MEMBERSHIP AWARDS

Achievement, membership, performance award is really one that's long overdue. Back in 1957, we felt that chapters that showed exceptional achievement deserved more recognition than an "active" link on the Membership Bulletin.

Chapters where certain made the pages of the PCJ were particularly well known to have enviable performances in every aspect of their chapter leadership and thus deserving of special commendation.

Our desire here was to encourage pride in the chapter. The new awards, to be presented from next year, will do just that.

One of the categories chosen last year was the Membership Chairman. Dr. David Matsui, who presented the awards, agrees, however, the Society had limited the awards to the first three correctly that the first awards are to be made in 1964. Then those chapters which show 3-year continuous growth through the year of honored with permanent trophies.

Looking over the membership-performance chart in our files, the following chapters will be eligible for awards. The above have most active groups for the past four years:

1. Costa Mesa (284)
2. Glendale-Torrance (23)
3. Long Beach (220)
4. Monterey Peninsula (210)
5. Portland (187)
6. San Fernando Valley (175)
7. San Francisco (165)
8. Santa Barbara (120)
9. West Los Angeles (120)
10. Washington, D.C. (120)
Numbers in parentheses are the 1962 totals. Right now, they must be kept to earn the 3-year continuous growth membership award.

Most significant performance to date is that Monterey Peninsula, which was maintained to growth record for the second consecutive year through 1962. The chapter started its climb in 1954 with 136, which then leaped the 100 mark in 1955. After a dip in 1956, the club could have started in 1957, it did not reach another 100 until 1960. No other JACL chapter in the nation has come so far in so short a time and with such a consistent performance.

Not far behind is San Jose, with an eight-year continuous growth record which is still "alive," having begun in 1954.

This past year, San Jose reached the 1,000-member club for the first time and nearly tripled the previous year's membership.

Southern L.A. and Chico are the only other chapters to have had 1,000 members on the rolls during a year. The addition of the two newest chapters is 1,200 turned in by San Francisco in 1960.

San Francisco JACL is in class all by itself—having topped the 1,000 mark for the last six consecutive years from 1958 to 1963. Since JACL had a nine-year streak of consecutive growth between 1952-1960, San Francisco's record is unique and brings its all-time high of 1,311 in 1960. Mt. Olympus boasts an eight-year continuous growth record from 1952-1960.

Other chapters which have increased in the past include the seven-year stretch by San Luis Obispo from 1959-1965, the recent start by Marysville (1963), Sacramento (1963-1967), and five-year marks for Milpitas (from 1959-64) and Concord (from 1957-1961).

NEWSLETTER AWARDS

Some fine chapter newsletters have been receiving this accolade in recent weeks, but only Idaho Falls, Monterey Peninsula, and Downey have received the award. We invited a bundle of 10 issues for judging in the annual Jimmie Sakamoto Memorial Award program. The bundle should be sent to us as quickly as the newsletters are published.

Perhaps the editors of the newsletters from the following chapters can be reminded to read in 10 copies so as to keep it up throughout the year.

Orange County, Dayton, Chicago (both 1st and 2nd editions), Portland, Portland, Seattle, Venetian-Miracle, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Sacramento and Salt Lake City.

Seattle JACL's "Report," edited by George Fujii, is a clear letterpress job with type set in a large size. It has a good layout, three columns to a page.

Bendis' chapter news, it contains a President's Column, high school and college news.

Half of my top copy contains a classified list of advertisers who appear in the publications at 11 per issue.

Portland and Orange County also have a classified list of advertisers to help make publishing easier.

New Club sports is done in the Portland Chapter, and the editor of chapter newsletters will become more significant as far as local areas are concerned. The chapter newsletter is the best way to keep chapter informed of what is happening on the "local" level. The PCJ will try to keep the larger picture in view.

OUSHO!

One of the rare sights of the world—these champions of Japanese name—appeared at the Olympic Games in Tokyo last weekend. Normans, as we're for boxing and wrestling matches, the Olympic replaced in canvas ring for a game of ring jumbo ring. They were the first to win the national youth boxing division. Who's who, who helped? Who's who, who the moment went through their introductory rituals?

Shaped as it is in Japan, the world's shaped, shaped, shaped or among each other out of the dirt ring. They were once upon a time as it is whether they would be interested in the "mawashi" and it was the talk-of-the-town in Tokyo before the contingent of 400 Americans arrived. The team could have started in 1955, when it needed another 22 that year. No other JACL chapter in the nation has come so far in so short a time and with such a consistent performance.

Correction

The PCJ resolution on Fair Housing does not fit in the category in which we would like to call attention. In the first paragraph, it should read: "In our opinion, 'fair housing' is a matter of opportunity for all persons in all areas of life, including buying, an fundamental right of all Americans." In the second paragraph, it should read: "We would implement this principle by legislation and education."

ORGANIZATIONAL

National 3rd Vice President and Legal Counsel Billie Marantz was with National JACL and the Pacific Northwest Chapter for the "Agape" Law Seminar. Dr. John Kaino, president of the PNW Chapter, was the host.

JACL is a mystery. Dr. Billie Marantz was not enough, he now finds himself on the Board of Directors of the PNW Chapter. She is a strong woman, she has a great deal of experience, and she is a good person.

At the PNW Chapter, the new board was formed, and seated by the Grooman-Terasawa Chapter. New state delegates got involved in the PNW Chapter.

John Kaino provided us with his first PNWDC meeting with the distinguished presence of Dr. John Kaino, and the participation of the PNW Chapter.

Jack Miyata is currently compiling the summary of the 1963 Program & Activities report and hopes to have them ready for distribution at the PNWDC quarterly meeting workshop.

Membership John holds the "tributary" Chapter distinction with the Portland, Seattle Valley and Hillside Chapters. All three are 20 percent increased.

From the Frying Pan

Denver, Colo.

RELATED EVENTS — A week ago, Frank Torizawa opened this area's first carry-out tempura house in connection with one of his retail fish markets. A few days after that I received in the mail a slim book called "Sounds from the Unknown," by Lucile M. Nixon and Tomoe Tana, and published by Alan Swallow of Denver. Though they may seem not to be, these two events are related in that they reflect in oddly different ways the ever-spreading interest in things Japanese in the United States.

Torizawa's is a simple commercial operation. He has got deep-frying shrimp, scallops, oysters, clams and smelt housed in Japanese tempura batter. There are no eating facilities in the store; the girls pat the tempura in a bus to go with rice, soy sauce and Texas toast of all things! If you prefer, and you take it home or on a picnic or out to the park for a pleasant lunch, Torizawa's theory is that the delicate tempura batter will go a good many friends and customers, and from the showing of the first week's business he's going to do very well. As a matter of fact, his carry-out business is likely to boast things for the several Japanese restaurants, for the tempura could well whet appetites for other Oriental goodies.

TRANPLANTED CULTURE — "Sounds from the Unknown" is a collection of 122 poems written in the ancient, 21-syllable "taika" form. The poems, composed by devotees of the art in Hawaii and the United States, are presented in Japanese script, in Romaji, and in English translation. Many of the poems are fascinating in that this classic form, which goes back to at least the 8th Century, has been adapted to the American scene. Take, for example, the verse by Toshio Saito of Chicago:

"How we wait!

To start young, reduced students

That which is basic"

And what kind of person

Is it who possesses this?

Or the touching poem of Kyoko Niita of San Leandro, Calif.:

"Going steadily to study English,

Even though I am still at night,

I have attained

Love in life,

American citizenship.

And far from the green rice paddies of Japan, En Wata of Fort Lupton, Colo., wrote:

"These miles and miles of ripened wheat,

Need no alien moonlight glow

For Japan's sons

For to themselves they yield

An inner golden满足ness.

Likewise, the feeling for beauty has been transplanted in fertile ground by Masanori Toyofuku of Los Angeles, who writes:

At Redondo Beach

Where Mexican people dwell,

Uggs and sandals

Not on weekdays,

On the Sunday roads

The sun rises on the leaves!

The poems, one to each author, were selected and translated by Lucile M. Nixon with the assistance of Mrs. Tomoe Tana. Tragically, Miss Nixon was killed in a traffic accident just before last Christmas, the day after she had read the final proof of her book. Alan Swallow (his address is 2679 S. York St., Denver) specializes in publishing books of regional authors, or of regional interest. He has departed from format to publish "Sounds from the Unknown," but I am delighted that he did. For this is a warm and rewarding volume, one that conjures up many images and memories, as good poetry should.

City Hall approves Li'l Tokio rebuilding

LOS ANGELES — Li'l Tokio's future as a favorite by the area's Japanese community was assured yesterday when City Council members Bryan Kaji and Katsumi Matsukawa had been honored by the city fathers in an unprecedented action last week.

The City Council, on the 11th anniversary of the master plan of the little Tokyo Redevelopment Area, which has strong support from the City's Planning Department, voted to allow the building to go up. It is felt the building will never fail to be the friend of Japanese Americans in Utah or America.

Action of the Council changed the approval of the Redevelopment Agency for permitting the physical appearance of First and Main Streets area by local merchants and reflected the actions of the city fathers in the move toward the community to move ahead.

Task ahead now is to secure approval from the various manufacturers and contractors to erect within Li'l Tokio, which pointed out, before any of the redevelopment plans can materialize. Among the first projects expected to start are the construction of a new facility at 12 and Central. Go Detroit in '64

NEW CHAPTER PRESIDENTS WRITES

Dear JACLers:
I am one of the newly installed board of governors of the best chapter for the 1964 Biennial National JACL Convention to be held here in Detroit. I am very excited about our meeting, only my personal and coastal invitation to visit our fair city, but also promise at this time that we will make it a great success.

"We bet in Detroit, the convention board, board of governors, chapter members have been working very diligently to fulfill our obligations as the host chapter for the 1964 Biennial National JACL Convention. However, to make this a great success, we need your personal attendance and active participation in the numerous activities we have planned."

The writers who have preceded me have explained in detail many of the physical attractions offered by our "Dynamic Detroit." However, we are never adequate to transfer to another the warmth, the spirit, the pride, and the other intangibles.
