MARYVILLE — The Nisei and Issei were challenged to take a more active role in the field of government. This statement was made at the annual meeting of the Japanese American Citizens League (JACL), held in San Francisco, to encourage Issei to participate in political affairs. The Issei have been active in local politics, but they have not participated in national politics. The JACL is trying to change this situation.

New opportunities in investment are being sought by Issei. They are looking for new avenues of investment. They are looking for opportunities to participate in the business community. They are looking for a means to improve their living standards.

This is an excerpt from the San Francisco JACL newsletter, which is published monthly. The newsletter covers news and events related to the Japanese American community in San Francisco.

The newsletter is available online at the website of the Japanese American Citizens League (JACL). You can visit their website at www.jacl.org to read more about the Issei and their activities.

The newsletter also includes a section on current events and issues affecting the Japanese American community. This section covers topics such as politics, immigration, and civil rights.

The newsletter is a valuable resource for anyone interested in learning more about the Issei and their contributions to American society.

If you are interested in learning more about the Issei and their activities, you can contact the JACL office at 415-544-1949 or visit their website at www.jacl.org.
Hayakawa retains stand Nisei social groups as 'crutches'

SAN FRANCISCO — Still maintaining his stand that the "very Japanese" Nisei can and must shoulder their own problems as a handicap to integration., Dr. Samuel I. Hayakawa, Kanadai born Nisei and well-known semanticist now on the faculty of San Francisco State College, has written again in his invitation to address a Nisei college conference.

In a letter to David Yamakawa, Jr., who extended the invitation for the California Intercollegiate Nisei Organization with its National Conference in Berkeley last month, Dr. Hayakawa wrote:

"This racial self-consciousness has got to stop being some time. Since I was one of the first to point the time when Sams will stop thinking of themselves as Sams and think of themselves as ordinary American citizens, I must decline to take part in a discussion that can only increase, rather than lessen, racial self-consciousness."

Dr. Hayakawa last year refused an invitation to address a DSM convention when it was held in San Francisco State College. He was later asked to address the conference. This was revealed in a letter written by Kato in English from Japan, just missed being in the middle of October at the latest, in a Boroblan St. Japanese restaurat. Both had been drinking. He was sent to Juan Guins to serve his term. It was recalled that petitions were sent to the California Parole Board by Katz's wife and members of his community in Japan. These petitions came too late for considera­tion at the hearing last year, but were apparently considered this year.

Commenting on the letter written to Hayakawa, the California Parole Board, in its conclusion to the 1957 granting of parole, noted:\n

Three more Refugee farm workers quit labor camp, complain about housing

SAN FRANCISCO — Three more Japanese workers who came to this country for the labor camp have walked out on their employers.

The trio left the Issei labor camp in Pavillion recently after complaining that they were not provided with enough work. They were told by the camp's representative, Yoichi Nakano, that there would be insufficient work for their group under the new regulations for foreign farm labor.

The workers had been hired by the U.S. Department of Labor and were not connected with this camp in order to perform agricultural duties in this country as permanent immigrants. The workers must return to Japan after their contract expires.

They claimed that they were not paid enough and that they were working under conditions that were too harsh. They also complained that they were not provided with enough food and that their living conditions were not up to par.

The workers said that they were not satisfied with the conditions under which they were working and that they wanted to return to Japan. They also claimed that they were not being paid enough for the work they were doing.

The workers were given the option of returning to Japan or staying in the United States and finding other work. They chose to return to Japan.

At the same time, the workers were given the option of returning to Japan or staying in the United States and finding other work. They chose to return to Japan.

NC-WNDC FINALE QUARTERLY

The final quarterly meeting of the Northern California-Nevada Western Nevada District Council at Marysville last Sunday was well arranged, well attended and well balanced. Along with the business, the afternoon period featured Nathaniel Colley, Supervisor of chapter activity in NAPC, notification and discussion of the housing problems of minorities was enlightening. Nat Colley's sense of humor also made it entertaining.

As a practical result of Colley's appearance, we hope National JACL will declare brief case-minded on the NAACP before the State Supreme Court questioning the future reference. We were well arranged, well attended and well balanced. Along with the business, the afternoon period featured Nathaniel Colley, Supervisor of chapter activity in NAPC, notification and discussion of the housing problems of minorities was enlightening. Nat Colley's sense of humor also made it entertaining.

The final details are in the connected with the breakdown by counties, we will be in a position to make an analysis for future reference.

NEW NATIONAL BOARD MEMBER

Akiji Yoshimura, a member of the Marysville chapter, has been elected to the JACL national board. He replaces Yas Abiko who has been around JACL for two months. With around 1,100 members, we must get in at least three every day to keep up the pace. The complete list would be too long to mention here.

The new officers were installed at the banquet Sunday night.

From this desk, it appears difficult at this time to check on the races, it appeared Sens. Magnuson, Morse and Kucher on the House of Representatives, but in California all incumbents were far from unanimous. A municipal judge was not only a foreigner in this country, but an alien ineligible to citizenship... He now plans to tour India on a goodwill trip.

A statewide breakdown by counties in California on Prop. 13 will be an interesting story. When the tally is finally published, it will be the result of hard work of all political parties and the candidates as well as the public who voted.
Stockton golfer wins Valley meet

STOCKTON — Jack Matsumoto of Stockton High scored the biggest low gross honors in the annual Valley Stallion Invitational here last week.

Dr. George Sudo of Fresno took low net with 75-79-69 after doing with Tom Higashino of Pleasanton, who recorded a 79 to take second low gross. Ralph Baldwin of Sacramento won the hole-in-one (wbl) contest with an 83-149, while Bill Wataghi of Bangor, Kan., took third at 85-151, the year's first second-flight honors.

Team honors went to Stockton. Jim McQuaig of Stockton had the second-low gross for his section. Baldwin of Sacramento won the hole-in-one (wbl) contest with an 83-149, while Tom Higashino of Pleasanton and Dave Wataghi of Bangor, Kan., took the second-flight honors.

The school had been in operation for a number of years when 20-year-old Max Turner grew up in the neighborhood and was always hanging around as a kid, joined the faculty in 1994. His office was in general and horses no particular. In the days before tractors, care and handling of horses was a skill that prospective farmers needed to know.

In the curriculum of the school's department of animal science, students learned about domestic animals, including horses, along with health, nutrition, and management. The school also offered courses in animal behavior, genetics, and veterinary science.

At one point a shipment of Holsteins was made to Japan, and although most purchases averaged around $325 and $330, the school undertook a career teaching Japanese migrants the intricacies of American farming. Some students went on to become successful farmers in Japan.
The savings habit

Los Angeles

One day this week we walked around the Gemini Bank at the corner of First and San Pedro st. in search of a man named Frank Ogasawara. As we turned the corner, I heard him call out, "Hello, is that you?" He seemed surprised to see us. Frank is a former bank teller who, after suffering a stroke, is now unable to work. He lives in a small apartment with his wife and daughter. They have been struggling to make ends meet since the stroke. Frank is known for his kind heart and generosity, often offering to lend money to those in need. His savings habit is a testament to his frugal lifestyle.

He said people make the mistake by trying to get a lump sum—say $10 a month to join a two-dollars a week Christmas Club. "You bring in two dollars a week, and we'll take care of you," he assured me. That's what the whole thing's all about.

But that's water in the sewer pipe. Anyone should know that's what I'm here for," I said. The wife that morning had a lot of volunteers working, sorting and packaging these gifts for the elderly. They would continue, but would force the Soviet Union either to scrap its anti-ballistic missile defense system or be forced to use the system.

VITAL STATISTICS

The current figure on the ninth annual Christmas Cheer program, chaired by Miki Higashi, has reached $1,000,000. We know that all the disputes do not go into the buying of Holiday gifts, though.

This week on the Cal-Vita newsflash to promote a nationally acclaimed campaign victory. And if Prop. 13 had been defeated, its failure could and would be interpreted by those of ill will that Japan is not America's top customer, but undercuts its genuine, inferior, trustworthy, and the whole gamut of revised stereotypes. One responsible state official in Sacramento, when questioned as to such an eventuality, hazard the opinion that in accord with the wishes expressed by the majority, we would deplore Supreme Court rulings or congressional acts that would cast over the titles of Kuni-owned properties.

Of course these are now useless conjectures but we point them out in answer to the Nisei and Issei, gravely few as they are, who opposed the campaign conducted by the committee and the JACL, and charged that campaign expenditures and fund-raising were needless and unprofitable, we had this kind of '66 too.

But that's water in the sewer pipe. Anyone should know elections or legislation are not won without hard selling. We'd like to talk about this with a little more time for dedicated the newly naturalized voters who diligently studied the election issues and voted for the first time in their lives.

To the Issei last Thursday was a day of good fortune. With most favoring the former rather than Addis. For their faithful readers And the results here are all saying "Hi."
Multi-megaton hydrogen bomb an issue for all Americans

CHEMICAL, NUCLEAR, and electromagnetic destruction are the increasingly common methods of warfare. The weapons of the future are likely to be more destructive than any that could be produced in the past. Our position as a nation is now such that we must be concerned about the world's problems, chiefly by reason of the resultant worldwide changes.

To make things worse, we have a obligation to our own people, to the world and to posterity. We have a duty to the Japanese, the Chinese and the others to whom these weapons were once directed. We have a duty to the world, for we are the largest nation on earth and have the responsibility of being a good world citizen. The United States is the only nation that has ever been able to stop a war.

By the time this article is published, the Joint Congressional Committee on Disarmament will have held its hearings on the question of multi-megaton weapons. The hearings will be held in the spring of 1954 in Tokyo. The committee will consist of 73 scientists at the Argonne National Laboratory, who have been working on the problem of these weapons for many years. The committee will have the responsibility of deciding whether or not to allow the United States to test these bombs.

The committee will be made up of representatives from a number of countries, including the United States, the Soviet Union, China, Japan, and others. The committee will have the responsibility of deciding whether or not to allow the United States to test these bombs.

The committee will have the responsibility of deciding whether or not to allow the United States to test these bombs.

Voters ball at Buddhist church

Chicago—Midwest Buddhist Fellowship was hosting a voters ball for the Alien Land Law initiative this past weekend.

On Sunday, Nov. 15, the Midwest Buddhist Fellowship held a voters ball at a local Buddhist church. The turnout was great, with more than 500 people attending.

The purpose of the ball was to support the initiative and to encourage people to vote in the Nov. 2 elections.

The initiative was supported by the Buddhist community and was a response to the Alien Land Law.

The ball was a great success and it was a good way to encourage people to vote in the Nov. 2 elections.
