Less than 10 percent of the Asian faculty population is likely to be non-tenured, said Suzuki.

The committee, established in December 1987, completed its report after conducting four public meetings throughout the state. Committee members were charged with enhancing Asian/Pacific Islander communities in California.

The committee recommended that the attorney general:

• Create crime prevention programs which target specific problems within Asian/Pacific Islander communities.
• Develop community/police partnership programs to improve community relations.
• Enhance Asian and Pacific Islander immigrants' understanding of the criminal justice system.

The report asserts that "within many of our schools, racial and ethnic prejudice are an integral part of the social fabric."

The committee recommended that bilingual/bicultural educational programs be introduced among these children in adjusting to their new homeland.

The committee expressed particular concern for "the children of recent immigrants and refugees" who are at some risk in an atmosphere of "racial hostility and intolerance."

According to the report, the children "are on the brink of assimilation and are confronted with unprovoked acts of violence, verbal abuse, and feelings of rejection, isolation, low self-esteem and fear among Asian/Pacific Islander children and adults.

In its report the committee also recommends that law enforcement agencies adopt a policy against "any criminal acts or attempted acts" against individuals who are "causing physical injury, social suffering or property damage." In an effort to move the lame, crucial issue from an "ancient" phase to the status of "official documentation," the report calls on the attorney general to take the next step in the legislative process that would require the agencies to compile such statistics. The strategy the committee is proposing is the following:

Method for Research on Resolution #7 Picked by National Board

By George Johnstone

SAN FRANCISCO — The National Board of the Japanese American Citizens League (JACL) chose a direction for researching a controversial area of JACL history Feb. 4 at its National Board meeting.

The controversy goes back, in part, to the JACL National Convention in August 1987, when the Seattle Chapter submitted a resolution to JACL actions taken during WWII in regard to the West Coast evacuation and subsequent incarceration of Japanese Americans. The resolution did not pass but was instead deferred until more research into the JACL’s role during the internment period. For presentation at the 1991 JACL National Convention at Seattle, the Sept. 1988 National Board meeting, the national staff was directed to prepare different options for the resolution.

The purpose of the presidential select committee will be to examine and report to the JACL National Board, in the fall of 1989, the following:

1. What were the policies and positions taken by the JACL prior to the military and government’s actions relative to the evacuation and internment of Japanese Americans?
2. What actions did the JACL take in response to the JACL’s National Board resolutions on the subject of America’s role in determining the fate of Japanese Americans during World War II, including a resolution calling on the federal government to redress the wrongs of World War II?
3. What impact did the JACL’s actions have upon the Japanese American community?

The specific areas of study are:

1. JACL’s Pre-Evacuation (1941-43) Period
   - The activities and relationship with government agencies prior to Dec. 7, 1941.
   - Response to declarations of war and attack.
   - Response to various military orders, curfews, evacuation orders, etc.

2. JACL’s Internment Period (1942-45)
   - Internment actions by JACL leaders.
   - Internment actions by JACL members.
   - Internment actions by JACL in the West Coast evacuation and subsequent incarceration of Japanese Americans.

3. JACL’s Internment Period
   - JACL’s actions in camp.
   - JACL’s actions in camp.
   - JACL’s actions in camp.

4. JACL’s Post-Evacuation Period
   - JACL’s actions in the Pacific Northwest.
   - JACL’s actions in the Pacific Northwest.
   - JACL’s actions in the Pacific Northwest.

The methodology chosen for addressing the study are:

1. Collection of all available documents, including the following:
   - JACL members’ oral histories, letters, and other personal papers.
   - JACL’s internal and external communications.
   - JACL’s internal and external communications.

2. Conduct archival research of government documents.

3. Conduct research on existing oral history collections for personal experiences of former internees.

4. Conduct research on existing oral history collections for personal experiences of former internees.

5. Conduct research on existing oral history collections for personal experiences of former internees.

The final estimated cost for the study is $3,700. The two options for analysis, findings and recommendations resulting from the study are:

1. Based on the research conducted, the President’s Committee will review the data and then provide findings and recommendations to the National Council, at an estimated cost of $2,650.

2. The second option is to divide the president’s committee into two or three investigative subcommittees. Each investigative subcommittee would require specific findings and recommendations, then convene as a convene of the whole to arrive at a consensus on the findings and recommendations. A third investigative subcommittee would be tasked with compiling the findings and recommendations.

3. The option chosen by the National Board of the Japanese American Citizens League (JACL) for the following questions:

   A. What policies and positions took the JACL prior to the military and government’s actions relative to the evacuation and internment of Japanese Americans?

   B. What actions did the JACL take in response to the JACL’s National Board resolutions on the subject of America’s role in determining the fate of Japanese Americans during World War II, including a resolution calling on the federal government to redress the wrongs of World War II?

   C. What impact did the JACL’s actions have upon the Japanese American community?

   D. What were the policies and positions taken by the JACL prior to the military and government’s actions relative to the evacuation and internment of Japanese Americans?

   E. What impact did the JACL’s actions have upon the Japanese American community?

   F. What impact did the JACL’s actions have upon the Japanese American community?

   G. What impact did the JACL’s actions have upon the Japanese American community?

   H. What impact did the JACL’s actions have upon the Japanese American community?

   I. What impact did the JACL’s actions have upon the Japanese American community?
Three Salinas Mayor

Hibino New Salinas Valley JACL President

By Fred K. Osima

Salinas, Calif. Former mayor of Salinas, Henry Hibino, was sworn in for the third time as president of Salinas Valley JACL at the chapter's annual installation dinner Jan. 31.

Salinas Chief of Police James Corrigan, in a dignified ceremony, officiated the olenmn installation before a crowd of JACL members, dignitaries and civic leaders.

Hibino, who was inducted into the JACL Hall of Fame two years ago, is a third-generation Japanese American.

Hibino has served on the board of directors for Salinas Valley JACL for the last six years. Hibino provided some interesting internal information on the "court-House operation" and in general, recognized the increasing healthy involvement of Nisei and Nisei-Jos, both voluntarily and professionally at the county government level.

Hibino also added, that from an ethnic standpoint, the Japanese American today, truly reflects "Main Stream America" and, that their vibrant thoughts and action typify what this country is all about.

Hibino, before taking over the chief operating post here, served as assistant administrator for Fresno County. The former Salinas, Calif. Nisei started his public service career with the Los Angeles County Department of Health.

SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS-The South Bay JACL Chapter received a $20,000 check from Ischiho Igohomita of Hollywood, Calif., adding to the $10,000 he set aside for a perpetual scholarship fund honoring his late son, Michael Egashira. Two $5200 scholarships are available to South Bay-area Japanese American students for study in California. For information, call Jeannie Tsetsumoto at (213) 329-3465. The deadline is April 1, 1989.

BALTIMORE—Kristi Yamaguchi of Fremont, Calif., finished second in the women’s individual competition and first with partner Rudy Galindo in senior level pairs at the U.S. figure skating championships last week. Yamaguchi, who was second behind Tenreyri Feb. 11, but was the crowd favorite with her dynamic and technically difficult routine. The 4-foot-6½, 82-pound Yamaguchi and her pairs partner, Galindo, finished ahead of 1983 Olympians Natalie and Wayne Seybold Feb. 10. Yamaguchi will represent the U.S.

In both categories next month at the world championships in Paris next month. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Yamaguchi of Fremont, Calif. In the junior girls’ championships, her cousin, Fred Wada, won the junior title Feb. 11, but Yamaguchi was also a finalist at the senior level.

A pattern of discrimination exists. The Supreme Court ignored them and said that past patterns of discrimination cannot be considered as reason for the set-asides, only specific instances of bias, Mineta said.

Cities have limited resources. I know. I was mayor of San Jose. To force cities to meticulously document a widely acknowledged situation is wasteful and unnecessary. It would also create an environment of confrontation and litigation—rather than cooperation, Mineta stressed.

The court is turning a blind eye to traditional patterns of racial discrimination. Justice O’Connor’s reasons for the scarcity of minority firms in contracting—lack of working capital, inability to meet bonding requirements, unfamiliarity with bidding procedures, and also Japan’s junior chamber in 1987. She is the daughter of a Japanese costume jewelry manufacturer in the import-export business in New York. She has lived in the United States since she was 6-month-old.

Mineta Criticizes Supreme Court Decision

WASHINGTON — Rep. Norman Y. Mineta, (D-Calif.) criticized the Supreme Court’s recent decision to strike down Richmond, Virginia’s affirmative action program for minority set-asides for that city’s construction contracting. The decision will severely restrict the ability of cities to remedy age-old patterns of racial discrimination, which are still endemic in some parts of our society,” Mineta said.

Justice Sandra Day O’Connor’s majority opinion in City of Richmond v. J.A. Croson Co. stated that Richmond’s program of granting set-asides for minority-owned firms as a remedy for past societal discrimination was unconstitutional because it was unsupported by specific examples of bias. Richmond city leaders testified that the “affirmative action program”, which provides for the establishment of goals and timetables for the inclusion of minority businesses in city contracts, is a necessary remedy for the long history of discrimination against minority firms in Richmond.

Enlightened Self-Interest

EISENHOWER ON this page, Bill Hosokawa's column laments the persistence with which inaccuracies about the Japanese American experience continue to surface in the public prints. It is a problem with no easy solution in sight.

The frustrating part of the persisting lie is that the truth is available in books and other documents. Fortunately, knowledge about Japanese Americans is accurate. Yet, misconceptions about Japanese-Americans are so firmly imbedded that it takes no courage and carelessness, rather than malice, canards about our record in World War II are repeated over and over again.

What can we do about eliminating these damaging falsehoods and laying them to rest for all time? The only way to combat them is to make the lie too long, tedious process of refining the truth by time and energy that raises its ugly head. Writers and editors do not enjoy being corrected, but we have a responsibility to bring inaccuracies to their attention. This should be done, not in an effort to turn the lie into something that does not have the same sensitivity and fair play. If we don't look after our own interests, who will?
