TO THE POINT: Shigeki Sugiyama

Inaugural Speech

I mentioned previously the decision of the Portland Convention to adopt a new Constitution and By-Laws, and I should like to make a few remarks about this important development.

The adoption of a new Constitution and By-Laws is an essential step in the process of self-governance. It provides a framework for the effective functioning of the JACL and ensures that the organization operates in accordance with its goals and principles.

In addition, it is important to note that the new Constitution and By-Laws reflect the values and aspirations of our members. They are a reflection of the work and contributions of our members and are based on feedback from various JACL units across the country.

I believe that the adoption of a new Constitution and By-Laws will help us to better serve our members and the broader Latino community. It will provide a solid foundation for our continued growth and success in the years to come.

Finally, I want to express my gratitude to all those who have contributed to the development of the new Constitution and By-Laws. Your efforts and dedication are greatly appreciated.

Thank you.

Shigeki Sugiyama

Inaugural Speech

"..."
Sen. Daniel Inouye
On World Population

PORTLAND, Ore.—Now in chapter 13 of the Senate's budget battle, Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) introduced a resolution this week to set up a special committee to study the world population problem. The Senate approved the Inouye resolution 94-3 by voice vote.

Inouye, chairman of the Senate appropriations subcommittee on foreign operations, said the committee would have a broad range of experts testify on the subject of population control over the coming year. The committee would study the implications of the population explosion around the world, the impact of population growth on the national budget, and the role of the United Nations in the world population problem.

Inouye said the committee would report its findings to the Senate in 1975.

Senator Inouye said the population explosion is one of the greatest challenges facing the world today. He said the committee would study the impact of population growth on the national budget and the role of the United Nations in the world population problem.

The committee would study the implications of the population explosion around the world, the impact of population growth on the national budget, and the role of the United Nations in the world population problem.

Inouye said the committee would report its findings to the Senate in 1975.

Senator Inouye said the population explosion is one of the greatest challenges facing the world today. He said the committee would study the impact of population growth on the national budget and the role of the United Nations in the world population problem.

The committee would study the implications of the population explosion around the world, the impact of population growth on the national budget, and the role of the United Nations in the world population problem.

Inouye said the committee would report its findings to the Senate in 1975.

Senator Inouye said the population explosion is one of the greatest challenges facing the world today. He said the committee would study the impact of population growth on the national budget and the role of the United Nations in the world population problem.
Frying Pan

OUT OF THE ARCHIVES—For the past few months I have spent a considerable amount of time going through the files of the Denver Post, re-reading letters as it was reprinted in an Indian newspaper. Occasionally there are letters on Japanese American culture, which are not very common. One such letter is from a reader who wrote in 1942 about a movie based on a statement by Congresswoman Albert Henry about “the ingenuity, beauty and wisdom” of the Japanese. It was called “The Tethers of the Pacific” and it was not very well received. It was published in The Post of Aug. 9, 1942, in Denver, CO.

“Tethered to the striped umbrella 1942” — by John H. Tharp

Nisei of the Biennium

Capitol biographies of the three heroes for the Japanese American of the Biennial awards, presented at the JACL Convention in January.

GOLD MEDAL

Raymond S. Uno

Dubbed Stockton’s Henry Kissinger, he negotiates return of temple bell

FOR JACL MEMBERSHIP

Citizen requirement hangs on

RETIRED WITH HONOR

CANE resolution draws emotion

BANZAI!}

Thought for the Week

Continued on Next Page

Friday, Aug. 9, 1974 Pacific Citizen—3
Book Review

TRANSLATION OF JAPANESE CLASSICS

MICHELON STORIES

After his recent death, a young and talented Japanese writer, Mr. Takashi, left behind a collection of stories that have been translated into English. These stories are filled with the depths of humanity and the beauty of the Japanese language. The translator, Mr. Inoue, has done a marvelous job in capturing the essence of these stories in English.

SUSAKI RAINDRUM

A story about a young man who is sent to Susaki village to work as a blacksmith. The villagers are friendly and welcoming, and the young man becomes deeply attached to the place and its people. The last chapter of this story is particularly moving and gives a sense of the universal nature of human experience.

ON THE FOOT OF JAPAN

This story is set in a small fishing village on the coast of Japan. It tells the story of a young girl who dreams of becoming a doctor. The challenges she faces in pursuing her dream are both practical and emotional, and she ultimately learns the importance of perseverance and determination.

Both the stories and the translator have been very well-received, and I highly recommend them to anyone interested in Japan and its culture.

---

Sen. Inouye

Aloha from Hawaii

Implement Joint Page 2

Jen (Tokushima) is now in the U.S. Senate. He has been a senator for 18 years and has been a strong advocate for the interests of Hawaii. He has worked hard to ensure that Hawaii's needs are met, and he has been a leader in the fight for a better future for the state.

---

Pacific Citizen

Friday, Aug. 9, 1974

CLASSIFIEDS

---

Resolutions--Continued from Page 3

---

JACJ, Inc., HETW

---

TRANSLATION OF JAPANESE CLASSICS

---

King's Table Restaurant

7310 Rosemead
Pico Rivera, Calif.
949-3901

METRO BIOLOGICAL LAB

P. O. Box 843
Cypress, Calif.
865-5775

---

ATLAS LINOLEUM & SHADE CO.

10811 E. Berendo
Los Angeles, Calif.
721-3594
NEWS CAPSULES

Education
Vide County elementary school students won the following awards in the Great American Pen Pal Program contest: 1st place, Ennis Elementary; 2nd place, Valley Elementary; 3rd place, Greenwood Elementary. The program, sponsored by the National Geographic Society, is designed to encourage students to communicate with students in other countries.

Welfare
Violette Moore, a social worker at the San Francisco Community Action Agency, spoke to a group of Arab American families about the agency's services, which include assistance with housing, employment, and immigration.

Politics
Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) has introduced a bill to establish a National Civil Rights Memorial at the site of the 1963 Birmingham, Ala., civil rights march. The memorial would commemorate the 1963 civil rights movement and its leaders, including Martin Luther King Jr. and John Lewis.

Radio-TV
Barbara Tannen, the first female president of the National Association of Radio-TV Stations, has been appointed to the Federal Communications Commission by President Carter. Tannen, who is also a lawyer, has been a legal advisor to the FCC for 15 years.

Government
San Francisco's mayor, Dianne Feinstein, has announced that the city will contribute $1 million to the National Civil Rights Memorial Fund. The fund, established by the National Association of Civil Rights Organizations, is designed to raise money for the memorial.

Business
Sachiko Hirotsu, a former San Francisco police officer, has been appointed as the city's new police chief. Hirotsu, who has been with the police department for 20 years, was one of several candidates for the position.

Inouye
Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) has been named to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, which oversees the nation's intelligence agencies. Inouye has been a member of the committee since 1979.

Visiting historian
Dr. James Rayburn, a historian at the University of California at Berkeley, will speak at the University of the Pacific in Stockton on April 10. Rayburn's talk, titled "The History of the Pacific West," will focus on the region's history from the 18th century to the present.

Critical language
The new critical language program at the University of the Pacific will offer courses in Spanish, French, and Chinese. The program is designed to prepare students for careers in international business, diplomacy, and government.

JACL-WRO fund drive
The JACL-WRO fund drive has been established to support the work of the JACL-WRO, which is dedicated to promoting Jewish-American culture and history.

---

NEWS CAPSULES

Education
Vide County elementary school students won the following awards in the Great American Pen Pal Program contest: 1st place, Ennis Elementary; 2nd place, Valley Elementary; 3rd place, Greenwood Elementary. The program, sponsored by the National Geographic Society, is designed to encourage students to communicate with students in other countries.

Welfare
Violette Moore, a social worker at the San Francisco Community Action Agency, spoke to a group of Arab American families about the agency's services, which include assistance with housing, employment, and immigration.

Politics
Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) has introduced a bill to establish a National Civil Rights Memorial at the site of the 1963 Birmingham, Ala., civil rights march. The memorial would commemorate the 1963 civil rights movement and its leaders, including Martin Luther King Jr. and John Lewis.

Radio-TV
Barbara Tannen, the first female president of the National Association of Radio-TV Stations, has been appointed to the Federal Communications Commission by President Carter. Tannen, who is also a lawyer, has been a legal advisor to the FCC for 15 years.

Government
San Francisco's mayor, Dianne Feinstein, has announced that the city will contribute $1 million to the National Civil Rights Memorial Fund. The fund, established by the National Association of Civil Rights Organizations, is designed to raise money for the memorial.

Business
Sachiko Hirotsu, a former San Francisco police officer, has been appointed as the city's new police chief. Hirotsu, who has been with the police department for 20 years, was one of several candidates for the position.

Inouye
Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) has been named to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, which oversees the nation's intelligence agencies. Inouye has been a member of the committee since 1979.

Visiting historian
Dr. James Rayburn, a historian at the University of California at Berkeley, will speak at the University of the Pacific in Stockton on April 10. Rayburn's talk, titled "The History of the Pacific West," will focus on the region's history from the 18th century to the present.

Critical language
The new critical language program at the University of the Pacific will offer courses in Spanish, French, and Chinese. The program is designed to prepare students for careers in international business, diplomacy, and government.

JACL-WRO fund drive
The JACL-WRO fund drive has been established to support the work of the JACL-WRO, which is dedicated to promoting Jewish-American culture and history.

---

NEWS CAPSULES

Education
Vide County elementary school students won the following awards in the Great American Pen Pal Program contest: 1st place, Ennis Elementary; 2nd place, Valley Elementary; 3rd place, Greenwood Elementary. The program, sponsored by the National Geographic Society, is designed to encourage students to communicate with students in other countries.

Welfare
Violette Moore, a social worker at the San Francisco Community Action Agency, spoke to a group of Arab American families about the agency's services, which include assistance with housing, employment, and immigration.

Politics
Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) has introduced a bill to establish a National Civil Rights Memorial at the site of the 1963 Birmingham, Ala., civil rights march. The memorial would commemorate the 1963 civil rights movement and its leaders, including Martin Luther King Jr. and John Lewis.

Radio-TV
Barbara Tannen, the first female president of the National Association of Radio-TV Stations, has been appointed to the Federal Communications Commission by President Carter. Tannen, who is also a lawyer, has been a legal advisor to the FCC for 15 years.

Government
San Francisco's mayor, Dianne Feinstein, has announced that the city will contribute $1 million to the National Civil Rights Memorial Fund. The fund, established by the National Association of Civil Rights Organizations, is designed to raise money for the memorial.

Business
Sachiko Hirotsu, a former San Francisco police officer, has been appointed as the city's new police chief. Hirotsu, who has been with the police department for 20 years, was one of several candidates for the position.

Inouye
Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) has been named to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence, which oversees the nation's intelligence agencies. Inouye has been a member of the committee since 1979.

Visiting historian
Dr. James Rayburn, a historian at the University of California at Berkeley, will speak at the University of the Pacific in Stockton on April 10. Rayburn's talk, titled "The History of the Pacific West," will focus on the region's history from the 18th century to the present.

Critical language
The new critical language program at the University of the Pacific will offer courses in Spanish, French, and Chinese. The program is designed to prepare students for careers in international business, diplomacy, and government.

JACL-WRO fund drive
The JACL-WRO fund drive has been established to support the work of the JACL-WRO, which is dedicated to promoting Jewish-American culture and history.