BANZAI FOR BONSAI — I never expected to see the day a major publisher like Doubleday & Co. would produce a book on a Japanese art like "bonsai." But here it is, released just this week. It is called "Bonsai for America," subtitled "A practical guide to the creation and care of miniature potted trees." The author is George F. Hull of Atascadero, Tenn.

"Some observers believe," he writes, "that the outstanding public exhibits of bonsai in this country are now tended by larger crowds than their counterparts in Japan, reflecting as they do more not only those interested, but also the many who are serious about an art that seems mysterious and exotic."

Hull cites the huge crowds that have attended bonsai exhibits in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Denver. Then he adds: "In New York, Dr. George S. Avery, Jr., director of the Brooklyn Botanic Garden, has estimated that of the 600,000 visitors to that institution in one year, more than a million viewed the bonsai displays. The Brooklyn Botanic Garden, which has a large and varied collection of bonsai, has brought Japanese experts to that country to give instructions in this art as part of its widespread educational program, and more than 2,000 have 'graduated' from various classes on the subject. In Boston, the Larz Anderson collection at the Arnold Arboretum includes some of the best specimens in the country."

One book editor I know was somewhat disappointed when he opened Mr. Hull's work. After reading the title, he had thought it was a war story, having something to do with Americans and "bonsai." We had to explain it was not an earlier best-seller called "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn," although that's not quite right, either.

JAPANESE JAZZ — While on the subject of culture, and Togawa, the drummer, has just released an album of Japanese and American Favorites." The musicians are the Togawa International Jazz Trio. Togawa is leader of drummer, Joe Sample is at the Hammond organ, and Plummer, string bass. Producer is Taduo Kimura, a native of Hokkaido, who came to the United States in 1956. There are six Japanese tunes and six American. Says Togawa: "Four of the Japanese tunes are done quite melody and two are in a happy jazz vein. Two of the melodies are done with a Latin beat, and I must add, they add to some rather pleasing sounds. There's also a drum solo titled 'Paul's Drums Afire'.

Togawa writes that his album has been well received in Southern California. He's been taking vocal lessons and includes vocals in English, Japanese, Spanish and Filipino in his next album.

SMALL WORLD NOTE — Paul Conrad, the editorial columnist with a burning devotion to liberal causes, left the Denver Post a few weeks ago to take a job with the Los Angeles Times. He and his wife Kay bought a home on the peninsula of Palos Verdes, overlooking the Pacific one side and the city of Los Angeles on the other. They're back to back with one owned by a family named Aiken.

The Quants are close friends of the Ishis, and Mrs. Ishii, the former Amy Uno who was a tomboy somewhat reluctant to accept approaching womanhood the last time I saw her, was longer ago than it is safe to admit. The other Amy's son, Arthur, now an airman in Uncle Sam's air services, dropped by to say howdy.

The point of all this is that the longer one lives, the older the world seems to become.

Membership Challenge

SEATTLE — It is certain that things are not static as they appear, and we should not be disturbed over the local picture. But the real question is, was it the birthplace of the JACL movement back in 1931. According to the front page charts of the PC, the membership drive is surely lagging.

The time element in the preparation of charts perhaps may explain some of the story, and it could be said that things are not static. But the real question is, though they could be much better. The many innovations, changes, and reforms being made in Dr. Terrence Toda's present administration clearly an upward trend in the present day however.

In talking with local leaders, we are told that the goal is membership of 300, perhaps slightly higher than the best previous effort. But this city should have at least 1,000 JACLers on the rolls.

Look at communities like Payson Valley, The Columbia River chapter, including Portland, which so richly deserves its award as the champion of the year. Payson Valley is the first Division One winner.

When communities like Payson Valley can round up 30 percent of the singles, we step up.

With this in mind, we have a great task ahead, to maintain our lead and to catch up to the leeway of individual members. Let us all work hard to develop congenital enthusiasm.

On the cuts are close, uncertain and painful, and will find its greatest progress in the actual participation of a greater number of individuals in the campaign.

Let us estimate, dealing with population and housing problems report 9,351 Japanese in Seattle as of 1960, more than 200,000 Japanese day.

State authorities were equally enthusiastic of the proposal to have foreign language schools voluntary organize to standardize teaching methods and material. Saguiochi.

Financial assistance from either public or private sources to support the plan was also discussed by Regional and state education officials.

A member of 1,000 JACLers should be forthcoming from such a metropolitan community, and in no way should it point out that the percentage is very small. This would provide public school facilities on Saturdays for non-regular students in foreign schools.

Enterprise Dr. Terrence Toda is doing a terrific job in the face of many inherited handicaps.

The proposed association may be allowed to give standard tests to determine student ability.
