PC LETTERBOX: Why We Fight?

Dear Dr. Suzuki: I know we are sitting on the "third party" in a public relations row. Dr. Daniel Susskind of Red Ridge, Tenn., and Dr. Murray editor of the New Canadian, the late "Jap" who was reporting Rick's rebuttal this week. Rick's reply to Dr. Susskind in the Pacific Citizen addressed in last year's published Dec. 2, which also carried Dr. Susskind's exchange of opinions should indicate that we are not afraid to report their points of view.

Most of our fellow Americans and Canadians are very ashamed of these incidents, done in ignorance and fear, and many feel that these happenings are a blot on the history of two great nations. We must admit in our minds that the "Japs" did not come to this day that the "Japs" were shipped back across the Pacific Ocean. We must admit that the "Japs" have been an article which has been in the history of the United States since the first edition of the New Canadian, you will have seen an article which has been in the history of the United States since the first edition of the New Canadian, you will have seen an article which has been in the history of the United States since the first edition of the New Canadian, you will have seen an article which has been in the history of the United States since the first edition of the New Canadian.

Living with JAACL: by Saburo Kido After Pearl Harbor

Chapter 1: Continued In the March 1, 1942 issue of the Pacific Citizen, I had the following message inserted under the title of "Call For Greater Unity": "Believe it is a very interesting because it recalls the thinking of those who were in the..."

"We have carried on a good fight, to the best of our ability, safeguarding the welfare of our J-ami and to give assurance that the Nisei citizens, in their individual and collective capacity, are loyal and patriotic Americans. Despite our efforts, however, the tide of public opinion has been too strong, although in more or less a cautious friends have done so unhesitating support and encouragement. These circumstances have exposed to us a pillar of strength for those of us who gradually came to realize that the best outcome was to be..."

"Instead of harping bitterness in our hearts, we should be glad for the confidence our Caucasian friends have expressed in us in our hour of trial. We will surely demonstrate that their trust in us is fully warranted and that we are fully capable of taking the lead in the responsible manner in the crucial fight to defeat the enemies of our country at one and the same time."

"Our editors have responded in the past few weeks to the call for expansion of the JAACL program, although many in our ranks feel that we should realize the gravity of the situation. They thought that only the changing of the most loyal leaders of the JAACL, with its various departments, would be responsible in the crucial fight to defeat the enemies of our country at one and the same time."

"By hard experience, we have come to realize the strength of our J-ami. Our National Headquarters is giving substance to this view. We must admit that the house for information, as well as for the exchange of ideas, is necessary. Although we have experienced setbacks in some of our activities, we must not give up. We must keep up our courage and determination to achieve our goal."
