junior division.

The Mountain Plains district was divided into district numbered from Denver, Omaha, and Fort Logan, Colorado.

Los Angeles Girl Wins Coveted Title

As National Queen

Beautiful June Yoshimoto, 20 years of Los Angeles, was named Queen of the national JACL by Governor Herbert H. Matthews of Utah.

The pretty queen, a beauty queen selected in a field of nine contestants, was presented JACL Queen by Governor Herbert H. Matthews of Utah.

The other contestants were Rose Pope, Miss Salt Lake City; Shoko Kunita, Miss New York City; Ann Shirahama, Miss Washington; Betty Toriyama, Miss Portland; Elsie Yoshitake, Ogden; and Rose Shiramizu of Denver.

The contest, sponsored by the national division, was directed by George Motomchi, chairman.

10th Convention Recorded by Movie Camera

Full story of the 10th National JACL convention meeting in Salt Lake City will be presented by several motion pictures.

Approximately 1000 feet of film will be taken of all the speeches and ceremonies at the convention.

Full color coverage of the convention was also provided by JACL member George Siaha, who will present the photos in this issue of the Pacific Citizen.

Citizens League to Assist in Filing Evacuation Claims

The Japanese American Citizens League will assist in the filing of evacuation claims, it was decided by the national convention and legislative committee.

It was emphasized that the organization will charge no fees for its services.

Filing of forms is to start in October, according to Robert E. Fina, special JACL counsel for evacuees, who explained the procedure to the delegates.

The forms are to be completed in three months or as soon as possible, depending on the number of claims. Small claims are expected to be completed by September 15th, but larger claims may take six or more months before payment was to be received.

The groups of families who present forms will be the first to be handled. The first section of the claim, who is empowered to sign the document, especially in the absence of the family head, will be the first to be handled.

Also emphasized was the importance of the claims to the successful operation of the evacuee relocation program. Each claim is to be handled in a timely manner to promote the program.

Chicago Takes Bid As Convention City After Close Race

Chicago, the largest chapter in the JACL, organization, will be the host city of the 11th national JACL convention in 1948.

Chicago was acclaimed as the 1948 convention city by the most ballots on the second roll call at the final meeting of the 7th national council on Sept. 8 at the VW clubhouse.

The bidding was spirited with New York, San Francisco and Los Angeles entering bids for the 1948 convention.

On the first roll call Chicago received 22 votes, followed by San Francisco 18, New York, and Los Angeles 5. Three chapters passed.

After a short recess the roll was taken again and the vote remained the same for the title of the convention.

The national committee will meet in Chicago in January to complete the arrangements.

Not Thinking of Marriage Yet, JACL Queen Tells Reporter

By Herbert Gordon

"It doesn't feel to me like a "queen,"" she said, turning to the other posters at the focal point of convention activities on the mezzanine of Salt Lake City's City Hall. Signs were made by the Alphas, a Los Angeles girls' club.

"But I haven't thought much about marriage," she continued, "yet, a lot of the others have been married for about a year." These lovely JACL queen contest candidates were "wagged" into visiting the home of Mrs. B. W. Massey, prominent Salt Lake City Democrat party woman. Left to right, they were standing, Rose Oka, Mr. Oka, Jane Saeki, New York City; June Yoshimoto, Los Angeles; Chicago, and Betty Yoshimoto, (seated) Elsie Yoshida, Ogawa; Mrs. Massey; Mira Nishi, Venice; Helen Kinoshiba, Portland; and Rose Shiramizu, Denver.

El Centro Buddhists Contribute $1000 For JACL Work

A check for $1000 to support the JACL AD program was presented to the organization by the El Centro Buddhist church. The check was presented by T. R. Honda, secretary of the church.

How does Miss Yoshimoto feel about marriage?

"Oh, I do want to get married, of course," she said, "but not for a long time."

"Any particular reason why you would like to wait?"

"None. I haven't found anyone yet, but I'm not even thinking of marriage now."

A nice looking chapstra pa, Jane Yoshimoto, unveiled her legs. The nice looking chap was of Slender.

"Goodbye," she said, terminating the interview.

The nice looking chap watched her walk away. Her whitish eye was so bright and clear, it shone like a star. The legs seemed to be model. The nice looking chap was the best."

Radio, Television Coverage Features JACL Convention

Extensive press, radio and television coverage was given to the Twelfth Biennial convention of the Japanese American Citizens League.

The coverage ranged from purely local programs to a place on a nationwide broadcast, with local newspapers and wire services carrying complete reports on the convention.

Salt Lake City's only television station, KDYL-TV, featured locally "Queen" June Yoshimoto, Los Angeles; her two attendants, Helen Kinoshiba, Portland, and Julie Yoshitaka, Chicago, and an interview with Hilo Okada, national president, on a special JACL program.

First of the series of broadcasts was a fifteen-minute roundtable discussion on "The Nisei Come Back!" Carried by station KNAX, the program was an informal discussion of various problems faced in reintegration, and how these problems have been solved.

Frank Chang, Los Angeles; Mark Sabanawa, Chicago; Ted Hirota, Berkeley; Yasuo Akiko, San Francisco, and Hiroshi Ushibetsu, Philadelphia were featured on the KNAX broadcast.

H. T. Yasabo, first national president of the JACL, was interviewed by station KUTA (ABC), and said that the major goal before the Nisei is securing passage of the "Nationality Bill."

"Reintegration has been good because it has given the Nisei an opportunity to live with and understand all Americans," Mr. Okada said in a short interview scheduled for release by the Mutual Broadcasting System on its coast-to-coast program, "Newsmakers of the A. M."

KDYL (NBC), carried a fifteen-minute panel discussion of Nisei problems featuring Angie Cio Watson, San Francisco; Robert M. Collins, Washington, D.C.; Edward J. Bente, New York, and Col. Charles W. Penner, war-time commanding officer of the famed 422nd. Mr. Mosher acted as moderator of the program.

Two Nisei farmers, Charles Tonomura, Salt Lake City, and Henry Kawashita, Hidalgo, Texas, were interviewed by John Parens, Inter-Mountain Network farm editor, on a full network show.
Masaoka Pledges JACL ADC
To Fight for Naturalization
At Recognition Dinner

A pledge to continue the JACL ADC fight to attain citizen- ship for Japanese American citizens of the Nisei was made by Mr. Masaoka, ADC legislative director, in his talk Wednesday night at the convention recognition dinner.

The banquet, held to honor state and local officers of the JACL in Utah Lafayette ballroom.

Mr. Masaoka, speaking for Japanese Americans since the war was "despite the American war," noted that since the war there has been an understanding that the Nisei and Issei, subjected to discrimination under the war of the American way of life, are "a part of society that are suffered by persons of Japanese descent.

In asking for citizenship for Japanese Americans, he said, the parent generation has demonstrated its loyalty to this country for 20 years of devotion to this country.

"They deserve the rights to share with their children the benefits of our democratic way of life," he said. "Certainly if this is true if this was meant sincerely of the law, this past war answered this.

"In the past 50 years, the JACL, Dr. Larry L. Honda, chairman, President Masaoka, Mr. Okada were presented with a distinguished service award to the organization. American lawyers, JACL's, and, while the situation was difficult to manage, we were unable to attend the convention.

Mr. Honda, speaking for the JACL, expressed the organization's appreciation for the JACL ADC's past efforts to defend the constitutionality of the loyalty oath.

"I am proud to be a part of the JACL ADC," he said, "and I am proud of the JACL ADC's contributions to the defense of American constitutional rights."

It's a far cry from the energy, hope, and organization of the Allied-Labor-Service to the first feeble efforts of the Fung-Waars toward their own association.

And Dr. Thomas T. Yatabe, "Colonel," using his "Colonel," being a witness to all the tremendous changes that have taken place during the past 30 years, came to the meeting to express his gratitude for the assistance of the JACL to his own organization.

But let us not forget that the JACL, as the first organization of Japan, has contributed much to the formation of the American Labor Service, and to the members of the JACL.

Dr. Yatabe recalled that four of the San Franciscans were present when they met the needs of the old JACL. Those four were Ken Takemura, Tom Okura, George Taguchi and Dr. H. Hayashi, and they didn't even know how to vote, and they were told to be elected officers of the JACL.

Dr. Yatabe said he hoped that we would be able to support the JACL, so that it will be able to carry on with the other JACL activities.

When, in 1974, the young JACL took its first president, Dr. Yatabe was selected for that position.

He called on these "out" political candidates as being the victor in the JACL for next 9 years.

The May 14th meeting was convened by President Dr. George I. Nakamura.

Dr. Yatabe insisted on the importance of the JACL for this country. And he stressed that the JACL is the voice of Japanese Americans.

A delegation of 400 JACL members from Los Angeles, headed by Dr. Tom Nakamura, arrived in San Francisco to attend the JACL convention.

On the evening of the convention, the delegation was entertained at a banquet at the Hotel Francis. The banquet was attended by all the JACL members.

"WHEREAS, present laws should be revised to include the affirmative action program for Japanese American citizens to the same extent as for other minority groups."

"NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that our membership and our leaders continue to work toward the achievement of equal rights and opportunities for Japanese American citizens as we work toward the achievement of equal rights and opportunities for all American citizens as we work toward the achievement of equal rights and opportunities for all American citizens."
The bodies of the Japanese American soldiers who died in the war were returned to Honolulu on September 1, and the remains are currently on their way to be treated with respect and buried in the two war dead centers for hours after the morning service. Rainy skies and a guard of honor stood bear arms in the lobby of the Iolani Palace.

The remains of the war dead will be buried in the National Memorial Cemetery at the base of the Punchbowl crater, overlooking the city of Honolulu. The ceremony is now under construction.

The rite at Waikiki will be conducted in family plots on the various cemeteries.

The two war dead lie in silence as the mourners of 150 of them were measured feet of the Iolani Palace.

The bodies were borne on the shoulders of the loyal and followed by body bearers.

The service will be in the church of the dead and the military dignitaries present.

Nisei and the Elections (IV): \textit{Nisei's Note's for Truman} \textbf{President Has Pursued Liberal Domestic Policy} by \textbf{Peter Ohtaki}

"Well, well, the stupid, pipa-playing, irresponsible, loafer, that Harry, the man who made the wrong approach, is to be in the White House. There is no way to make the wrong time appear that he might right the time with the right time with the right campaign message. And a politically incorrect citizen, completely misled by the daily press, will continue on seeking, or perhaps dreaming of a revolution that might turn the country with the wave of a hand. The concept appears to be that a president must be someone who can act as judge, as a God, as a human being.

When I was an up and coming politician, I was considering the option of withdrawing my legislative and judicial powers. This, I believe, might be one of the tools of a politician, especially when it is in the interest of my constituents, especially in a place that is check and balance government, it is a necessary step.

We, these responsible voters have to begin to realize that "it isn't the time" that is most important but the satisfaction in the Atkins level of our voter. But, it is also true, that too much violence has been caused by the candidate, by the press, and by the voter upon the arrows of speech, glittering generalizations, and empty verbal compliments. The speech has been given to the candidate's party in last year's "Valentine's (or "V" until the campaign is over."

The Democratic party has done well in maintaining its position in the country as a middle class, as a middle position party. It has been light in political and social relation.

The Party and Foreign Affairs

On international issues, the Democratic party has been qualified all others from the standpoint of its leader. He is completely behind with support of world union, the right-wing, the United Nations, he is more sincere. Although, "other" means, that the party has been with the Republican-Democratic administration, has consistently been in the original position of the Marshall plan.

The notable leader of the Republicans, President Truman's efforts is "close house." However, according to Ford President's bill, still are further evidences of his insight on main justice for refugees.

President signed with regret, the Republican-dominated compromise of the Civil Rights Bill. For the first time, since it limited Jewish refugees in the United States, the President knew that the bill was better than third. And, for the first time, since the amendment was vetoed.

President Truman and the Democratic party has been active toward democratic movement, toward the progress of the "classy" type. But, the progress of the Democratic party needs no further explanation.

The Nisei, public, as a minority, is not interested in the housing shortage. With 18 million people, a housing shortage is the least of the burdens. The public and private housing associations are not to blame for the shortage, only to be supported by Bank of America, Federal Housing Authority, and other such agencies.

With substantial leader Taft, also

"decent" very much ashamed of his record, especially in the Nisei's political pressure. Of course, as an office holder, he will be more interesting in the next election because the Republican party will be worse than the previous election.

One of the questions was: "Will you support legislation such as the "Jap bill" is passed?" But, the Nisei's political groups were not interested. The Nisei's Asian groups now desired citizenship because it was in their interest. It is not a question of the necessities of the future, it is a question of a 1940's mentality.

Hood River Community Holds Services for Nisei Soldier

Hood River, Ore.—A Nisei soldier will be buried with honors Saturday, Sept. 11, in this city where Nisei names once were stricken from the county war honor roll.

The body of Frank Hachiyas, native of the Hood River valley and the soldier of the Silver Star for gallantry, has come home from Leyte where he died.

The Hood River American Legion, which in wartime bitterness struck from the county service the names of Japanese Americans, will join with the Veterans of Foreign Wars in conducting the services.

Hachiyas died on Leyte after he had volunteered to get information on Japanese positions ahead of advancing troops of the Sixth Army. In so doing, he was shot by a sniper, but crawled back, mortally wounded, with the necessary information.

Among the citizens of Oregon who will speak in tribute to Hachiyas and other Nisei GIs will be Mr. Charles P. Stump, governor of Oregon; W. P. McNain, Portland banker and acting president of Reed college, who was a nephew of S. Myers Hachiyas, a well-known educator and diplomat.

Sgt. Hachiyas's father, Junkichi Hachiyas, has returned to Chicago in the family's former home in the Hood River valley to be present at the ceremony. His brother and mother are still in Okayama, Japan where they went before the war. Sgt. Hachiyas came back in 1928 from Japan and attended Odell high school.

The services will be conducted by the Rev. A. E. Plass who will be unseated by the Rev. Francis Hayashi of Portland.

Impressive funeral and burial services were held in Fresno, Calif., on Sept. 4 for Pfc. John Okada, who died in France while in combat as a member of the famous 442nd Combat Team. The funeral rites were held at the Fresno Buddhist church. Following the service, military burial rites were conducted at Liberty cemetery. Present, by members of American Legion Post No. 4, assisted by the United Veterans local Nisei group, Pfc. Okada, who joined the army in March, 1941, was killed in action in the Vosges Mountains near Buryerense, France on Oct. 28, 1944.
