House Judiciary Committee Passes Redress Legislation

WASHINGTON — For the first time, one of the redress bills introduced in Congress has been approved at the committee level and could soon be up for a vote on the House floor.

By a 25-6 vote, the House Judiciary Committee passed H.J. Res. 442 without significant amendment on June 17.

Voting for the bill were:
- Democratic Rep. Brad Sherman (Calif.), Don Edwards (Calif.), John Conyers (Mich.), James Oberstar (Minn.), Peter Stark (Calif.), George Gekas (Pa.), Charles Schumer (N.Y.), Bruce Morrison (Conn.), Edward Feighan (Ohio), Lawrence Smith (Fla.), Howard Berman (Calif.), Frederick Boucher (Va.), Harley Staggers, Don Young (Alaska), Peter Rodino (N.J.), Republicans Hamilton Fish (N.Y.), Henry Hyde (Ill.,) Clay Shaw (Fla.), George Gekas (Pa.), Michael DeWeese (Wash.), William Dannemeyer (Calif.), Patrick Swindall (Ga.), David French (R.I.).

Voting against the bill were:
- Republican Reps. Daniel Lungren (Calif.), F. James Sensenbrenner (Wis.), Bill McCollum (Fla.), Howard Coble (N.C.), Lamar Smith (Texas), Robert Walker (Pa.), Peter Kolter (Ga.), Republicans Hamilton Fish (N.Y.), Henry Hyde (Ill.,) Clay Shaw (Fla.), George Gekas (Pa.), Michael DeWeese (Wash.), William Dannemeyer (Calif.), Patrick Swindall (Ga.), David French (R.I.).

An amendment put forth by Rep. Daniel Lungren (R-Calif.) asked that the portion of the bill authorizing payment of $20,000 to each Japanese American for internment in 1942 be omitted. Lungren, the California district attorney who served on the House Committee on the Judiciary and who noted that the Congress had not been asked to vote on the bill in the 100th Congress, said the amendment would "stop Congress from ever having to vote on such a measure and thereby prevent a future vote on such a bill ever occurring in the future."

The amendment passed by a vote of 10-2, with Rep. Daniel Lungren (R-Calif.) and Rep. James Oberstar (D-Minn.) voting against the amendement, which was defeated.

Redress Still a Goal of Nikkei in Canada

by Karyn K. Lambert

VANCOUVER, British Columbia - "Back to the Future" was the theme of a National Association of Japanese Canadians conference held May 18-19 at the Coast Georgian Hotel.

Japanese Canadians have developed "a strength and confidence" in Ottawa with Minister of Multiculturalism and Internees Lend a Hand to Refugee Students "Back to the Future" was the theme of a National Association of Japanese Canadians conference entitled "Redress: Moving to the Future" held in Ottawa from May 16-17.

"The conference was designed to bring together individuals and organizations who have been affected by the internment of the war years and to work together to promote redress for the injustices of the past," said Prof. Alex P. Karas, director of the centre for study of Canadian Asian relations at York University.

The conference, which was presented by the National Association of Japanese Canadians (NAJC), the Canadian Japanese Canadian Association (CJCA) in Ottawa, and the Canadian Japanese Community Relations Council (CJCRC), featured two keynotes, 30 workshop presentations, and a plenary session.

Senators Speak in Support of S. 1009 Before Subcommittee

WASHINGTON — Redress bill S. 1009 gained the support of three senators Monday as a hearing was held on what is being called a "historic" bill.

Sen. Daniel Inouye (D-Hawaii) discussed a question that he had been playing ball with his grandson.

"I really felt like I was part of a long chain all the way from Hiroshima, holding hands and helping each other," he said.

The scholarships recipients were chosen from among 120 applicants. A total of $400 was presented to:

- Hing M. Chien, Johnson H.S., St. Paul.
- Erio K. Le, Edison H.S., Minneapolis.
- Elizabeth H., Minneapolis Oasis Train.

The bill called for a formal apology to those who were relocated, and that it was dangerous to second-guess the intentions of American officials at the time.

"A price could not be put on personal freedom," he said.

Ex-Internees Send a Hand to Refugee Students

ST. PAUL, Minn. — Continuing a tradition that began when they were interned during WWII, members of the Nisei Student Relocation Compensation Program presented scholarships to St. Paul public schools.

The NSRFC was founded in 1979 by Nisei who were among the 3,000 college-age internees allowed to leave the internment camps after the war and attend schools outside the West Coast through the efforts of the National Student Relocation Council.

Some 45-year-old American to attend M.H'alister College after her release from camp.

"I felt just fine. I feel like I was part of a long chain all the way from Hiroshima, holding hands and helping each other," he said.

Manzanar Reunion Planned

LOS ANGELES - Labor Day weekend has been reserved for the second Manzanar All-Camp Reunion, where former internees of the WRA camp will have an opportunity to see old friends and meet new ones.

The Manzanar Reunion Committee announced that the dinner gala will be held Sept. 5 in the Grand Ballroom of the Westin Bonaventure Hotel. 400 S. Figueroa St. On the following afternoon, an informal get-together will take place from 14 p.m. in the Catalina Room.

Arrangements have been made to display artifacts and photography that participants bring to the gathering. Participants may arrange to donate their property to the Japanese American National Museum and the West.

The first all-camp reunion, held Sept. 1, 1984, attracted a sell-out crowd of almost 1,000 former Manzanar internees.

Race Violence Topic of Forum

SAN FRANCISCO — Justice for Asian Americans: What Can We Do About Race Violence?" is the forum on anti-Asian violence to be held by the Break the Silence Coalition on June 25, 7:30 p.m. at Christ United Presbyterian Church, 1200 Sutter St.

The panel will include Dr. Ron Wakoayashi, JACL national director; the Rev. Wesley Woo, associate for Social Justice and Asian Mission Development for the Presbyterian Church in New York; and Harold Leon of the Detroit-based American Citizens for Justice.

To be discussed are the Vincent Chin case, anti-Asian violence on the East Coast, the role of the church in preventing anti-Asian violence and state and national legislative initiatives relevant to the issue.

Topics to be discussed may have an impact on anti-Asian violence include more accurate, reporting of incidents of racial violence and increasing criminal sanctions against such acts.

The purpose of the forum is "to take a critical look at the Vietnam War and the question, what does this mean and where do we go from here?" said Lindsey Jang, newsletter editor for Break the Silence. The New Area coalition focuses on issues related to anti-Asian violence.

The forum is open to the public. Info: Rachel Shackleman, (415) 992-0001, or Mike Wenz, 825-1247.

Did you miss the 1979-80 Silver Boom? If so, try this...

E n 1979-80, silver rose from 36 to 84 per ounce within a 10 month period. At the present time, silver is now trading at a low of $3 to $10 per ounce. With possible turbulence in the 80’s, make sure to have extra cash on hand for large government deficit and a record number of bank failures, silver appears to be an excellent hedge against inflationary conditions.

With the Gold/Silver ratio at around 50 to 1, silver is by far the better buy.

Underrepresentation of Asians in City's Workforce Alleged

CHICAGO — The Mayor's Advisory Committee on Asian American Affairs, taking into account the conclusions of a report on city hiring by the University's Professor of Ethnic Studies, has nevertheless criticized the city's progress in representation of Asians in the workforce.

The DeVise report alleges that of the 7,200 Asian blacks hired by the city this year, more were White, 20 percent Black, 5 percent Asian, and 1.8 percent Hispanic. The exhibit, however, states that "The concept of affirmative action is another view of the committee's perspective on how to solve the problem of the African American minority group."

"The mayor has demonstrated his interest in our needs by appointing the first Asian American to the City Board of Health and the Public Library Board," said Wong. "We are still seeking our first representatives on the City Board of Education and on the mayor's cabinet. Our advisory committee remains a subcommittee of a larger group, but women and Latinos have separate staffed commissions.

"While Mayor Washington has opened up opportunities for the community, we still have a long way to go."

Congressmen Comment on Bill's Progress

WASHINGTON — Reps. Robert Matsui and Norman Mineta (both D-Calif.) expressed optimism about the prospects for passage of redress legislation after the House Committee approved H.R. 442 on June 17. "This is a historic day for redress legislation," said Matsui. "This is a positive step in our efforts to pass legislation in Congress and a tremendous milestone in our efforts to redress the injustice of the internment." If I am able to predict the future, I will give you the most accurate answer.

Matsui has been active with AUISA for many years and is one of the founding members of the chapter located in Irvine. She has coordinated a case from the speaker and poet on behalf of the founding members of the religious, political, or ethnic background organization concerning human rights in the world.

"Because of my special interest in minority rights, I hope to bring the perspective of the people of color to the AUISA board," said Yamada. "I would like to help AUISA become a more consolidated force by working more with the ethnic minority groups of this country, and in this way, move toward a less violent and more just world."

Yamada will serve on the board for two years. She is a member of a board composed of 24 persons representing a broad cross section of the country.
IF "SEASAME STREET" is an effective method by which to teach little ones the alphabet and sentence structure, I have that the same method—sound, moving (color) pictures, reduced to basic words in books or cassettes—remains tolerably well-suited to instruct adults in foreign languages, customs, and so forth. Including, in particular, white and Japanese children.

If Jane Fonda, et al., can instruct by video on how to stay in good shape, the same method ought to be even more effective in opening up and filling the mind with a language, with a language, by way of a foreign language.

At least, it's less strenuous than English. But the early pages get "cold" and unfamiliar for the listener. In opening up and solving a couple of problems, Asahi, ABC News, NBC News, CBS News, and socialization. Its motto is "European, for 1987:

Cover of a recent edition of Asiam, a lot of that had to do with purely mechanical things. And you'd be up 10 years of experience publishing, changing the dress or the hair. There has been an effect on whether the model comes out looking either too tall or too short. We want to be sexy, not sexist.

We are trying to portray Asian women as being classy and sexy. Kang said he came to the program hoping to hear criticism, since that would tell him that people are at least interested in his publication. "I think the function of a magazine is to entertain and provoke, to make people want to pick it up, to do something else but to sneer at it. Meanwhile, subliminally, they are picking up a lot of very positive images about Asian success."

Political Perspective

Meg Thornton, Los Angeles representative of East Wind magazine, agreed that an Asian market exists and can sustain an ethnic magazine. But to acknowledge past mistakes.

Asiam's sales have been improving steadily, he said, and outlook is very positive. The magazine will be ready for Asian magazines as long as there is quality in production.
