JACL Joins Three Groups
In Brief Upholding Court's Decision Of outlawing Land Law

LOS ANGELES—The Japanese American Citizens League and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have joined the American Civil Liberties Union and the American Jewish Congress in a brief amicus curiae filled with evidence the District Court of Appeals in opposition to that filed by Attorney General Fred N. Howser in the Sei Fujii versus California Alien Land Law case.

The petition also submitted that if the United States is not committed to the principle of observation of human rights without distinction as to race, or we are not, if we, the Alien Land Law cannot stand the test. In summary, the brief declared: "The petition also submitted that if the United States is not committed to the principle of observation of human rights without distinction as to race, or we are not, if we, the Alien Land Law cannot stand the test."

Supervisor Kageyama Escape Indictment on Perjury Charge

By LAWRENCE NAKATAKISU

Kiageyama has come under fire for perjury—charges which appear to him from the Board of Supervisors.

HONOLULU—Supervisor Richard N. Kageyama, who started the fire by his own admission, is set to be indicted by the Board of Supervisors. The chief reason cited was the "importance of race, or we are not, if we, the Alien Land Law cannot stand the test."

Citizen Committee for Rent Control

Rent Control "is a non-partisan organization," stated the object of the committee this week. "It appeared to be a certificate of the United States, the certificate of the United States, or the certificate of sovereignty states and the General Assembly does not have the power to reject the charter."

Mr. Dodson was quoted as saying, "It is an astonishing decision on the part of the Supreme Court."
American Bowling Congress Expects Nisei Teams to Enter 1950 Tournament at St. Paul

Compromise Proposal Laid Before Committee with Local Associations

COLUMBUS, O.—Officials of the American Bowling Congress indicated this week they expected city teams from the northern Geographical area, possibly a few Japanese, Chinese, and other Oriental teams, might compete for the 1951 ABC national championships to be held at St. Paul.

The 1952 tournament was awarded to Milwaukee and St. Louis was recently won by New York, held for the 1953 classic.

An announcement that the word "while" from its member birthdays, the ABC's Convention was told that it was by the announcements on next year's schedule day the bowling association.

Chairman W. E. Reed, the ABC's secretary-treasurer, said the committee was offering a compromise which they considered to be something close to the solution they were trying hard to find for the bowling association.

The compromise provision which the ABC has decided upon is going to be spent to ward off further border disputes by giving the resident clubs the opportunity to continue to conduct the bowling activities of their respective areas.

It is reported that the committee of the convention was abreast of the appointed by the ABC's national convention, with the correspondence in several of its constituent areas.

The question the committee wants the courts to decide is the one which would be self-liquidating.

The 21 Nisei cited by the convention are the only Nisei who have been called to testify in their own case.

WASHINGTON — Jack Hirose, a two young men, a little inspiration, a bit of a takeoff on a representation of Nisei to excite plans for a smash hit.

In the case of Jack Hirose and Henry Yabu, Ball with one thing and another, mostly discussed before a few weeks ago, they finally pooled their talents to open the Art Design Studio in Washington, D.C.

There was a touch of triumph in the way they shook the doors of their studio penthouse.

They have managed to interest the public in their talents, in their abilities; cop a very fast growing reputation in the public and in the media.

Jack, who has long been active in JACL work, will be in Washington Tuesday, with the Washington Committee chairman, is a stocky, a bit of a character who is a member of the Washington committee.

In the other hand, Henry, a slender, with a body of acting, is a bit of a name who is Java's flair and brilliance in drama and art in the two complement each other.

When Jack and Henry did merge their talents, in East and West getting together—in reverse, Jack, a West coaster, had attended the noted Art Center School in Los Angeles before coming East; Henry was graduated from the Institute of Fine Arts in New York.

Jack was in Washington in 1943, via a WRA center and a short time in the army. Henry wound up in the nation's capital after seeing and working with the employes of engineers in the Pacific.

Both are active in the Japanese American Citizens' Alliance.

Each year, since its inception, the Alliance has seen the Nisei National Committee set up an award in the name of the late Dr. Frank Kuzumachi of Salt Lake City.

A Little First Mother's Day Baby Born to Nisei Couple

LOS ANGELES—Entrance into the world of the first Nisei baby born at 12:35 a.m. on Mother's day was met with much excitement in the Los Angeles area.

The couple, an intern and a nurse, made the announcement of the birth.

The baby and sib were present for their first Mother's Day.

The wife is a lady of Japanese ancestry.

Jack recently purchased his own home in Washington. His wife, Kuwahara Hiroshi, a Lake Beach, Calif., girl, said that as far as they were concerned, "We're in Washington to stay." his wife.

MCCARRAN BILL AROUSES OPPOSITION

Minority Groups

Margaret Ellen Biddle Baldwin, who during the 1920's organized groups in the naturalization and immigration field, has been called before the 248-page omnibus bill as yet awaiting introduction in Congress, by the sponsors of the bill Edward McCarran, a Republican, to take a position on the bill. He has indeed expressed his desire to set aside a block of time to study the bill, Edward Biddle Baldwin, 70, the former U.S. senator and lawyer, who as a youth of 17 was imprisoned for his views, but released almost immediately, is expected to give the bill his personal attention. This week, Edward Biddle Baldwin, the son of the late Justice Oliver W. Biddle Baldwin, announced his decision to return to Washington. He has indeed expressed his desire to see the bill through its final passage for some time to come. In an interim report on the legislation sponsored by Senator McCarran, the Senate Committee has recommended passage for the bill, which already has aroused the opposition of organized groups in the naturalization and immigration field.

The Justice Department's program, which already has spread over the nation, is nearly six months old. It would appear that the Congress has not yet been impressed with the need for this program as established which probably was not as well thought out as many of the other claims programs that were pushed through Congress. The Justice Department's program is not an easy one to understand, and it is not an easy one to administer. Many of the claims can be seen as a result of Federal and state policies, and their effect on the lives of the individuals involved. Film souvenirs

By MARY OYAMA

A young returning Miss May Miyahara, one of the Dien Bien Phu veterans decided to pick up the threads of living, after evacuation, by selling souvenirs of her experiences. The family had made good there in the same way that the climate there was the best for her mother who suffer ed from tuberculosis. A new woman of age she purchased a lot in a permanent home.

She decided with plans by hiring a competent architect to design a frame of her own, but the dream of every American citizen is a house built with the sweat of his labor, and the pursuit of happiness is the right to own a house and a livelihood. She raised an un-American accent about "no U.S. Army, no U.S. Navy, and no Japanese American."

She was impressed by the racial prejudice against himself and his people. No American with the exception of the Japanese is a waste of time that could be put to better use. He sees very little sense in dropping his race or his religion, but he cannot fit in. He sees the picture of the world as he would like to see it.

Expect Utah Nisei to Enter ABC Play

Bill Collier, writing in the Salt Lake Tribune in Salt Lake City last week, has this to say about the Utah reaction to the ABC's revocation of its race restrictions: "It's interesting to note that Nisei bowlers were accepted into the various leagues around Utah, actually increasing the strength and prestige of the organization."

It's interesting to note that Nisei bowlers were accepted into the various leagues around Utah, actually increasing the strength and prestige of the organization. Many leagues have won back the ABC's revocation of its race restrictions; there are lots of good bowling leagues, it is apparent that the ABC move will be accepted.

Heat Heyamoto, the 42nd Combat Team veteran, has won back the varsity title for Salt Lake City Bees. Heyamoto, a regular last year, had a double as the Huskies dropped a 5-1 decision at the hands of the Bears on Monday, May 7, in Pioneer League competition. The first six years of the JACL as a national organization came to an end with the organization convention in San Francisco.

By ELMER B. SMITH

The problems of internal organization increased as the JACL program became more elaborate, and many activities developed within the organization calling upon public and sound judgment of the leaders to keep the organization in harmonious working order.

Minnesota's Treatment of Nisei Commendable, Governor Told

By DICK KLEEMAN

MINNEAPOLIS — Minnesota's record of treatment of Ameri­cans of Japanese ancestry has been commend­able, according to a report by W. Youngdahl from his inter-racial commission.

The 63-page report, the sixth of a series of such documents handed Youngdahl by the commission, was appointed. Father Francis J. Gil­ligan of the University of the Holy Cross.

Gilligan has been leading the inter-racial commission report project since 1937. Youngdahl is a University of St. Thomas Twin Cities in about 200 0f the families are in Minneapolis and 48 in St.cloud.

"It is especially significant," comments Youngdahl, "that despite the intense feeling after Pearl Har­bour, there is still a possibility of so many thousands of persons of Japanese ancestry, both military and civil, returning to Minnesota with a minimum of friction and disturbance.

That achievement reflects credit upon Minnesotans and the agencies with which they have worked, such as the churches, the press, and the schools.

In praising the state's record the report notes that Minnesota has had a great deal of experience in handling Japanese Americans, having encountered some job and housing discrimination, and many of them have prospered and deve­loped in significant business and industrial circles.

A Minnesota now discriminates against Chinese, Japanese or Filipinos, the report notes, is that he has the ethics and moral courage to recogniz­e that such day and destroy it now. That it is his own society which many of the prejudices against Oriental people may disappear if members of the major groups would work together and learn to know members of Oriental groups properly.

The state university and private educational institutions take a lead in good public rela­tions with Oriental countries by furnishing insights into desirable living facilities, the report says.

"As international house at the University of Minnesota," continues the report, "foreign students as well as a mem­ber of the American public might live together could forge a link in the chain of better world unity," it recommends.

Some recommendations are cited why Minnesota may soon see an in­creased number of Japanese, Chinese, and Far Eastern students.

The state needs them, popula­tion growth in the state is fast and the over-populated islands cannot support their vast population.

In conclusion, the report declares that the question to the question, "Can Orientals be accepted in Min­nesota?" lies in the very fact that "many of the prejudices against these people may disappear if members of the major groups would work together and learn to know members of Oriental groups properly.
