Japan is smothered with cherry blossoms now and that is Japan’s relations, particularly trade, with Red China. In this regard, a well-goodwill mission to Peiping last month hoped to lay the groundwork for relations of trade there.

Headed by party secretary general Asanuma, a group of 15 members, was in Washington in which Asanuma rendered the party respect, a Socialist party of politics as Japan president Eisenhower recognized the U.S. and public opinion reacted well as the U.S.-Japan bases in Japan as "Perhaps more than any other issue, the matter of political peace in the U.S. and Japan is the most important for the United States." Eisenhower was also of the opinion that the U.S. and Japan are common enemy of Japan and discrimination, "Gov. Japan must export to live... For Japan there must be more free world outlets for her products. She does not want to be compelled to pay for her own defense and to resort upon the Communist empire. Should she ever be forced to that extremity, the blow to free world security would be incalculable.

The President explained that expansion of free world outlets for Japanese goods could be provided "if each of the industrialized nations in the West does its part in stimulating trade relations with Japan."

It is not difficult to understand Red China motives in the forthcoming Japanese election politics. By refusing to establish trade relations under normal conditions (Passing is insisting the Kishi government cease its hostile policy toward China and desist from joining a plot to create two Chinas), Red China hopes to heighten the conflict between the Socialist's own left and right wings and sabotage the mutual support of the entire paper is mailed to the membership.

CHICAGO. - Contrary to popular belief, a language does not necessarily carry more than one language. But if he has mentioned other tongues, he is known as a polyglot linguist.

This was learned at the McCormick Tribune Arena when Harold Market discussed, "Linguistics, the Scientific Method of Analyzing Language" before a small but highly enthusiastic gathering of members.

Market, a graduate student at the University of Chicago and presently research assistant in the speech laboratory there, gave an interesting explanation of how this strange incoming was coming to be.

Brahmin Start Method

In India hundreds of years ago, the Brahmins faced the problem of recording their intricate prayer chants for their various spiritual forms of meditation was worked out which kept track of all the chants and valleys of intonation, accent and stresses, etc. - a method so amazingly accurate that a prayer dating from the 11th century could be chanted today in exactly the same way.

When the British conquered India, they adopted this system and introduced it to western civilization.

UNITED STATES

In the United States, the JACL is working to promote the interests of the Nisei community. The organization is actively involved in various community events and initiatives.

Boom Tone, founded in the early 1970s, is a music and recording company that plays a significant role in the Nisei community. The company has produced many successful recordings and has helped promote the music of the Nisei community.

The Boom Tone record label has been producing Nisei music since its inception in 1973. The label has released a wide variety of music, including Nisei jazz, pop, and rock.

The label's founder, Kenji Nakamura, is a Nisei who has dedicated his life to promoting Nisei music. He has been involved in the music industry for over 40 years and has helped establish Boom Tone as one of the leading Nisei music labels.

In addition to releasing music, Boom Tone also produces and hosts events that celebrate Nisei culture and music. The label has hosted numerous concerts, festivals, and workshops that showcase the talents of Nisei musicians.

Boom Tone's commitment to promoting Nisei music has helped to raise awareness about the contributions of the Nisei community to American culture. The label's success is a testament to the resilience and creativity of the Nisei community.

JOURNALISM INSTRUCTOR

Tod Tajima, a journalism instructor at Alhambra High School, is one of those persons whose elected hours are consumed in all campus and community activities. He’s either promoting another school program at Alhambra or directing weekend church projects at the Pasadena Union, Presbyterian Church.

First elected to the Board of Directors of the Journalism Association of Journalism, Tajima has worked for the last two years at a Pacific southwest District Council convention dinner some years ago in Pasadena when he acted as toastmaster for the delegates. He did a bang-up job and indeed drew many of the JACLs applauses (especially from women) for the charming and entertaining manner in which he bore the chalice.

Last Saturday, Tajima made a speech to the: "How to make the most of your high school years." He was a bright plaque for his students. Hawaii's First Elections

WASHINGTON

HAWAI'I SHOULD OFFICIALLY QUALIFY as our 51st State before July 4, the traditional day to add stars to our Federal Constitution, if only to inform the American people that the population majority of our Pacific possession is ready to make its voice heard in our national government.

The primary elections to determine Republican and Democratic candidates for the State Legislature will be held on Tuesday, June 30. All of the candidates will be on the ballot in each county, whether the people of our last remaining Territory accept "the proposition of admission" or not. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

In addition to the election of senators and representatives to the new State Legislature, two United States Senators, a United States Representative, a Governor, and a Lieutenant Governor will be selected. The public vote will be held on Thursday, July 2. The general elections will be held on the same date. The special elections will be held on Thursday, July 2.

Already the political pot is stirring, for there is real honor and historic significance in being elected first under Statehood.

* * *

AS OF THIS writing, the once traditionally Republican Pacific Territory is now a Democratic stronghold. The given most credit for this remarkable change over is also the man who is perhaps most instrumental in securing congressional approval for Statehood, Delegate Joseph A. Brun, who has announced his candidacy for Governor.

In this pivotal race, he will face the last appointed Chief Executive, Governor William F. Synthetic, who will have tremendous influence far beyond his term, for he will appoint not only the members of his cabinet but also commission the selection of the entire State legislature, judges, and agencies that must be established to administer the new state. The government of the new State will be laid by the first chief executive.

Although there is a number of candidates for the three congressional posts, it is still too early to evaluate their chances. Unhappy in the past are two prominent Republicans who would have been outstanding candidates for the party, as were Senator Keenan and America's star man of Hawaii, who was defeated by Delegate Burns in the last election.

HONOLULU - Americans of Japanese ancestry made a pact last week for an expected 20% increase in the number of Nisei voters this November, and it is hoped in this election that there will be a stand-by rate of 90%.

The pact, which was announced by Senator Keenan, a native Hawaiian, and Mr. Burns, a native Nisei, is based on a comparison of the 1952 election with the present voting situation. It is estimated that in 1952, 40,000 Nisei voted, and it is estimated that at least one American of Japanese ancestry is to be elected in this country, and his two prominent Republicans who would have been outstanding candidates for the party, as were Senator Keenan and America's star man of Hawaii.

The Zlan elections will be held on Tuesday, July 2. The candidates include Representative A. Burns, who has announced his candidacy for Governor.

In addition to the candidates for the Pacific Territory, there will be a number of candidates for the two prominent Republicans who would have been outstanding candidates for the party, as were Senator Keenan and America's star man of Hawaii, who was defeated by Delegate Burns in the last election.

ITEMS OF PASSING INTEREST

THE UNPRECEDEDENTED MARRIAGE of the Crown Prince to the commoner daughter of an industrial magnate in Tokyo last week struck a responsive chord in this country, and probably did more than any other single act to persuade Americans that Japan is becoming truly democratic. Public interest in any event or person of Japanese ancestry was never higher in this country, with this sudden popular love story of "PacifiCharming" and his lovely princess, making it apparent to all that the land of good will that the land of our ancestry can be found in the land of our birth.

LAST WEEK TOO the annual National Cherry Blossom Festival was held in the nation's capital. For the first time, a Nisei—Maei "Billy" Murai, a New York JACCR—had a prominent role in the festival. Mr. Murai served as director of the social event of the festival, which was attended by thousands of people.
