Official delegates in for busy convention

Convention time is fast approaching. Once again, the JACLers will hoop things up in San Francisco. But the poor official delegates will find that they have come to work, not to play. Of course, since their expenses most likely are paid by the chapter, they should render services to soothe their conscience.

On the other hand, it is hoped that there will be some preliminary preparato

Most of the national conventions have been joy-killers in the past. The worst one as I recall was the 1932 convention in Los Angeles when the constitutional provisions took so much time that eight sessions were in order. And business had to be conducted even at the picnic grounds.

When sessions take place for cause, such as sending congressmen and senators to override the President's veto, which was the case in San Francisco, it remains as a pleasant memory.

All work and no play at least the planning committee in San Francisco has an understanding group as I am confident that everyone will be given an opportunity to enjoy himself. When all is said and done, business sessions do not help to make friends.

This upcoming convention promises lots of work. It is inevitable when the future course of an organization is to be discussed and charted. However, since considerable determinations and groundwork have been done already, important matters should not require long drawn out sessions.

In any event, the official delegates will have many hours of serious meetings. At the same time, here's hoping that they will have a grand time.

Sen. Kuchel praises decade of JACL accomplishments in Congress

WASHINGTON — Sen. Thomas Kuchel praised the Japanese American Citizens League for its outstanding accomplishments during the past decade and called upon the organization to make equal contributions in the next ten years.

Directing his congratulations to the members and officers of the JACL on their forthcoming 16th Biennial National convention, the California Senator said in the Congressional Record that the JACL "can look back upon a series of accomplishments on behalf of harmony in our land, which I feel sure, will give its membership and officers a deep sense of pride."

He recalled the first postwar JACL convention in Denver, and the ambitious goal set forth by its officers.

Then by utilizing the instruments of democracy under the framework of our American system, the League obtained passage of the "California Bills" in the state legislature, won court decisions outlawing discriminatory practices toward the Japanese of America, and gained the acceptance of law of the land by the courts.

Senator Kuchel included among the "California Bills" the "Amiright" privilege of naturalization," the revision of the "California Bills," the "California Bills" in other states, the "California Bills" in other Asian countries, the "California Bills" in Japan, and the "California Bills" in Europe.

Five honors are to be selected by a panel of judges and one of the group will be named "Nisei of the Biennium at the San Francisco JACL biennial convention. The other four will also receive citations.

Nominees and the nominating committee are as follows:

D.C. chapter-Jack Hirose, executive secretary, Federal Pre-Parities, teacher; Dr. Chiharu Kajiwara, supervisor, Federal Pre-Parities, teacher; Dr. Thomas Yatabe of Chicago, President of the JACL; Dr. George Takaosaka, university administrator, and Dr. Mary Nishimoto, social worker.

Rainy day thoughts

Denver

This is being written on a rainy Sunday afternoon when the trees seem to be the day’s main attraction. The USN’s refusal to let up on the rain has made our traditional sightseeing program more or less impossible. No amount of water caught in reservoirs can, however, be a difficulty inherent in most 15-year-old models.

I took on as a matter of course. For one thing, we chopped large part of my boyhood, we lived in a second story flat so it was quite a task hauling all that fuel upstairs from the wood-burning stove. Sometimes, at home, I feel wondered, I ask myself what manner of world the Sansei will find that the struggle is hardly worthwhile? I keep thinking over the sorry ranks of fighters and talking about all of us...

Over 3,000 assurances for Japanese refugees provided by U.S. citizens

WASHINGTON—Practice of accepting late and Harlingen Refuge Relief Act assurances to establish a regular intake to the JACL office in Japan will now be discontinued, the State Department informed the Washington Office of the Japanese-American Citizens League.

Although the last date for the acceptance of refugees provided by American citizens was March 26, 1956, the State Department has been accepting late assurances as a matter of courtesy. For the section 411 of the Naturalization and Nationality Act, this practice is now being discontinued.

With the formation of this program, success was achieved by having the incoming immigration quotas limited to the established number of private consular part in Japan for a visa under the Immigration and Nationality Act of 1952, according to the Washington JACL office.

At the same time, the Refuge Relief program released the funds that were being held pending applications for Japanese refugees under the Refuge Relief Act.

As of August 30, a total of 59 non-immigrant visas have been installed at the passport pavilion...
Farm laborers

A news report last week that Japanese farmers will be brought in to the United States as contract laborers has raised some questions and some apprehension in certain circles. The report originated out of El Passo, Texas, where a Japanese Issei group is organizing an Immigration Service official who is planning to bring in some 10,000 workers in the next few days to make arrangements for receiving the Japanese in this country. The group estimates that 1,000 persons will be admitted the first year. The plan indicates that the immigration committee has already protested the importation of the Japanese, charging that the new laborers be placed by the farm employers, who will be responsible for the education and recreation of these men. The committee is already working on what they term "even more inferior contract terms" than those for Mexican workers.

Nakata, Ishida, Shimizu, Esther Nakamoto, Maudie Nakata, Gadys Ishida, Sumi Shimizu, Esther Hagiwara, Happy Nakagawa, Satolu Takemoto, Dr. George Nakano, and others are touring the Midwest to observe American life. Finnie, who helped reorganize Japanese scouting in 1952, is the first JACLers participated in the Biennial National Convention in August 1956. Officials said they could recall a number of naturalization proceedings brought before the U.S. employment service, that the service annually admits thousands of agricultural laborers from Japan, and that the committee annually admits 10,000 persons numbered some 132,000 in California at the time. The committee is already working on what they term "even more inferior contract terms" than those for Mexican workers. The Japanese are coming under the umbrella of labor contracts. The service said they will be given entry for an initial period of six months with extensions later to a maximum of three years. Their stay is subject to termination at any time on the need for local labor. They are expected to start arriving in September. Officials noted that note will be capable of applying for American citizenship. Citizenship is available only to those who have been admitted to the United States for permanent residence. The Immigration service paid farm laborers are based solely on officially certified need and do not involve any sort of quota system.

The service said they there are no additional pending applications for other Japanese admissions.

Venice-Culver Clerks join city-wide battle

By EDNA CRANDICK

VENICE-CULVER CLERKS voted last week in the Venice-Culver JACL group participating in the first major labor strike against the Balboa Valley Dairy, a four day strike climaxing the early settling of the Balboa Valley by the Japanese.

JACLers participated by operating a booth that sold soup drinks and potato chips. It was the first experience of this kind for Venice,Culver and the men felt great to see them make many new friends. JACLers voted to stay in the line by buying Spanish attires and the men wore a few beards for the occasion.

WASHINGTON. — Following is the complete text of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel's extension of remarks made by him on the August 17 session of the Senate, recorded on "A Decade of the Japanese American Experience" by Mike Mano.

Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to extend the remainder of the record a statement prepared by the Senate Staff of the United States Government Printing Office, as follows:

On August 17, 1956, the Senate adopted a resolution ordering the printing of "A Decade of the Japanese American Experience," representing the experiences and achievements of the Japanese American people in a book that will be invaluable assistance in the successful legislative campaigns waged by JACL. As a man of liberal beliefs and extensive government experience, he is an eminently well qualified keynote speaker.

HONOR ROLL

We receive with deep appreciation the supper given to members of the San Mateo Chapter at a very well attended pre-convention rally. Combining a business meeting with the rally was a splendid idea, for a lot of business was done, have all fallen upon Marshall. Many thanks to the San Mateo Chapter and its principal speaker, Miss Sydney Yamaguchi, who is sparkingly familiar with the problems of the Nisei and has been of invaluable assistance in the successful legislative campaigns waged by JACL. As a man of liberal beliefs and extensive government experience, he is an eminently well qualified keynote speaker.

BEYOND CALL OF DUTY

Let's not forget our over-worked National Director and his right hand gals, Daisy and Chiz. In the midst of all the manifold, innumerable organizational demands imposed upon them, they have contributed greatly to whatever success our Convention may enjoy.

A big vote of gratitude also to Ms. Austin, our NWCNW director, and to the rising young ladies of the Central Cal folks who have taken ship on the Central Cal Pacific Citizen. It is a splendid job they are doing.

- Your old neighbor from this corner has been going to picnics all summer. But this is not just a regret on my part. The fact is, it wasn’t the biggest of picnics throughout the United States. But it was a great testimonial to what we see as the next generation.

- Outdoor kids lined up for a single race, with an equal number of parents prepared to give ‘em a send off at the starting line or to take ‘em piggy back as in the case of the contest for two-year-olds. Twenty contests included boys and girls up to the 8 to 12 age group. At the ages increased, the number of contestants diminished sharply. Why, even that many years ago, daddy was away at the wars, or just trying to keep the family alive in the old home town, or must likely have been married yet.

- The celebration of this phenomenon has been felt in the Nisei Vet sponsored Little League football and baseball teams where their achievements inspire the rest of the country’s little leaguers. Just because pride for everyone idea wasn’t going to work out, a horrid war was cast. The decision to double up on everything in the kids department must year after year.

- In an effort to ascertain the number of actual paid admissions, your reporter tried to get a figure from the admission cashier. His estimate was ridiculous. The number of heads in some of our children’s groups was more than the estimate the cashier gave me, and have the Nisei were spread over some five or six acres, 90 per cent of them were under the age of eight-and-a-half. It came to light that the Vets had a committee counting the participants, but my lack of sense of urgency made me fail to get the information that I wanted in the moment the hordes of people, just as I arrived.

- What seemed a goodly supply of ice cream disappeared as if under a wand. Additional cases of pop in tall size stubbies were used up. And when it became apparent that you have any faith in the veracity of this statement, the prime example was given: The committee's count, 1,700, which makes this picnic the one of.

GOP convention

San Francisco

This is Republican National Convention week and the Democrats in any form are an unpopular and forgotten figure. Roelof MacFarlane, vice-chairman of the Los Angeles County Republican Assembly, suggested this during the day that we should attend the 26th GOP national meeting. The meeting is in the Far West in the party's 102-year history. As a result, when we hit San Francisco on Sunday morning we were at the station MacFarlane, and the long-time Chinese American Legion leader and past commander of Chinese Post. In chilly, fog-bound sister city there's nothing like having friends around when you are in a strange city.

This morning (Monday) we attended the first session of the Republican Convention with Shidae Koda, Pacific Citizen general manager and wartime JACL national president. It seems as if all the Japanese renegades are getting together and as if a new movement is developing. We have become "filth" to the media. But Moriguchi, the Republican Convention's executive director of the National Community Relations Administration, Wilkins is also the chairman of the National Leadership Conferences on Civil Rights and American Indians of Democratic Action. We make no worries about expressing our views as we have nothing but kind words about the Issei and the Nisei.

THOMAS, Daniel T. (June 27), Jr.

During the GOP convention, JACL Executive Director Paul B. O'Hara attended. (Left to right): John Absmeyer, Fred M. Takashiba. Fred M. Takashiba was able to meet us on his home state of South Dakota where there are some 23,000 American Indians. "We make no worries about expressing our views" said Max Sohn.

The general theme of the first day of the convention has been "unity within the party and the country at large." While many of the speakers were liberal in their views, their ideas were not far from the Republican line. But the goals were simply to "get in the future" and they proposed that in the coming election the inactive Democrats should state be included in a "package deal." Liberal Race Problem Views

It can be expected that this experiment will be watched with much interest, and that government officials of both countries will see to it that our contract terms are not broken. And many, Nisei, still sensitive to the influences of group relations, will be among the most interested observers.

RECORD TURNOUT EXPECTED AT 14TH NAT'L CONVENTION

SAN FRANCISCO.—A record attendance here over the Labor Day holiday weekend is expected at the 15th Annual Convention of the Japanese American Citizens League, which was scheduled to convene in this city in September, and the pre-registration forms received in recent weeks have indicated that the attendance at the 1954 convention in Los Angeles when over 7,000 delegates officially registered.

As of Aug. 20, there were 242 pre-registrations received and the complete list is expected to top 300 package deals.

Miss Hilda Minami, JACL's Membership Director, said that a block of rooms has been reserved at the Midland Hotel for the convention, but warned that accommodations were not guaranteed in reserving the rooms. She stated that her registration committee will direct individual registrants to make minute hotel reservations. Hotel reservations should be on a first-come, first-served basis, and the date of arrival and approximate time. If the arrival time is after 6 p.m., a deposit should be mailed to the hotel immediately; otherwise, the hotel may release the rooms.

The basic convention registration fee is $2 which is necessary to cover local events, special events, and social events. For inclusion in which families or couples are involved in the convention, the family or couple should be registered together.

For those attending only individual jamborees, the participation fee of $2 is paid, the procedures being the same as under the booklet $1, opening mixer Sole Membership and Vice-Presidential Banquet show $2.50, Sunday outing $4 and $17.50 for children under 12 (includes admission to George Washington Hotel, Farm, barbecue dinner, and evening dance). Additional mini-bypass packages will be made at $4.50, and $5.50, and San Bruno $5. The package deal includes all of the foregoing for $20.

Hotel to provide baby-sitting service

SAN FRANCISCO.—Baby-sitting services will be provided by the Sheraton Palace Hotel, site of the 14th Biennial, for JACL convention Aug. 31-Sept. 5.

The hotel engages competent and highly trained baby-sitters who have had various experience in babysitting activities for parents who may be occupied in convention activities. A half-hour's notice is required by the Housekeeping service for baby-sitting services. Children will be cared for in the guests' room or other rooms available as designated by the parents. Children under the age of 3 must be in bed by midnight. Children over the age of 3 may be baby-sat for an additional charge of $1 per hour up to midnight. Baby-sitting services for additional children are $1 per hour up to midnight. If parents wish to have the baby-sitting service for a child under 3, they must notify the hotel before the child is 5 years old. Presence of parents is expected at any time. Certain parents may stay out as late as midnight, but the restricted being that the sitter must be engaged for less than four consecutive hours.

Delegates can take part in all the convention events knowing that their little ones are in the capable hands of highly trained and experienced baby-sitters in pleasant surroundings.
