NAME SIX TO NEW CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION

BY HARLEY BOND

SANTA ANA, Calif. — At the annual convention of the Japanese American Citizens League held this week in Chicago, the national board has elected six new members to the commission on civil rights.

The new members are John H. Imamura, 71, a retired National Guard colonel from the San Francisco area; Stanley Saito, 75, of Los Angeles; Robert I. Takeishi, 73, of San Francisco; George H. Togo, 72, of Los Angeles; Paul T. Ohtaki, 71, of Los Angeles; and Minoru Kiyonari, 69, of Los Angeles.

The commission, which has been inactive for several years, was reactivated last year by the national board in response to the civil rights movement.

The new members were selected from a list of nominees submitted by the state councils.

The commission will begin its work immediately, with the first meeting scheduled for early next month.

The commission will be responsible for developing a program of action to address the civil rights concerns of Japanese Americans.

The commission will also be responsible for coordinating the efforts of the national board and the state councils in implementing the program.

The commission will report to the national board on a regular basis.

The commission will be staffed by professional civil rights specialists who will be hired by the national board.

The commission will have an annual budget of $500,000.

A major goal of the commission will be to develop a comprehensive program of action to address the civil rights concerns of Japanese Americans.

The program will include a variety of activities, such as legal advocacy, community organizing, and public education.

The commission will also work to ensure that the rights of Japanese Americans are protected in all aspects of society, including employment, housing, education, and voting.

The commission will be supervised by a commission chairman, who will be appointed by the national board.

The chairman will be responsible for ensuring that the commission's work is carried out effectively and efficiently.

The chairman will also be responsible for coordinating the efforts of the commission with those of other national organizations and agencies.

The commission will be accountable to the national board and will be subject to its oversight.

The commission will be terminated if it is unable to make significant progress in addressing the civil rights concerns of Japanese Americans.

The commission will be dissolved if the national board determines that its work has been completed.

The commission will be subject to the same rules of procedure as the national board.

The commission will be governed by a commission rules committee, which will be appointed by the national board.

The rules committee will be responsible for developing and implementing a set of rules of procedure for the commission.

The rules committee will also be responsible for ensuring that the rules of procedure are followed by all members of the commission.

The rules committee will be subject to the same rules of procedure as the national board.

The rules committee will be dissolved if the national board determines that its work has been completed.

RISE'S MESSAGE TO TOKYO CONVENTION LAUNDED BY ST. LOUIS EDITORIAL

by Bill Boskowe

ike's message to Tokyo Convention lauded by St. Louis editorial.

St. Louis—President Disbrow's message to the first International Nisei Convention held in Tokyo recently was viewed this week as an indication that the United States government intended to treat the Nisei as United States citizens. The St. Louis Post-Dispatch pointed out in an editorial that "it is gratifying to see our government's recognition of the importance of a healthy relationship between the United States and Japan." The editorial ended with the sentiment that "the United States government's message to the Nisei is a step in the right direction."
Sensu Hayakawa, incidentally, has had one of Hollywood’s earliest silent roles, which was in a Mexican film as a dancing girl in Los Angeles. She was also paid for an education, was a star for Ince Productions in 1918, and later starred with the Famous Players of Paramount in “Tobacco Road.” She was also the star of several Japanese films and was an oriental villain in “Bridge on the River Kwai,” released by Columbia, which was shown in 1957.

Miyoshi, a Mezzo-soprano, is a colorful tour of the Kyoto-Nara area of Japan. She is still a star, and can play in front of the cameras. She couldn’t act.

Hajime Hayakawa, according to the New York Herald Tribune, will reveal a similar theme in real life, when he might have a few of the same things that you would be acting, his wonderful wife, is the stand-in for Hedy Lamarr. She has never acted before, and the first two films that she made were very bad. She had no connection with the movie industry, and was a star for Ince Productions in 1918, and later starred with the Famous Players of Paramount in “Tobacco Road.”

LACCC - PSWDC

SAN ANA - Aside from the question of whether JACL should continue to maintain its close relations with the Japanese government, a group of PSWDC delegates were steered up on the 1896 financial situation of the JACL.

While so little was made of this matter, it was not the kind of question that is usually resolved upon at the JACL conventions. A special convention of PSWDC delegates met here on Friday, 6th, following the JACL convention that opened in Los Angeles.

San Diego Mayor George Kodama, former chapter president, opened the convention of PSWDC delegates. "Out of the Japanese American population in this country, which enjoys a much lower rate.

"Whatever the rate, San Diego日本人 is my home. As a leader, I accept responsibility for this quota for this year," said Kodama.

Chief obstacle to applying a per head, while chapters in Los Angeles County where the number of Japanese Americans is especially heavy, where we are going to get the funds?"

Chapter quotas are allocated by the Intermountain District, a study of a particular area's potential, to its legislative committee for further discussion.

The PSWDC approved to sponsor a number of the Nisei from the Los Angeles area to attend the 1960 convention, "new policy," said the so-called "1960 re-elected" President.

The fifth annual Hallowe'en parade, sponsored by the Contra Costa County JACL, was held at the Hata cafe, 1958 chapter headquarters.

DENVER—The 35th annual Mountaineer JACL Highland Bowling Tournament, sponsored by the Mile-Hi JACL chapter, will be held during the Thanksgiving weekend, according to Dr. Takashi Mayeda, chairman of the tournament committee.

He said the three-day tournament, Nov. 29 to Dec. 1, will be held at the North-Mor Lanes, 1440 East Colfax, and all fees must accompany the entry blank to qualify for the tournament.

This year's tournament, unlike previous events, will have two divisions—men and women.

The men's division will be divided into Class A and B. Each class will have seven team events, doubles, singles and all-events. Since the division limit will be an average of 160, a 5-man team entering with a combined average of 800 or over, and doubles with a combined average of 220 or over will be classified in Class A.

The women's division will include the same events as the men. The handicap will be two-thirds of 200 using the bowler's highest average as of Nov. 1, with a maximum of 120 pins for three games.

The tournament committee expects an entry of 40 teams and 200 participants.

Sancity of Nov. 11
Seattle

FOR 35 YEARS, this day, November 11, has been a solemn day in the history of America.

On-the-Western Front in 1918, the St. Mihiel Salient advanced. Among the units of the divisional team were several veterans who had fought at the time of the Armistice. Their orders were to cease firing at 11 a.m.

The firing on the German line was blank, but a deathly silence followed, second only to the double rifle fire that had been the order of the day. The men, who had been assembling in the trenches and dugouts, rose up into the open and their heads appeared over the parapet. This was it, the end of the war.

The spirit of that dramatic moment still prevails to this day. The spirit of that historic occasion, that day of Nov. 11, is the essence of Veterans Day—honor and respect for all veterans of all the wars of the United States.

ALTHOUGH THERE were a handful of World War I veterans of Japanese ancestry in Seattle, there was but one Oscar H. Takanashi, of the University of Washington. The others had been away or passed on.

Of all veterans, perhaps the first and most outstanding was Tatsuo Takano, an Havana harbor in 1898. Later a pharmacist, he operated a pharmacy in downtown Seattle.

Making a pleasant and concise review described the vindication of Japanese Americans as American citizens.

Dr. William Hill has wishes for the year. Biggest business greetings came from Mae Nakano of Teen Group Work Dept., International Institute.

By Smoky H. Sakurada

Chicago, Illi.

Our BEARING CAMPAIGN to collect greetings for the 1953 Pacific CITIZEN has been very encouraging. But this is being augmented by personal notes from many of our friends, including a box that was taken in the Southside area last Saturday when the temperature was 25 degrees. Amongst the various greetings was a box of cards from Harvey Abe, a former Chicago chapter leader is likely to give Chicago its biggest number of postcards to date. All the way from out of town greeting cards (over 100) were also collected (at the present time, we are counting them).

We'd like to thank the following for replying to our mail and sending in postcards: Mrs. & Mrs. Yildiz, Mrs. & Mrs. Komai, Mrs. & Mrs. Kanemoto, Mrs. & Mrs. Shirai, Mrs. & Mrs. Ushibayashi, Mrs. & Mrs. Watanabe, Mrs. & Mrs. Ishiyama, Mrs. & Mrs. Hara, Mrs. & Mrs. Yamaoka,

For a family living in the 7th Floor, 200 S. 2nd St. Los Angeles, Calif., the amount of money given was $2 for the purpose of furthering the cause of the JACL.

We are very glad to announce that the JACL is in the process of filling vacancies on the Board of Directors, and that the Board of Directors is in the process of electing new members for the year 1953.

One of the most common questions that we are asked is "What does the JACL do?" The answer to this question is that the JACL is a national organization of Japanese Americans, and its goals are to promote civil rights and to uphold the principles of democracy and human dignity. The JACL is also a member of the National Council of Jewish Women, and it participates in various community activities.

In conclusion, the JACL is an important organization that serves the needs of its members, and it is an organization that we can all be proud of.
