OUT-OF-COURT SETTLEMENT FOR WIDOW OF JACIL

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO. An out-of-court settlement amounting to $80,000 was reportedly made in favor of the surviving members of Harry Makita, who was killed in an automobile accident in South San Francisco last year.

The bid was accepted by Mrs. Grace Makita from Nathan Rothman, assistant general counsel of the Rosenblum firm in San Francisco.

Rothman still has to face a second trial in a separate suit for Oct. 28 in San Rafael.

Makita's southbound car collided head-on with Makita's car at the Black Point cutoff on July 23, 1961. Both drivers were thrown into the canal but the incident was made to look like a car accident.

Makita was a 36-year-old San Francisco native.

According to count: three and a half year old Patrick Joel Feels had been brought to the bridge which spans the Enterprise Canal. The boy, who was fully or ventured into the four foot deep stream and drowned. His father, past Clay JACL president, Figuro Feels, a feisty little boy, had decided to follow the empty tricycle on the bridge.

Besides the parents, the child was survived by two brothers, Tom and Mike, a sister, Mayce, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Okago Makita of Fremont and Mrs. Sugio Higashi of Cleris.

Advice to youth not to quit schools for good paying job made by ex-JACL leader

BY SAKURO KIDO

It was our good fortune to have a visit of the Rev. James Sujoko of Chicago, Ill., who had been invited by the Japan Christian Missionary Society.

Old timers will remember that he was the National JACL Secretary at the time of the outbreak at the Pacific War. He entered the religious field after the evacuation and prior to that, he was in the radio field, being a graduate with an engineering degree.

Although he has been in Japan for the past 26 years, he is still adventurously bent to do some work among the prisoners whenever he is called to Los Angeles, this way, he said, he had the opportunity of talking with many of the Nisei friends.

He explained that in the hope to make the apartment business to provide us with an income so we won't have to depend on the income for the future fund to explain to Tatsuo Kido. "Our operating budget is about $12,000 per year and that amount of was always to have to raise about $5,000 more.

WASHINGTON. — Reaffirming the supremacy of the Federal Constitution and its own authority, the United States Supreme Court Monday upheld the decision of the United States District Court for the District of Arkansas upon the premise that existing state laws and efforts to continue school desegregation are “entirely in keeping with the American tradition and constitutional law and practice.”

The opening paragraph of the court's unanimous opinion bluntly stated:

"As this case reaches us it raises questions of the highest importance to the maintenance of our federal system of government. The issues involve a claim by the Governor and Legislature of a State that there is no duty on state officials to obey a federal order compelling them to desegregate the schools. We re-

MELTING POT—Asia is one huge melting pot, and the pot boils lustily here. In addition to the six million native Taiwanese, more than three million refugees from the mainland have fled here in search of a measure of peace and freedom. These refugees are from virtually all the Chinese provinces. On of the streets one sees tall, broad-shouldered northerners, sun-burned south- erners and fair-skinned Chinese from the Shanghai area.

The official language is Mandarin, which the Tai­ wanese have had to learn. Among themselves they use a pronunciation in a Pukien-like dialect. Persons more than 25 years old can also speak Japanese since it was taught in the schools here until Japan was driven out in 1945. And a surprising number can speak English after a fashion.

In such a melting pot it is virtually impossible to distinguish a person of one national extraction from another. A Chinese customs official, who recognized my name as Japanese on my United States passport, paid me the ultimate compliment in perfect Japanese by saying that I could pass easily for a Chinese.

THE NEW CHINA—Over the years it has become common practice in the United States to label the Chi­ nese. Judging from their accomplishments on Taiwan, this is a gross injustice. So far I have talked to a vice foreign minister (who got his master's degree in polit­ ical science at the University of Michigan), an admiral who served 8 years on British Royal Navy ships, an inform­ ation minister who has a doctorate, and the head of the Broadcasting Corporation of China which carries on an unending battle to educate the people and fight­ ing the propaganda war against the Reds.

All of them are examples of the dedicated men who are working to liberate the Chinese mainland from the Communists. They are men who believe their cause is the cause of their race. They do not divide a person of one national extraction from another.

The accomplishments of the Chinese government here in matters of land reform, education, military re­ grouping, economic recovery, are phenomenal. It would take a well-endowed university to go into detail here, and perhaps this is not the place to attempt it, but I am deeply impressed. Americans have much a stake in their victory.

THE LADIES—All over the Far East, there seems to exist the institution of the geisha, or something similar. The geisha in Japan is an entertainer who is friendly, warm, sympathetic. She flirts, listens to a man's troubles and is ready to die for her friends.

In Japan the geisha now has a rival in the bar­ room hostess who serves the same general function, but who is not a prostitute in the American sense of the word.

A few joke Japanese, or knew a few words of English. A few others could pass easily for a Chinese.

quired, it is a part of our life. In other words, education is something which you should acquire at any time if you are young and the opportunity is there.

There are those who have been able to finish their schooling after they have served money. So far, there is no guarantee for some education. There is no guarantee for some education, children, sickness, family, and life, in this case.

When we see men, like Sei, Sugioka, who were able to die for their fellow men, it makes us appreciate the work they are doing. Despite the mad rush in more and more, no one is able to be spent for one's own use based on a high standard of living. It is heartwarming to find those who consider the welfare of others of importance. I have observed the people's warmth and highest respect. —Shin Nakatani

Two held for death of Chicago Nisei, police admit delay for medical help

CHICAGO — A police sergeant admitted at an inquest last week that a youth had been carried into a hospital for a skull fracture.

Sgt. William Harvey said in the inquest that police charged against the men who were involved in a street fight with Tado. This is not the place to attempt it, but I am deeply impressed. Americans have much a stake in their victory.

Druplay, probing the cause of the brawl, asked friends of the dead youth, whether Tado had been drinking before the argument. The friends denied that.

Two youths who fought Tado—Richard Angieli, 22, and Michael Berardin, 23, were first charged with disorderly conduct. A similar charge was placed against Tado and his friends.

Angieli and Berardin were later charged with manslaughter.

40 et 8 for White Only

There's nothing new in the current attempt of the American Legion to pass a "whites only" membership rule against war veterans of Oriental descent, but what is outstanding in the local incident is the initiation by the San Jose Unit of the California Legion group in conflict with the national organization's headquarters in Indianapolis because it feels it stands the Legion's national rule.

The current storm is swirling around a San Jose super-market operator, Gerald Lee, Sr., who also happens to be the commander of the San Jose Legion's California district as well as San Jose Unit No. 88. According to the headquarters of the San Jose unit, it has been the practice of the San Jose unit group to back down in the face of threats from the Forty and Eight, which is the fun-making inner circle of the "whites only" rule, decided to challenge the national convention of the American Legion to approve their "whites only" rule. This action brings the matter into public light.

Kelly said the other day. Miss Hall, of Negro descent, is so outstanding for their musical version of C.Y. Lee's 'novel of San Francisco Empire Printing

The word from New York is that Rodgers and Hammerstein, according to Imoto (left) and Joe Tsuboi, who were in charge of procuring this item, have taken their effort to retain their charter to court and have obtained a restraining order.

Meanwhile, another interesting development is the fact that at least three American Legion posts in Santa Clara County have passed resolutions backing Lee and demanding removal of the "whites only" clause.

ALL-ORIENTAL CAST ASSEMBLED

The word from New York is that Rodgers and Hammerstein have assembled what amounts to an all-Oriental cast of the "whites only" clause thrown out of the Forty and Eight. At that time a veteran of Filipino ancestry was up for membership. When the resolution was read, the Forty and Eight, which is the fun-making inner circle of the "whites only" rule, decided to challenge the national convention of the Japanese American Citizens League, better known as the JACL, in that they feel it stands the rule which is the cornerstone of the Forty and Eight. Meanwhile, the San Jose Forty and Eight group, aware of the nationwide interest in the challenge of the organization by enrolling Gerald Lee anyway. They did so, and notified Indianapolis. The American was revocation of the charter.

"The San Jose unit then took the next logical step by obtaining a court ruling which nullified the "whites only" clause thrown out of the Forty and Eight. Its actions have already been hailed as the beginning of the death blow of the "whites only" clause in the American Legion.

"Let us remember that the "whites only" clause is not a feature of the American Legion; it is a feature of the American Legion, its work, and its people. The Forty and Eight has already been thrown out of the council of the Forty and Eight. Its actions have already been hailed as the beginning of the death blow of the "whites only" clause in the American Legion. And its Explorer Post 2074."

By Larry S. Tetsu

I am an American youth of Japanese ancestry. My heritage and physical features may distinguish me from Americans of other ethnic racial groups, but my beliefs and behavior are truly those of an American citizen.

As a younger member of my race in America, I enjoy the right to speak my mind, without fear or retaliation; yet I realize that in the past this race has encountered widespread discrimination and was denied legal justice.

Despite this, my predecessors, who have demonstrated industry and integrity, have proved that all men are entitled to freedom and equality of opportunity.

We young people are not amused by the progress of our race, for we are familiar with the league that has united and strengthened our people in order that they might challenge the nation. It was the Japanese American Citizens League, better known as the JACL, in that they feel it stands the rule which is the cornerstone of the Forty and Eight.

By advising the democratic, enrolling Gerald Lee, of course, in order to fight the Forty and Eight. It has already been emphasized that the Forty and Eight, the inner circle of the "whites only" clause, has already been thrown out of the council of the Forty and Eight. Its actions have already been hailed as the beginning of the death blow of the "whites only" clause in the American Legion. And its Explorer Post 2074.

Held in Esteem

Since this league has become a partner in the national march, those who have found the opportunity to speak and through which our race has earned the liberties and material gains from which we were once barred; we young people have found the way to the JACL in high esteem.

I admire the JACL, for it has helped us to gain a sympathetic understanding of the racial prejudice that our people have been subjected to. And although we have been subjected to the prejudice of the prejudiced, we have endured it in silence and have been spiritually scarred by the dislike that we have experienced. Our feelings toward the JACL have been manifested in our actions and achievements of the JACL.

The story of the Japanese American is a story of progress, thanks to opening of a Masonic hall on Los Angeles 15, 5th Avenue.

"I am an American youth of Japanese ancestry. My heritage and physical features may distinguish me from Americans of other ethnic racial groups, but my beliefs and behavior are truly those of an American citizen."

American, the JACL has not only endeavored to improve the standing of the minority race but has also tried to mold America into a more united nation.

I am proud of the constant faith which the members of the JACL have had in the United States. Although our aggressors once succeeded in crusading our homes, they have never been able to suppress our spirit of loyalty for our country. Since the JACL has always encouraged the Japanese to contribute to the development and growth of America, our people have realized citizenship for both brothers of both birth, have united with other Americans in the armed forces to defend America and its beliefs, and have participated actively in community life. Our love and loyalty for the United States in spite of our heritage has taught us that all men cannot live without the fire of freedom and equality that the JACL has always endeavored to improve.

Faith in JACL

I have faith in the JACL, because of its determination to improve the standing of every Japanese American on the social, economic, and political level. Our collective efforts to remove racial prejudice have been vigorous and have been directed by a loyal and capable leadership. The JACL has always fought against the rights of every person of Japanese descent, and it has never been satisfied until all men have been given the equal rights and opportunities of which we have dreamed. Fall fashion show fabulous

San Francisco JACL Auxiliary's Fall fashion show was held on Sept. 20. The fifth annual Luncheon-Fashion Show of the San Francisco JACL Auxiliary was held in the beautiful Venetian Room at the Fairmont Hotel. The event was a resounding success, with attendees enjoying a delightful evening of fashion and fundraising.

The event was organized by the JACL Women's Auxiliary and featured a variety of clothing and accessories donated by local stores. The models were all volunteers from the community, and they looked stunning in the latest fall fashions.

The show kicked off with several traditional Japanese fashion outfits, including a kimono by Noriko Tokunaga, followed by modern Western clothing and accessories. The models were all dressed in the latest fall trends, including dresses, suits, and accessories.

The highlight of the show was the fashion parade, which featured models walking down the runway wearing the latest in clothing and accessories. The outfits were selected to showcase the diversity of styles available in the fall season, with everything from formal evening gowns to casual streetwear.

The models were all professional and looked amazing, with their outfits complemented by makeup and hair styling. The audience was captivated by the models' confidence and poise as they made their way down the runway.

The event was a huge success, with attendees enjoying the fashion show and the chance to support the JACL Auxiliary. The Auxiliary hopes to continue to host similar events in the future, and they look forward to working with local stores and designers to bring even more exciting fashion shows to the community.

Thanks to everyone who attended and supported the event. We hope to see everyone next year for the sixth annual Fashion Show!

Aristocrats of the Japanese American community have divided their loyalties as the confrontation between the Supreme Court and the American Legion comes closer.

The "40 & 8" still acts as a bully boy, a thorn in the side of American Legion's effort to carve out the new era. If the "40 & 8" was told its charter was revoked by national headquarters, the San Jose chapter of "40 & 8" was told by Albert Lee, 1st vice commander, that a constitutional amendment was "a joke." He charged that the constitutional amendment was "a joke." He charged that the constitutional amendment was a "joke." He charged that the constitutional amendment was a "joke." He charged that the constitutional amendment was a "joke."

The San Jose incident may become the cause to completely eliminate racial bias from all Legion activities. Fukui, California has been leading in the fight against the organization. National American Legion policy today is that there will be no racial limitation in the membership.

U.S. Flag flown in Japan 150 years ago

The American flag at State College in

New York City, which was presented to City College, will be flown in Japan on the occasion of the 150th anniversary of the peace treaty between the two nations.

The flag was presented to City College by the United States government in 1942, and was flown in Japan during the occupation.

The flag will be flown on September 15, 1993, as part of a ceremony to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the treaty.

The flag will be presented to the Japanese government as a symbol of peace and friendship between the two nations.

The ceremony will include a speech by the American ambassador to Japan, followed by a musical performance and a traditional Japanese dance.

The flag will then be flown at the Japanese embassy in Washington, D.C., and will later be displayed at the National Museum of American History.

The event is being held in conjunction with the annual Japan Festival, which will take place in Washington, D.C., on September 15.

The festival will feature a variety of cultural events, including music, dance, and traditional crafts.

It is expected to be attended by thousands of people, including government officials, diplomats, and members of the Japanese community in the United States.

The event is being organized by the Japan Society, an organization that promotes cultural exchange and understanding between the United States and Japan.
