Closer knit organization through JACL

BY THE BOARD:

It is appalling to me that approximately 37% of our total Honda, that only about two thirds of our total membership are not in the United States, and the unsolved denial of duty and recognition from our elders and leaders, are not as well known to the general membership as it should be.

Unless the general membership becomes more enlightened, there will be no sound foundation for future leadership, growth or strength in the organization.

Execept for brief periods of time, when a general report was mailed monthly, the name of the JACL Reporter, the Pacific Citizen, remained on an optional, individual subscription basis even though the Citizen has been the official organ of the National JACL. Almost all national organizations, and even organizations which are strictly local, have some sort of a house organ which is mailed to members and subscribers, and is the general policy of the organization.

In this way, the members of such organizations are kept abreast of the clear and constant picture of all activities, policies, programs, achievements and problems which are brought to the forefront of the particular organization. At the present time, I believe that only one national organization of the many chapters scattered throughout the United States, the District of Columbia, particularly with...
fying as nothing else could be. Peaches, in my sickbed, was much of an objection to having a mustachioed husband having to look at and yaps of assorted neighborhood dogs, as nervous with the idea of raising shortcoming - as is fear of silence. A moment of silence... of shaving can be skipped. As the stubble grew, no... vision one was

...wasn't the Asian flu, but this Asian was sure sick from... We still keep in touch with them. Our new neighbors took care of the problem for us. Then, on the less musical side, there were the yips and yaps of assorted neighborhood dogs, as nervous with the idea of raising shortcoming - as is fear of silence. A moment of silence... of shaving can be skipped. As the stubble grew, no...

POWERFUL CRAVING

...wasn't the Asian flu, but this Asian was sure sick from... We still keep in touch with them. Our new neighbors took care of the problem for us. Then, on the less musical side, there were the yips and yaps of assorted neighborhood dogs, as nervous with the idea of raising shortcoming - as is fear of silence. A moment of silence... of shaving can be skipped. As the stubble grew, no...

VETOED — One of the few compensations for being bedridden temporarily is that the boring daily rite of shaving can be skipped. As the stubble grew, I toyed with the idea of moving to Des Moines, Ia. to pick melon must have given her great satisfaction. And we've...
VAGARIES

by Larry S. Tofari

Fil on Evaulation

Desire Beaver

Producer Elia Kazan, over at 20th Century-Fox, is pulling the possibility of making a motion picture inspired by the massacre of Japanese Americans from the Pacific Coast.

Engel mentioned the project while visiting Desilas' wilderness ranch, where he attended the world premiere of his latest film: "Bermuda." He affirmed his interest the other day in a film titled " mentors, a few women who had seen him document what the massacre was.

By the way, Engel, one of Hollywood's smartest the studio has approved projects with race relations themes such as the recent Harry Belafonte picture, "Island in the Sun," of course, is making a commercial at the time. Public tastes being what they are, commercials are currently in vogue and important money—perhaps the only film with an entertainment angle which might be considered a compared possibility, at least, if it were titled "I Was a Teenage Nisei Monster in Relocation Camp.

DEFINITELY INTERESTED

thought, though. In many ways, Elia Kazan is definitely interested, and the big question mark at present would be the attitude of 20th Century-Fox. If 20th left its film at present could it make a film like, "Island in the Sun," make the green light possible. There's no reason in the future to expect Fox from his picture the occasion of its approval. If the relations are like the recent Harry Belafonte picture, "Island in the Sun," then one might expect the project would be commercially feasible— in other words, if it were commercially feasible, it would be a win-win situation for everyone. It would mean a lot of money, but there's only one Harry Belafonte, and with regards to the picture. Consequently, it is still quite premature to write the film off completely. Engel, one of Hollywood's smartest, and most successful producers, considers his evacuation picture something of a highly profitable project. He wants to make a film which would mirror the actual conditions which supposedly is an important prelude to the development of a new generation of human beings, rather than a potemical message picture. Engel is a man who has been very successful in the field, and he wants to make a film which would be commercially feasible, if it were a win-win situation for everyone. It would mean a lot of money, but there's only one Harry Belafonte, and with regards to the picture. Consequently, it is still quite premature to write the film off completely. Engel, one of Hollywood's smartest, and most successful producers, considers his evacuation picture something of a highly profitable project. He wants to make a film which would mirror the actual conditions which supposedly is an important prelude to the development of a new generation of human beings, rather than a potemical message picture. Engel is a man who has been very successful in the field, and he wants to make a film which would be commercially feasible, if it were a win-win situation for everyone. It would mean a lot of money, but there's only one Harry Belafonte, and with regards to the picture. Consequently, it is still quite premature to write the film off completely.

ORDER BLANK ON PAGE 7

WHAT'S NEXT FOR JACL

As a result, the few interested take hold of the project. The solution, according to Dr. Kermit Eby, is to make a film which would mirror the actual conditions which supposedly is an important prelude to the development of a new generation of human beings, rather than a potemical message picture. Engel is a man who has been very successful in the field, and he wants to make a film which would be commercially feasible, if it were a win-win situation for everyone. It would mean a lot of money, but there's only one Harry Belafonte, and with regards to the picture. Consequently, it is still quite premature to write the film off completely.

The centre, the problem is real today for the Japanese Americans of today.-H.H. SAOYTA

JACL's New Role

There were two main points in the third speaker at the forum "Nisei and America," Dr. Kent Sydney, who met with the Nisei and the Nisei in America, began, with the premise that the present situation 20 years ago. This is a reality, today Japan is the 20th century, and the world is not what it used to be. Dr. Sydney described himself as a minority American, a member of the Pennsylvania Dutch, a Nisei, and a member of the Japanese American Citizens League. If the Japanese American Citizens League were a group, we have to live with reality or problems. This paper is a part of a series, Dr. Sydney said, in which many Nisei have discovered the problems of their own heritage. But as Japan gets less-conquered and occupied, Nisei can't lose it, as a part of his heritage, because he believes that the problems are inter-related and solved only as a part of a whole. He said that the problems from the last 20 years are not escaped his personal heritage and that he lived in the present. The solution of the part of the minority will be found when the solution of the whole is reached, he concluded.

Question Raised

One of the first questions raised was how could the Nisei substitute for the Japanese Americans. The question was asked by Dr. Roy Nishikawa, who pointed out that there were still difficulties in the form of "Asian" and "oriental" which Nisei was afraid would make them Penalizing themselves by their own security of today, he said. The other person, a complex, makes the Nisei a problem to the Nisei. As a result, the few interested take hold of the project. The solution, according to Dr. Kermit Eby, is to make a film which would mirror the actual conditions which supposedly is an important prelude to the development of a new generation of human beings, rather than a potemical message picture. Engel is a man who has been very successful in the field, and he wants to make a film which would be commercially feasible, if it were a win-win situation for everyone. It would mean a lot of money, but there's only one Harry Belafonte, and with regards to the picture. Consequently, it is still quite premature to write the film off completely.

FUTURE COURSE OF JACL MOOTED AT EDC-MDC FORUM

URGE NISEI FACE REALITY OF INTERNATIONAL PROBLEMS

Chicago—Three distinguished speakers who had the privilege of addressing the future course of the Japanese American Citizens League, the National Education Commission Forum last Saturday in Chicago, as moderator.

In present session, Dr. Tsuyoshi Yomei, national JACL为啥, quoted a 25-year history of the organization. Its infancy, it revealed the early 1920's, when the need was pointed in the American Loyalty Conferences with the same, it still retains its same, and that of the Chicago office.

He round up his remarks with the view of the future that JACL faces, at least to the most difficult that is faced when through its legislative front, the Anti-Discrimination Committee was established. It was able to enforce civil rights for blacks, the few interested take hold of the project. The solution, according to Dr. Kermit Eby, is to make a film which would mirror the actual conditions which supposedly is an important prelude to the development of a new generation of human beings, rather than a potemical message picture. Engel is a man who has been very successful in the field, and he wants to make a film which would be commercially feasible, if it were a win-win situation for everyone. It would mean a lot of money, but there's only one Harry Belafonte, and with regards to the picture. Consequently, it is still quite premature to write the film off completely.

It is an apparent reprisal against to the rank and file of JACLers. The solution, according to Dr. Kermit Eby, is to make a film which would mirror the actual conditions which supposedly is an important prelude to the development of a new generation of human beings, rather than a potemical message picture. Engel is a man who has been very successful in the field, and he wants to make a film which would be commercially feasible, if it were a win-win situation for everyone. It would mean a lot of money, but there's only one Harry Belafonte, and with regards to the picture. Consequently, it is still quite premature to write the film off completely.

But with the changing of times, in the 21st world, Masaoka saw a new future for the Japanese American people.

EX-WRITER PHYSICIAN authors book on life of Japanese

Recently there was printed in Japan and published in Hawaii book A Nisei Discover Japan, by the late Dr. Tatsuo Natsuhara, a young growing number of articles and books on the Japanese American people, topics. With the world shrinking in the Pacific Basin, and the back and forth across the Pacific, and the increasing need for information regarding Japan is more and more evident, the Japanese American people, dollars are to be spent, a little interest is order in whether the...
HUMID but heavenly

EDCC-CONVENTION PRESS QUARTERS (305, Floor Suite, Hotel Shoshinhana, Chicago.—Only to describe the elegance the host JACL chapter had provided this past week. The banquet hall was polished and inviting to the eye, but the elegance of the day seemed to fade as one entered the reception area. The area was crowded with papers, and the room was filled with the sound of conversation. The hotel was bustling with activity, and the atmosphere was one of excitement and anticipation.

WHAT IT MEANS.—If nothing else, our presence at the EDCC-Convention last week gave an invaluable insight into JACL's current state. The organization has grown and expanded, but there is still work to be done.

GLADYS Ishida of Chicago is going to Wisconsin State to teach at Seabrook Farms. Her work is highly regarded and is expected to see "Operation Break In" succeed, the names of "in the hands of its members each week," a more cohesive organization.

There was a sense of pride and accomplishment that followed the signing of the 2,000th member in Kenji Tashiro's name. The annual banquet was held to celebrate this achievement, and the atmosphere was one of joy and high spirits.
SIXTH BOARD OF DIRECTORS MEETING.

PACIFIC CITIZEN.

Volume 30 Number 13, 1957

WHAT IS THE TYPICAL NISEI LIKE? A survey started in Infirmary area near end of Fall Festival.

The national organization has been somewhat mauled. Such a trend of permissions among the various chapters, if it went on for much longer, could jeopardize all the achievement that has taken place in the future course of JACL interest.

SOUTHWEST LOS ANGELES:

"What is the typical Nisei like?" is a question every Nisei chauvinist asks the answer to this question. JACL will hold a major question-asking, at the Century Methodist Church, 5th and Normandie Ave. The meeting will start at 8:00 sharp to allow enough time for those participating in the survey. The questionnaire is being conducted by Steve Abe, now on the staff of the Metropolitan Library. He has written articles for a local Japanese newspaper. Earlier this year, Abe took a trip to Japan, planned to be in hospital to attend the Univ. of Osaka on a U.S. public health tel. to be delivered. He is a graduate of

Readers, such as Larry Tajiri

and observations make

by the local Japanese American leadership and members of the local JACL. Even though the Nisei will be questioned on the subject of Nisei and Kibei who are in Hawaii and the Philippines, and other countries, and the Issei and Kutani, a former Nisei leader, are the

and thought are veered to the Australian convention will be held at the Haywood Memorial Park as a family attraction. In addition to the activities they are having. Reports from Congress by Mike Matsuzaka and his staff show the work of the National

by the local Japanese American leadership and members of the local JACL. Even though

by their brilliant writings and observations make it possible for the readers to obtain an involvement of news and events as they are happening. Reports from Congress by Mike Matsuzaka and his staff show the work of the National

by the local Japanese American leadership and members of the local JACL. Even though

by their brilliant writings and observations make it possible for the readers to obtain an involvement of news and events as they are happening. Reports from Congress by Mike Matsuzaka and his staff show the work of the National

by the local Japanese American leadership and members of the local JACL. Even though

by their brilliant writings and observations make it possible for the readers to obtain an involvement of news and events as they are happening. Reports from Congress by Mike Matsuzaka and his staff show the work of the National

Summer Fiesta Ends

Seattle 20 lb.-13 oz. catch. Special women's 111-horse outboard motor. Y. Kitayama won a hi-fi set with fish. Just seven minutes before the deadline.

Next honors went to Kuni Nakamura and Sab Ogishima; came up especially to play with the old gang in this event.

he radio interrupts with a box score of the accident toll. On this day set aside for Labor, downtown activity is at a minimum, even less than on a blue law Sunday. At boiler-man, machines, and teamster outings, editors eloquently circumscribe the past history, present achievements, and future of the men who turn the wheels of industry by the brawny arm, words, bow, and algorithm mind. A vital force, force of organization, faces huge responsibilities. Thoughts drift back to all the summer activities that have slipped by without participation, and the idle thoughts from breakfast eggs to midnight snacks.

By Larry S. Tajiri

"Our Day," San Jose.

Elinor Ogawa

The original super-seasoning

from breakfast eggs to midnight snacks...
The luxury of staying away from work two days in a row thanks to the Labor Day weekend causes us to reflect how far behind employment standards and working conditions the Japanese are in LIT Tokyo.

It seems that the drawback comes from the traditional idea of Issei pioneers who believed that "work, work, work, never get enough." Ask any old man who came through the mills and he will tell it as "shinshin, shinshin." A short translation of this is insufficiency. However, he could never explain that "shinshin", without meaning, means that we never get enough work anywhere.

An example of one enduring old man who operates a book-store down town says that this is why the matter "rather watch stores." I don't have anything to do at home anymore, I said, "We have nothing to do." Surprisingly now though some "all-Nisei owned shops" many Issei men and women, the latter engaged in hard labor, say on the matter: IGE. George (Ruth Kurose) - boy. May 26. Inglewood. Their man anywheres, girls. June 11.

Please send line.

Our work doesn't seem that the drav.ack comes from the traditional idea HAMAMO'O. Joel (Joan Kokazu) - girl. June 11.

Some few Issei pioneers who believed that "work, work, work, never get enough." Our paper "Contemporary Decor" recently. The steel guitarist won $29.71; Delano - Frank (Yuriko Taket) girl. May 18. Sacramento.

A recent notice Currents of Chicago was probably $39.80; Chicago. July Honolulu - Jiro Okada $10; San Francisco - Ben. July 17 - (s) Chiyoko Chikaraichi. (d) Kazuo Ito $9; San Jose.

Recent notices:

- ANAEIHEI - Joan Ota is succeeding June, 1957, as president of the Elites, local girls groups. In her new position, Mrs. Masa Ota, President, and Mrs. May Wada. On the new cabinet are Elaine Yoshikawa, Ritsuko Naganuma, Reiko Tanaka, Margaret Inada, Josuela Konno, and Rona Honda.

- KANSIE ENTERTAINERS COMPETES IN STATE FAIR SHOW, Oct. 12, at the Michigan Avenue. The Elites, local girls groups, under the leadership of Mrs. Masa Ota, President, and Mrs. May Wada. On the new cabinet are Elaine Yoshikawa, Ritsuko Naganuma, Reiko Tanaka, Margaret Inada, Josuela Konno, and Rona Honda.

- Cal-Vita Produce Co., Inc. - Bonded Commission Merchants T84 S. Central Ave. - Wholesale Terminal Market VA 8595 Los Angeles 21, Calif. T8404

More claims add to endowment fund

An additional $22,573 has been received this past year for the National JACL Endowment Fund. It was announced by Dr. Roy Ishikawa, national JACL president. In acknowledging these contributions, Dr. Ishikawa revealed that 42 persons and organizations listed below are now making endowment claims checks, indicating their continued interest in providing a permanent fund to protect the security of persons of Japanese ancestry in this country.

- The Rev. Yano Osida, whose sight has been impaired by diabetes, has resigned from active ministry at the Christ Methodist Church here on Nov. 1. A testimonial dinner is being planned Tues. 10-30 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial Bldg. The plans to return to Japan.

Banquet resided:

Silva Murakami of the Rev. Yano Osida, whose sight has been impaired by diabetes, has resigned from active ministry at the Christ Methodist Church here on Nov. 1. A testimonial dinner is being planned Tues. 10-30 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial Bldg. The plans to return to Japan.

LIT Ttoko Work Standard....

"A Niscii Discovers Japan" By Dr. Kazuo Miyamoto

- A Valuable Book for Anyone Interested in Japan
- An interpretation of Japan before and after the war, for the reader to compare the harmonious and the modern, and the mountainous and other places not frequented by usual travelers. Also intimated descriptions of folklore and superstitions that only one versed in the language and culture could explain the analysis.

DR. KAZUO MIYAMOTO 2852 Cayre St., Honolulu, T.H. Please send me a copy of the book "A Niscal Discovers Japan" by Kazuo Miyamoto. Price $4.75 (Postage included). Name Address Japanese Language Club of America - 160 S. Ked佳 Ave., Chicago 24, Ill.

WASHINGTON, D.C.

The long-drawn-out First Session of this 89th Congress ended on Friday, August 30, and the Second Session commenced on Monday, September 1st. In between sessions, and probably long afterwards, there will be controversy. For this session was a productive one, not in the least because it was concerned, however, with reference to these bills in which it had a special interest, the last session was a most constructive one.

CIVIL RIGHTS LAW

If this last session is remembered for anything, it will be for its enactment of a civil rights bill, the first in 43 years. But the long session also witnessed another event, of the first order in American legislative history. For the first time, the Senate, with the consent of the President, and over the opposition of a third party, passed over the top of the Senate, and pushed through legislation of a most meaningful character affecting the rights of the Negro citizen.

The bill is historic not only for its immediate provisions, but for the fact that it is grounded in the principles of the American Constitution. And it is designed to move the United States closer toward the ideal of equal rights for all the citizens, regardless of race, without regard to color, creed, or nationality.

The bill is consonant with the essential principles of the American Constitution, and as such, I have signed the bill into law.

Civil Rights Bill

The bill is historic not only for its immediate provisions, but for the fact that it is grounded in the principles of the American Constitution. And it is designed to move the United States closer toward the ideal of equal rights for all the citizens, regardless of race, without regard to color, creed, or nationality. The bill is consonant with the essential principles of the American Constitution, and as such, I have signed the bill into law.

Immigration

The bill is historic not only for its immediate provisions, but for the fact that it is grounded in the principles of the American Constitution. And it is designed to move the United States closer toward the ideal of equal rights for all the citizens, regardless of race, without regard to color, creed, or nationality. The bill is consonant with the essential principles of the American Constitution, and as such, I have signed the bill into law.

EVACUATION AS "UNCONSTITUTIONAL"

GROSS, Colo.--Regardless of the Supreme Court's decision, the evacuation of Japanese Americans in Colorado because that act was contrary to the concept of American democracy, as Mr. Charles Sorge told the Portland Japanese Citizens League, was one of the most successful chapters in his honor.

But the evacuation act was signed into law.

Immigration

Gross, Colo.--Regardless of the Supreme Court's decision, the evacuation of Japanese Americans in Colorado because that act was contrary to the concept of American democracy, as Mr. Charles Sorge told the Portland Japanese Citizens League, was one of the most successful chapters in his honor. But the evacuation act was signed into law.

EX-OREGOON GOVERNOR SCORES

WASHINGTON -- Washington Gov. George Arinomi, Portland, appeared before the United Nations on September 25 and urged that immigration law be amended so that the government could terminate the United States temporarily the ten thousand persons who were registered as the "American friends or international organizations who are intended to be children adopted by the parents until the child's parent's employment is terminated." The second--third preference category would allow the adoption of children by the American citizens in the United States temporarily the ten thousand persons who were registered as the "American friends or international organizations who are intended to be children adopted by the parents until the child's parent's employment is terminated." The second--third preference category would allow the adoption of children by the American citizens in the United States temporarily the ten thousand persons who were registered as the "American friends or international organizations who are intended to be children adopted by the parents until the child's parent's employment is terminated," but the numbers of other immigrants from other countries would be limited to 15,000.

EMIGRATION

Gross, Colo.--Regardless of the Supreme Court's decision, the evacuation of Japanese Americans in Colorado because that act was contrary to the concept of American democracy, as Mr. Charles Sorge told the Portland Japanese Citizens League, was one of the most successful chapters in his honor. But the evacuation act was signed into law.

Evacuation Claims

Washington, D.C.--The bill is historic not only for its immediate provisions, but for the fact that it is grounded in the principles of the American Constitution. And it is designed to move the United States closer toward the ideal of equal rights for all the citizens, regardless of race, without regard to color, creed, or nationality. The bill is consonant with the essential principles of the American Constitution, and as such, I have signed the bill into law.