MEMBERSHIP PERFORMANCE

Weeks back we delved into our files, coming up with a report which JACL chapters have or have had outstanding growth records. Dr. David Miura, national membership chairman, thought chapters would all like to know where they stand today in the quest of the Performance Award for Continuous 5-Year Growth.

Based on 1963 figures, there are 34 "live" chapters—that is, their string for continuous growth is unbroken. Seven as of Mar. 2, have already surpassed their 1963 performance and undoubtedly many more are joining this list of "growing" chapters day-by-day as National Headquarters receives 1964 memberships during this peak month of the campaign.

- The 34 "live" chapters are:
- 10 Years—Monterey Peninsula.
 - 6 Years—San Jose.
 - 5 Years—Contra Costa, San Fernando Valley.
 - 4 Years—West Los Angeles.
 - 3 Years—Gresham-Trousdale, Portland, Long Beach Harbor, Washington, D.C.
 - 2 Years—Parlier, Sanger, Arroyo, Philadelphia.
 - 1 Year—Spokane, White River Valley, Gilroy, Oakland, Santa Mateo, Redfield, Tulare County, Down L.A., Gardena Valley, Orange County, Pasadena, Santa Barbara, Venice-Culver, Rexburg, Snake River Valley, Chicago, Twin Cities, New York, Seabrook.

The seven "growing" chapters which have surpassed their 1963 records and the number of continuous years of growth they have are as follows:

- 2 Years—Sacramento, Salinas Valley, Watsonville.
- 1 Year—Mid-Columbia, Cortez, Delano, Imperial Valley.

As long as we're in the mood for percentages and performances we have our fingers crossed in hopes that the latest JACL Membership Graph will be ready by this week's issue, some concern for the national membership can be assumed by everyone after noting the comparisons as of the end of February since PC with Membership was started in 1961.

Growth	Actual
54.5%—1961—50.1%
31.4%—1962—32.2%
46.3%—1963—44.4%
42.8%—1964—

By "growth," the membership as of the end of February for the year is divided by the total membership of the previous year to indicate the "growth" percentage.

By "actual," the membership as of the end of February for the year is divided by the total membership of the same year to show what percentage of that year's membership had enrolled. If the chapters help push membership this year so that the "growth" percentage tops 100%, it is very conceivable that JACL will top 18,000 members in a new plateau for National. We lacked 28 last year from hitting that. Of course, we're hoping for 20,000.

MARCH 31—PC "CUT-OFF" DATE

Those who remember their Latin in high school will recall that the Romans counted their days "backwards" on the calendar. There were three fixed dates: the Calends, the Nones, and Ides. Literature has popularized the term: "Ides" the middle of the month—with the expression the "Ides of March."

The Calends were the first day of the month and the Nones were the ninth day before the Ides, counting inclusively.

The JACL, now with PC's help, might boost the Latin phrase, "pride Calends," which means the last day before the Calends or the last day of the month, to remind the members to renew before the end of March. "Pride Calends" appeals to us for its initials read "PC."

SCHOOL REDISTRICTING

Over half of the state expenditures in California supports public education nowadays—something like $1.3 billion a year and there is a big in Sacramento now asking the Legislature to grant another $75 million in school aid. While there appears to be no question on the need of such funds, the problem lies in where all this money is to be found.

That is, how is the state going to collect it in form of taxes? Legislative analyst Alan Post says the big problem in state school aid is "the seeming inequality of educational opportunity between California school districts." The talk is for school district reorganization. The bill proposing the $75 million calls for merging of local school districts into single county-wide unit except those in chartered cities.

This, in effect, would reduce California's 1,585 school districts to 170. It also means (so far as the Nisei are concerned) fewer opportunities to serve local school districts. In recent years we have noticed the increase of Japanese Americans in local school district elections. The school consolidation plan may save enough to finance the extra $75 million but renders school board positions more susceptible to politics—and to us, schools should be above politics.

'Never thought I'd be here,' says Spark

WASHINGTON—Serving in Congress has been something "I never thought I could achieve," Rep. Spark M. Matsunaga has told visiting newsmen from Japan.

"But here I am in the greatest legislative body of the world, consulted on national and international matters and covering equal treatment with members of long service," Matsunaga said.

"Things are improving every day in America."

Housing

WASHINGTON—The Democratic National Committee this past week named Sen. Daniel Inoué (Hawaii) and Rep. Emilio Daddario (Conn.) as co-chairmen of the joint Hawaii-Hawaii speakers bureau, which will process requests for Democratic speakers in the forthcoming election campaign.

Inoué's open housing ordinance 3 to 1.

In the Sacramento Governor Brown at his news conference this week, said he preferred the November date for the initiative while persons with "fear" in the county if the city adopted the law.

King County Ordinance

Meanwhile, King County board of commissioners has unanimously adopted an open housing ordinance, affecting the dispersed areas of the county. The action took place Mar. 3. The law is not in effect as yet and already persons to have the measure placed on the ballot have been submitted.

The ordinance prohibits discrimination in the county areas in sale or rental of any housing accommodation because of race, color, religion, ancestry or national origin. Housing of single-family two duplex houses are exempt.

Southern Senators at all times. The six civil rights who are Frank Church and John F. Kennedy of Michigan, Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts, Edmund Muskie of Maine, the Secretary of New Hampshire, and Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin.

Since the Republicans do not have the sufficient split to beat the Democrats and since they have only 21 members, as against the Democrats 42, GOP Leader Robert D. Taft of Ohio has announced that the regular party whip system will be used during the long debate to assure attendance.

For both the Democratic and Republican floor managers, this will be their supreme legislative effort, with the possibility of vice presidential ambitions, however large for both Senators Humphrey and Kuchel.

Senate Schedule

As presently planned, for the first two weeks or so, the Senate will proceed with the debate. Thereafter, the Senate will move into early morning and late night sessions, from about 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 a.m. If the program announced by Majority Leader Mansfield is followed out, the debate for the age and health of the older Democratic Senators. The Majority Leader has expressed his desire for round-the-clock sessions for pure physical attrition.

On the Monday morning until late in the evening meetings begin. GOP Leader Dirksen has served notice that he will oppose any amendment. The Senate is, in essence, this will stop action of all other legislation in the Senate except for civil rights.

New Procedure Rare

While it is anticipated that the Democrats will debate "at length" the motion to make civil rights the pending business of the Senate.

The Amendments Matter

Democratic chiefmate Humphrey has made clear that he is opposed to any amendment. The Senate is, in essence, this will stop action of all other legislation in the Senate except for civil rights.

On the other hand, it is known that Minority Leader Dirksen, who may be even more important in the Senate showdown than was Republican William McCulloch of Ohio, ranking GOP member on the Judiciary Committee and floor manager, in the House action, has at least two major amendments he proposes to introduce.

On the public accommodations section and the other is an fair employment practices.

Sen. Dirksen floor manager Kuchel also has at least two amendments to offer, as he told the Northern California-Western Nevada District Council, JACL Testimonial Banquet in San Francisco recently. One relates to state and local elections and the other to authorize the U.S. Attorney General to file civil judgments with to protect the civil rights of all our citizens.

The Republicans argue that strengthening amendments should be welcome at all times, since such amendments make for a more comprehensive and meaningful bill. Since the debate is being waged anyway, they contend that the fight might as well be extended a little more. As there is a really effective civil rights measure. They insist that one of the chief of a filibuster is broken, opponents are handy in a position to continue to filibuster, every amendment.

Even if this does help, they feel that the effort for a better bill is worth the chance. And, as far as the House is concerned, they wanted to see how that body could refuse to accept a stronger bill.

No, a difference remains in the strategy of the Democrats and the Republicans who have civil rights. The Democrats very have the necessary votes to vote to allow any amendment, for this motion taken only a majority of 50—50—50 and voting. At the same time, however, if a vote is necessary, it is required to be by a majority of 60.

Once voting is allowed, only a majority of those present and voting are required for the adoption of amendments, if any, and of the bill itself.

Since in the recent past reliance on a filibuster has played into the hands of the Democrats and Republican civil rights legislation at this point, it is hoped that this new and novel procedure will bring about the enactment of truly worthwhile, comprehensive, and meaningful legislation that will eliminate the legal barriers to racial discrimination and will provide dignity and greater opportunities for all Americans.

Ask state supreme court to keep initiative against Rumford housing act off ballot

SACRAMENTO — The California Supreme Court was asked March 6 in order Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan to keep the initiative nullifying the Rumford housing act off the ballot.

Sacramento attorney Nathaniel S. Collier filed a writ of mandamus asking the high court's intervention in the fight over the initiative, instead of removing it to a referendum vote. Collier said the initiative was drafted under duress by Sacramento court judge Irving P. Perlman.

NEGROES CHARGE L.A. AND SOUTHWEST REALTY BOARD WITH CONSPIRACY

LOS ANGELES — The United Civil Rights Committee filed a suit in the superior court Feb. 27 against the Los Angeles Realty Board, charging them with conspiracy to restrict membership of Negroes.

The Negro real estate brokers asked the court to order the Southwest Realty board to admit all qualified Negroes to membership.

The plaintiffs also ask $100,000 punitive damages and money damages for loss of earnings because, they claim, the boards acted maliciously and arbitrarily.

The suit charged that within the Southwest area, there are approximately 600 Caucasian real estate brokers and 100 Negro real estate brokers. Of this number, none is or ever has been a member of Southwest.

The realtors have charged with violation of the United Civil Rights Act, which provides for equal accommodations in all business establishments regardless of race, color or creed and the California Fair Housing Act, which prohibits the establishment of monopoly in restraint of trade.
