The Pacific Citizen Board feels that the PC to push this proposal to the chapters and means to make this enterprise a self-sustaining one.

As a major step toward increasing the all-important circulation, the PC is in the process of offering a bonus of $20 for issues $1 to tie in with the JACL membership drive for the coming year.

It is our sincere hope that the chapters will take advantage of this opportunity to introduce the PC to the general membership. The PC Board feels that an offer of such a convenient price, if presented to every member, will bring in new readers for 1959 JACL membership, which will be accepted by a substantial number and eventually result in a good portion of them who will become regular subscribers.

A joint effort on the part of the chapters and the PC to push this program will have two terrific results—both advantageous to JACL. In the first place, the increase in subscriber membership; and secondly, the increase will be a definite step toward making the PC a self-sustaining house organ. Both of these would be beneficial to the organizations and means to make this enterprise a self-sustaining one.

Nisei returns to high school, second in family to win student proxy poll

Ken Hayami Kato, youngest son of Kame Kato No. 412 E. 10th St., was recently elected student body president of Fremont High School in a close race. This victory gives the Kato family a second generation of Japanese ancestry to achieve this distinctive honor at the southern California school.

The first Nisei who won the honor was his brother Art who was student body president in 1935.

Summer Scholarship

Last summer he was one of the 10 boys selected to participate in an advanced science training program for students at the Hughes Research Laboratory where he was paid a salary while he was working in the chemistry program. The purpose of the program was to encourage science-minded students to go forward in this line.

At present, Kato is student body vice-president and the editor of the school paper.

These we'd like to have by Jan. 24, and the Pacific Citizen have tentatively planned to publish the Special JACL Membership Issue in early February—so that it can reach the majority of the chapters in the midst of their 1959 campaign.

Membership committee members, who are well aware of the kinds of questions that are being asked, can assist materially if they can submit a series of "Questions and Answers" on JACL.

Members who see the need for JACL is still vital today can help also by telling us in their own words—better known as "testimonials"—and we'd like to hear from the rank and file, too. Members of the National JACL Board and Staff also will send in statements. These we'd like to have by Jan. 24.

Additional information of a general nature, which would assist in the membership campaign, will also be included.

This Special Membership Issue—which is to be published in sufficient numbers to provide a copy to each member, as well as potential members—is something National JACL President Shig Wakamat su felt was needed last year, when he served as national membership chairman. This will be in addition to the brochures now being prepared by Headquarters with Thelma Takeda, 1959-60 national membership chairman.

We trust this announcement does not fall on blind eyes or deaf ears. We are serious about this venture. Cooperation will be needed to prepare the "Questions and Answers," "Testimonials," and "Questions and Answers." The PC in order to print a sufficient number, needs to know by Jan. 30 how many copies will be required from the chapters. Shig Wakamat su suggests this formula: 2 times the 1958 roster—one for each renewal and one for the prospective member.

From the Frying Pan

By Bill Hosokawa

DENVER, Colo.

LOOKING BACK—For most of us, 1958 has been a memorable year, marked by material gain and social progress, and portentous with the promise of the future. The bitterness of the evacuation is long past. We seem to be looking more into tomorrow than reminiscing, although we are still amusing ourselves with "yesterday's memories." Of course, as a group we are closer to realizing fully the American dream of school days than ever before in our brief history. Perhaps some of us have seen our dreams come true already. For the rest, the realization is there almost for the grasping, thanks to the opportunities that have been opened up to us.

Not long ago some of us were trying to isolate the reason the older Nisei did so well in school, avoided disaster, and escaped the terrors of life. As a group we are closer to realizing fully the American dream of school days than ever before in our brief history. Perhaps some of us have seen our dreams come true already. For the rest, the realization is there almost for the grasping, thanks to the opportunities that have been opened up to us.

What is the American dream? It's the promise of opportunity not limited by birth or caste, color or religion, wealth or social background. Do they teach this to today's school children? I hope they do, because it is the essence of America great. It is the driving force for this dream, rather than the attainment, that has given this nation its vigor, drive, ingenuity and ability to meet its challenges. Perhaps it is too much to expect that every last Nisei will realize the American dream in our time, but the doors of opportunity are being opened wider each passing year.

AND FORWARD—It takes no crystal ball to see some of the things that will befall us Nisei in the coming twelvemonth. For instance:

There will be a boom in wedding among the Sansei, and more and more Nisei men and women will become known as Grandpa and Grandma.

Similarly and increased neuroses of Nisei men and women will get cricks in their necks from tilting their heads forward and back in an effort to get to their new bifocal glasses.

Nisei women will vow to go on diet following the holiday feasting, but few will keep their vows for long.

Nisei businessmen will continue to prosper. They will be joined by a substantial number of Nisei professional men who will depend increasingly in the patronage of Caucasians.

Nisei scientists, engineers, architects and entertainers will win even greater recognition for their talents. And chances are one or more of them will run into opposition when they try to buy a home in a district commemorate with their incomes and professional standings.

A Sansei will get into trouble with the law and Nisei scientists, engineers, architects and entertainers will continue to prosper. They will be joined by a substantial number of Nisei professional men who will depend increasingly in the patronage of Caucasians.

Of the main JACL convention speakers at Salt Lake City, force was the most tragic wartime mistake sustained by our people in a particular area and were of Japanese descent. No trial was held, no crime was charged—only the hysterical cry of "Japs." The evacuation broke up the Little Tokios of San Francisco and Los Angeles, forced the Japanese out of their ghettos, and presided over the destruction of an entire way of life. "It was not only a setback to a good thing as the Newsweek article leads us to believe, but a catastrophe of the first order, a tragedy of the first magnitude that the people of this area are to be held responsible for, a tragedy that was destined to happen because of the racism of a particular area, a tragedy that we should never allow to happen again to any people of any race or color, any people on this earth."—Anaxioma.

MRS. FLORENCE KAWAOKA TO HEAD SONOMA AUXY

PETALUMA - Mrs. Florence Kawakoa, active community leader, was elected to head the Sonoma County JACL Women's Auxiliary on Jan. 3 following the death of her predecessor, Mrs. Clare Simonds, shortly after the start of the new term.

Mrs. Kawakoa was named to the JACL board of directors for the Petaluma area, succeeding Mrs. James Miyano, another JACL member and one who assisted Ntsei "Eldorado" with its preschool program. Mrs. Kawakoa will serve for five years.

Membership campaign already underway

Membership campaign is already underway for the San Jose chapter. Mrs. Clara Miyano, retiring president, will be installed at the chapter's annual installation dinner on Saturday, Jan. 10 at the local Memorial Hall.

People in all the other chapters are also busy preparing for the chapter fishing derby held in the fall. In 1958, Mrs. Misao Horiguchi, chairman of the auxiliary's membership drive committee, submitted to the chapter a list of 200 members needed to round out the membership campaign. Mrs. Horiguchi, who is now a member of the National Board of Directors, has added several names to the list to make it a total of 207 members needed to round out the 1959 membership campaign.

The picture as 1951 looms

Seattle

Up in this corner, we have never been so fine for making friends and getting together except when it may have been a grammar school classroom. We've got the Northwest Picture. Let us see if we can get together and contemplate the aspirations of the foreseeable future. For this reason, the Northwest Picture is here. We are the only one. We are not interested in the JACL headlines. We just want to feature the best. We want to see the best. We want to see the best and have nothing else. The season's best, the season's best, the season's best.

In the course of the 45-minute interview Mike was asked how he felt about having been called two "dirty" niggers," one after another.

The wonderful thing about the movement is that they get to know you they treat you as a fellow.

Regarding the other "dirty" word "Lobberism," Mike felt that lobbyists were a necessity. At present, large amounts of money are donated to various organizations, and these organizations are used to gain the influence of the national legislature. They are a necessary evil.

It is the function of lobbyist, and here in the states, they have to consider and they don't have to worry about the facts, to bring about an understanding of the facts.

It is the function of lobbyists to present facts to the legislators. The legislators must be informed in order to pass laws. Mike stated that the lobbyist was a necessity.

WASHINGTON

86th Congress Outlook

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The 86th Congress opens in a mood that promises to9 make history. The record of the Democratic-controlled Senate will be an important factor in the next election cycle, and the House may well be a real test of the strength of the Republican Party. The 86th Congress will be a critical period for the administration of President Eisenhower, who will need to secure the support of both houses of Congress in order to advance his program of domestic and foreign policy objectives.

The 86th Congress will be dominated by the issue of the Korean War, which has already cost thousands of American lives and billions of dollars. The administration will face a difficult task in persuading Congress to continue the military effort in Korea and to provide the necessary funds for the war effort.

The House of Representatives is expected to be more divided than the Senate, with the Democrats holding a narrow majority. The Republican Party will likely continue to be led by Senator Robert Taft, who is expected to take a strong position on foreign policy issues.

The 86th Congress will also be a test of the strength of the Democratic Party, which has been in the majority for the past four years. The Democratic Party will need to demonstrate that it can govern effectively and that it can attract the support of the American people.
