

#2822 / Vol. 124, No. 10

acific Citizen

National Publication of the Japanese American Citizens League (JACL)

faced a 'third' war $1 postpaid (U.S., Can.) / $1.80 (Japan Air)

INSIDE PAGE 9

Col.Tom Sakamoto: MIS Nisei GIs

May 16-June 5, 1997

PARK-PARTNER CEREMONY-National Park Service Supt. Brian O'Neill stands before Bldg. 640, a hangar facing Crissy Field at the Preside of San Francisco, where the first Misclass studied from November 1941 till the school was moved to Minnesota in June, 1942. See story page 7.

COMMENTARY Political barometer for APAs dinned first week in May

BY BOB SAKANIWA Washington D.C. JACL Re

WASHINGTON-During the first week of May, the Congressional Asian Pacific American Caucus Institute (CAPACI) holds its annual gala dinner here in Washington, D.C. It was a busy work D.C. It was a busy week not only because CAPACI was holding its dinner, legislative conference and briefings but other APA groups were having events as well.

Among them were the Asian Pacific American Heritage Council, Federal Asian Pacific American Council, National Asian Pacific American Bar Association, and the National Conference on Korean American Leadership.

Although all of the events were important to their respective com-munities and well attended, clearly the largest gathering was for the CAPACI dinner where, for the past two years, President Clinton was gracious enough to be the keynote speaker. The CAPACI dinner is an important event for the APA community because it brings in repre-sentatives from APA groups around the nation. National JACL as well as the D.C. Chapter had tables at this event. Former congressman Norman Mineta currently serves as the chair of the CAPACI's board.

In a year that has seen the APA See SAKANIWA/page 7

JACL-PSW supports JANM expansion

LOS ANGELES—JACL Pacific Southwest District Council is sup-porting a $5 million augmentation to the state's Parks and Recreation budget for the Japanese American National Museum and the ampresion National Museum and its expansion project, according to PSW regional director Albert Muratsuchi in a letter to Assembly Budget Committee chair Denise Ducheny. "The appropriation would be consistent with the state's past efforts to support large-scale museum projects including the Discovery Museum ($4 million in 1996-97), Museum of Tolerance/Simon over theorethus budget) acdthal cities the past two budgets) and the Latino Heritage Resource Center ($600,000 in 1995-96),* Muratsuchi pointed out.

JANM, he added, is the only U.S. institution providing a comprehen-sive program of history, culture and reducation on the Japanese Ameri-can experience.

Peruvian Nikkei now feel they're 'no longer foreigners' in Peru

BY HARRY K. HONDA

OS ANGELES-"Without a doubt, President Alberto Fujimori is the most famous Janan descendant in the world This was the opening line by Dr.

As president, Fujimori tamed the hyperinflation rate after he asumed office from 5,600% to 10% this year, according to the Central Bank of Peru, and foreign investments, especially from Japan, have developed the nation economically. The Nikkei identity in Peru has since been transformed, so that Japanese Peruvians "no longer regard themselves as foreigners

Japanese Peruvians have long maintained a low profile while quietly integrating into Spanish cul-ture and Peruvian life, aware of the history of anti-Oriental racism in Peru. Thus, as victims of alienation and regarding themselves as foreigners in their native country, Peruvian Nikkei participation in politics was very limited compared with the Nikkei experience in the United States which began to bloom in the 1950s

The Peruvian Nikkei political picture took form in 1979 when a Nisei, Lima businessman Manuel Kawashita, was elected a delegate to the national Constituent Assembly to ratify a new constitution that restored civilian government. that restored civilian government. Kawashita was among the 225 hostages who were released Dec. 22 from the beleaguered Japanese Ambassador's residence. (A histori-cal note: No less than 22 constitu-tions were passed since Peru pro-mulgated its first in 1823.)

A few Nisei won seats in local elections in the 1980-1983 period. (At least eight Nisei were mayors, Dr. Luis Kobashi writes in his 1980 report on the Nikkei in Peru in the Pacific Citizen.) There were 14 Nisei candidates in the 1985 na-tional elections in the House and Senate but none were successful, but the incoming president, Alan Garcia, appointed several to posi-tions in his government.

en came 1990 when an unknown candidate in a brand new party on a low-budget nation-wide campaign—a political outsider— managed to force the internation ally known author and front-runner from the outset, Mario Vargas Llosa, into a run-off. The latter had polled 28% to Fujimori's 25% in the primaries. While Nisei candidates spoke of ethnic solidarity in their campaigns in the Nikkei commucampaigns in the Nikkel commu-nity, Fujisino ispelled out his goals for Peru, repeating the party slo-gan, "Honesty, Technology and Work," to renew the moral stan-dards of the nation.

With scant support from the With scant support from the Nikkei community, Fujimori won the runoff election with 56% to Vargas Llosa's 35%, a "trouncing," reported a U.S. correspondent. The other ballots were either blank or irregular. Over 4.5 million total s were cast. Several Nisei also won seats to Congress. Fujimor was inaugurated on his 52nd birth day, July 28, Peru's Independence

Day. Fukumoto said the Peruvian Nikkei community initially did not know him well as an educator and university rector. It was feared if his government performed badly, "we would suffer by it." Nisei lead-ers who supported Vargas Llosa also feared fellow Peruvian Nikkei would be targeted by leftist rebels bent on overthrowing a government headed by a Japanese Peru-

See PERU/page 7

JACL applauds passage of Arizona hate crimes bill

PHOENIX—Governor Fife Sy-mington signed into law on April 28 Senate Bill 1047, a bill that he was widely expected to veto and similar to one that he had vetoed last year. where expected to verb and similar to one that he had vetoed last year. The new law gives judges the dis-cretion to impose stiffer criminal sentences where a convicted felon intentionally selected the victim be-cause of the victim's race, color, religion, national origin, sexual ori-entation, gender or disability.

entation, gender or disability. The Japanese American Citizens League applauded the Arizona gov-ernor and state legislature for enact-ing a new law that adds bigotry to a list of aggravating circumstances for criminal sentencing purposes. Ari-zona became the 37th state in the in the nation to enact this type of law to address hate crimes.

This law sends a strong mes-See HATE CRIME/page 11

Mainland ties suspected in graffiti at Oahu cemeteries

HONOLULU—Joint police and FBI task forces collected evidence and analyzed the blood-red spray graffiti which desecrated some 260 grave markers at seven Oahu cem-eteries and 22 walls of the columbarium at the National Memorial Cemetery of the Pacific (the Punchbowl) during the night hours of April 19-20.

Police Capt. Doug Miller Wednesday (April 23) said the in-vestigators believe the vandalism was done by a group of individuals possibly with ties to the Mainland "Differences in handwriting would indicate more than one individual was involved," he felt. And since there were seven sites involved in a short time element, "there may have been more than one person."

Content of the messages, which included racial comments about Hawaii and itspolice, further points to someone who may be from out of state, he said. At Hawaii State Veterans Cemetery in Kaneohe, Gov. Ben Cayetano said as he was leaving a defaced columbarian wall Sunday, "This desecration is the worst I have ever seen. It's outrageous."

The message on the wall read: "My love was greater that your love. Now my hate is greater than your hate. HPD [Honolulu Police Department] ignores hate crime. Let them ignore this too."

The same message on one marble wall at the Punchbowl was signed: "We are Ps.A.R.I.H. (Psychos Against Racism in Hawaii.)"

Police Chief Michael Nakamura promising action, declared vill stick my neck out and say it will be solved eventually." On Wednesday, April 30, federal and local police reported "signifi-cant progress" in their investiga-tions but declined to provide fur-ther details. Rewards for information leading to arrest of vandals climbed past $20,000 by the end of See OAHU/page 6

Census update: the budget angle looms

WASHINGTON-If the Senate Appropriations Committee action—ordering the Census Bureau not to spend money developing statistical sampling tools to increase accuracy SUI vives, "the prohibition on sampling may affect minorities and groups that are traditionally undercounted," said Director Martha Farnsworth Riche of the Census Bureau

The bureau proposes for the 2000 census to use statistical sampling once it had counted 90% of the households in a given area, and then use that data to calculate what the remaining 10% of the households would presumably be like. Meanwhile, two views expressed in USA Today May 1 addressed the pro-posed "multiracial" category. The newspaper was for: "Ameri-cans shouldn't be denied their identity because it is balaida identity because it is kaleido-scopic." John J. Miller of the scopic. John J. Miller of the Center for Equal Opportunity, in an opposing view, said the "multiracial box ... would also increase the poisonous racial-ization of American life."

Youth 'keeping memories alive' at Manzanar pilgrimage

BY CAROLINE AOYAGI

MANZANAR, Calif.-For Honey MANJANANG Cain.—For Honey Wada, this year's 28th annual Manzanar Pilgrimage was an an-niversary of sorts but it wasn't something she had planned. Wada, a resident of New Jersey, Wada, a resident of New Jersey, was visiting relatives in Southern California when she came across a local paper announcing the pilgrimage. Fifty years had passed since she last visited the site where she and her family had been interned during World War II, so she decided to take part.

cided to take part. "I'm amazed at all the people who turned out here," said the 76-year-old Nisei, who saw close to 500 people of all generations and backgrounds at the April 26 pilgrimage

There's no sign of Barrack 17 today, the temporary unit where Wada spent a year of her life. Only a police post and sentry house re-main of the camp that once housed 10,000 JAs, but Wada doesn't mind.

The scenic mountains cradling Manzanar, the snowcapped tips to the west, and the colorful peaks to the east are all she needed to re-member back half a century ago. "We took the situation of where we were and we made the best of it," she said, gazing up at the mountains, thinking back to the bitterly cold winters and searing summer heat of life in the desert.

The land transfer of the Manzanar National Historic Site from the Los Angeles Department of See MANZANAR/page 7

NISEI HONEY WADA (right) and grand-niece Stacey Wada take a break during the 28th annual Manzanar pilgrimage.

ISSN: 0030-8579

Pacific Citizen

ublished semi-monthly except once in December, eriodicals Postage Paid at Monterey Park, CA and additional mailing offices. Sours: Montril, 8:30-59,m. Pacific Time. Tel: (213) 725-0061, (200) 966-6157 Fax: (213) 725-0064, (-mail: paccit@aol.com ras: (13) 72-006. e-mail: pactiteau.con Editor Cinema Manageri: (vacant) Editor memitas: Harn K. Honda Sasistant editor: Caroline Y. Aoyagi Special contributors: Paricia Arra, Allan Beekma Toko Fuji, S. Ruth Y. Hashimoto, Bob Hirata, Ada Honda, Mas Imon, Mike Iseri, Naomi Kashwabara, Bill Sashwag, William Marumoto Esu Masaka, Bill Sashwag, William Marumoto Esu Masaka, Bill Matsumoto, Fred Oshima, Ed Saguro, Cocoge Wakiji Activete Namy K. Honda Photographi: Jem Lew Editorial, news and the opinions expressed b columnists other than the National JACL Presider or National Director do not necessarily reflee JACL policy. We reserve the right to edit article Mews / ad deadline: Friday before date of issue

siness Manager / Advertising: Kerry 5. Ting duction: Margot Brunswick, Brian Tanaka culation Manager: Lani Miyamoto

Groutition Manageri Lain Mynamoto disata Annual subscription rates: IACL MEMBERS 512 of the national dises provide one year on a one-per-household basis NON-MEMBERS: 1 year-530. 2 year-555, 3 year-580, payable in advance. Additional potage per year-foreign U.S 522, first class U.S. Canada, Mexico, U.S 530, Airmail Japan, Turger U.S. Sdo (Subject to Munage without notice i-larger U.S. Sdo (Subject to Munage without notice i-

Competitional Board Hombers: National President, Helen National Board Members: National President, Helen Kawagoe: VP General Operations, Richard Uno. VP Public Affanz, Lon Fujimoto: VP Planning and Development, Cary Mayeda: VP Membership, Raren-tiane Shiba, Scretary/Treasiver, David Hayashi, National Youth Council (Chair, Hirom) Ueba, National Youth Representative, Nicole Inouye; Legal Counsel. Development, Casy Mayeda, VP Membenhip, Karen-Lune Shiba, Severany/Teasurer, David Hayashi, Karen-Lune Shiba, Severany/Teasurer, David Hayashi, Vathan Shiba, Casanel, Meka Vanaka, Distric Governoor: RCWVP, Alan Nithi: CDC, Grace Kinntoi, PSW, David Kawamoto, PWW, Terence Yamada, IDC, Yason Tekut, MCC, Isanne Kumagar, MPDC, Emile Kutsuma, EDC, Thoma's Kalashim, PERC Classical Constraint, DCC, Hona's & Statesing, PERC Classical Constraint, DCC, Northan's Kalashim, PERC Classical Constraint, DCC, Nathan's Kalashim, PERC Classical Constraint, DCC, Paricra L Carper, CCDC, Debotah Keda, PSW, Sam Shindguch, NCMNP, Kimi Yoshun, PSW, Alaro Ovada, DC, Shana Watanabe, MPDC, Dr. Frank Salamoto, MSC, Kelly Wicker JALO, Nathan Jangka Cong, Natosa Lines, San Siji LeG1, elina Ledgacarger, 1765 Suitor, Store, San Siji LeG1, elina Ledgacarger, Chel Lumi, Membenhip Administator, Donna Kubao, Administ Tative Auskan, Dendre Howard, Bockkeeper, Lunice Kanles Kello, Hona, Sati San Gra, Janners 1906 (a) 2035 Store, email provigator Gra, Administ 1907 Store, Bill Store, Store, Store, Chen, Clark, Street, Store, Store, privide Distriction Sugar ■ Midwest District 5415 North Clark Street assistanty Nobi Sugar II Mid r. Bill/Yoshino, 5415 North b. IL 60640; Tel: (312) 728-713 31; e-mail: m@jacl.org ■ North Fax: (312 hicago. 28-7231 Patty Wada 94115, Tel 71, e-mail da/P: 1765 Sutter (415) 921-5 Performance of the second seco Patricia 93721: 6817; eepreser 1001 Connecticut (2021 223-1240) Fax: (2021 296-8082), e-mail (46)(a)(c) mg Pacific Southwest District, Director Albert Muratuchi, 244 S san Pedro Street, 2507 (con Albert Muratuchi, 244 S san Pedro Street, 2507 (con Albert Muratuchi, 244 S san Pedro Street, 2507 (con Albert Muratuchi, 244 S san Pedro Street, 2507 (con Substance), 2502 (con State), 2502 (con State), POSTMASTER: Send address changes to JACL National Headquarters, 1765 Sutter St., San Francisco, CA 94115.

JACL MEMBERS Change of Address

If you have moved, please send information to:

National JACL 1765 Sutter St. San Francisco, CA 94115

Allow 6 weeks for address change

Note: To avoid interruptions of your PC subscription, please notify your postmaster of your change of address (USPS Form 3575) to include periodicals.

adequately and to help

back to a weekly publication! Please se your tax deductible donations to: P.C. SAVE, 7 Cupania Circle, Monterey Park, CA 91755 Clarification: None of the contributions was ever intended to benefit staff personnel.

□ $20 □ $50 □ $100 □ More

Address City/State/ZIP

anks to the generosity of P.C. cartoonist, Pete aka of Dayton JACL, the first 100 who contribute or more to support the Pacific Citizen will re-a signed full-colored lithographed poster, "Issei". The ATTENTION: Details indicated with "NOTES" are usually published with a Calendar enlity at the outset. All —JACL and Community—will be contained on this one page as far as pos-sible. TIME-VALU is in the chief consideration. Fax 213/725-0063 or E-mail: paccit@aol.org.

Eastern

NATIONAL 1998: July 1-5—35th biennial Nat'l JACL Convention, Sheraton Society Hill, Philad NEW Sun. lunche NEW YORK Sun, June 1—'97 Scholarship Awards Junchen, 14 p.m., SamvaFlower Restaurant, 306 E. 39th S., bwn 1 st and 2 Arwe, RSV by May 26, Ron Uba 2019/47-8116, John Akiyama 212-063-9345, Lillan Kimura 201/ 680-1441. NOTE—Paul Neaski, vice-chair, U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, speaker.

Midwest

TRÉ-DISTRICT (EDC-MDC-MPDC) TRÉ-DISTRICT (EDC-MDC-MPDC) Thu-Sun, July 31-Aug, 3—TDC Conference, Radisson Hotel & Sulies, Huron St. nr N. Michigan Ave; info and mail regis. (S115 before 6/30, 5145 atter) to Bill Yoshino, Chi-cago IACL, 5115 N.Clark S., Chicago, IL 60640, 773/728-7170, fax 773/728-7231. NOTE—Reservations 800/333-333 / men-tion IACL: 5124 sgl or dbl per night, 2 night minimum, tax not included. Thu regis J p.m., Open House 7:30-10:30 p.m.; Fix Sat work-shops. Sat. reception, banque; Each district council meets during morning hours Fir & Sat. Tri-District warp-up Sunday 9 am-12 noon. CLEYELAND Sat. May 24—Youth picnic al Strawberry Lane.

CLEVELAND Sat. May 24—Youth picnic at Strawberry Lane, lunch provided; info: Hazel Asamoto, 216/ 921-2976. Cleveland, OH 44120, 216/921-2976. . , 2976. ; Sun. June 22—Scholarship luncheon, Shinano's Japanese Restaurant; info: Hazel Asamoto 216/921-2976.

Asamoto 216/921-2976. ST. LOUIS Fri., July 4—Picnic, Eden Theological Seminary; info: Irma Yokota 314/921-7933.

Intermountain

BI-DISTRICT COUNCIL-Tukwila, Wash July 18-19-Bi-District PNW-In SEABROOK Thu, June 12—Annual SECC meeting, 7 p. m. Upper Deerfield Twinship Municipal Bldg Inu. june 1.4—Other Municipal Bidg. WASHINGTON, D.C. Tue. May 20—APAHC, AAJA. APA Bar Assn talk and book signing by Prof. Mari Matsuda. Georgetown Univ. Law Center, 7 p.m. S. Dillon Ripley Center, 1100 Jefferson Dr Sw. into: Marshall Wong, 202786-2403.

The Rockies

DENVER Thu-Sat. Sept. 11-13—MIS-Rocky Mountain Reunion, Renaissance Hotel, 3801 Quebec St. Info: Kent Yoritomo 303/936-1292, MIS Reunion 1997, PO Box 1319, Denver, CO Reunion 199 80201-1319

Northwest

DRECON Thu-Mon. May 22-26—Asn Film Series NETPACUSC University of Oregon, Eugener-inic: Asn Pac Media Ctr. 213/743-1939. 2000-Aug.11-33—Creater Portland Reunión III, Lloyd Center Red Lion Inn, Voluntiers needed for planning, call Kenne Namba, Reunion chair 503/253-0848. Kurtis Inouye 503/682-3238

503/002-3230. OLYMPIA, Wash. Mon.-Sun. May 26-June 1—Asn Film Series NETPAC/USC, South Puget Sound Community College, Olympia; info: 213/743-1939.

Northern Cal

Tword Cirect Ti Coal DAVIS Through July 15—"Kites: Paper Wings over Japan" schlbit, Davis An Center, 1919 F SL, Info: 916/756–100. EL CERKIO Sat, June 7—Jaurday Night Fever dance, Sycamore Church, 1111 Novellier SL, Ioff Moesel, July 25—UC-Santa Cruz musical doma: "Farewell to Marzanar," 2 jun, Palo Allo Ruddhis Temple hall, 2751 Louis Rd, Palo Ruddhis Temple hall, 2751 Louis Rd, Palo Sakamot 415/493-5508, Hiroko UYoshida 415/328-4202 Hoyd Kumagai 415/856-9682. SACRAMENTO Through Aug, B—TDiamonds in the Rought-eshbit leepandedi, State Captol Museum, 1st. floor rounda. NOTE—Saturday symposiums: May 17, 112 am, "Bridge Across the Pacific, Niel Tours La Japan Prevar and Postwar," Kerry Nakagawa, modr, May 31, 11 am, "Spont Media and the Niel Baseball Experience," Kerry Nakagawa, modr. SaN FEANCISCO Thu, May 22—Asn Law Caucus Welfare / Reform LizeJ Clinic, noon 3 tam. Richmond

Experience," Kerry Nakagawa, modr. SAN FEANCISCO Thu. May 22—Asn Law Caucus. Welfare: Reform Legal Clinic, nono-3 pum, Richmond Police Satian Comm Koom, sithwe a. Scaary Su, into: 415391-1655. NOTE—Anomeys to discuss legal exceptions to Welfare REferom Act and how to deal with Social Security interviews, the appeals process after Augustre General Assittance, Medical, class-action lawsuit and legislation' being proposed in Washington and Sacramento. Sat.-Mom. May 26-26—Annual Ann American Jazz fiestival. Golden Gate Park, info: Asian Art Museum of San Francisco Outreach, 415/ 379-8879. Fri. May 30—Preview: "Cravity. Falls from Trees," Jalay Sung J. Rino (pronounced "nonov") stating Steve Park, B: 30 p.m., Majc Theatre, Fort Mason Center, Bildg D'D; info: 415/440-5545. NOTE—Runs through June 22, Thu-Sat 8:30 p.m., Sun. 2 & 7 p.m.

District Council meeting & conference, Best Western Southcenter, 800/544-9863 (mention "JACL" for special room rates). Info: 206/623-5088.

NAT'L JACL 1000 CLUB rri.-Sun., Oct. 10-13—Fifti Fiftieth anniversa Fri-Sun, Oct. 10-13—Fiftieth anniversary 1000 Club celebration, Cactus Peter's, Jackgot, Nev., info: Hid Hasegawa, Idaho Falls 2008/29-1525. NOTE—Co-hosts: Intermountain District Council; Friday night mixer, Saturday golf, banquet, Sunday getaway breakisat. Airport shuttle-bus service from Salt Lake City, Twin Falls or Boise to Jackpot to be coordinated. 1000

Pacific Northwest

Pacific Northwest BI-DISTRICT COUNCIL-Tukwia, Wash. July 18-19—Bi-District PNV-Intermountain District Council meeting & conference, Sat. workshopstemative: Integrenerational dialogue, Raising bi-racial children, Political empower-ment/involvement; Membership recruitment/ services; Cultural ans/craft. Best Western Southcenter, Tukwila ladjacent Dsea-Tacl. comments and info: 206/623-5068. NOTE— Mention 'JACL' for special room rates, 800/34-Mestion 'JACL' for Special room rates, 800/34-Mestion

NC-WN-Pacific

TRL-DISTRICT Fri-Sun, June 6-8—CCDC hosts: Tri-District PSW/CC/NCVNP Conference, Stardusi Hotel-gaino, Las Vegas; into: Patricia Tsai, CCDC director 209/486-6815, NOTE—Paul Igasaki, Jumncheon speaker; For 174.C Group 697 room reservations 800/634-6575. The Stardust is unable to accept any Saturday arrivals. BERKELEY Davidlan for D. Vachura Losset

BERKELEY Sat. May 31—Decadime for Dr. Yoshiye Togashki Scholarship, $1,000 award, open to college students residing in Contra Costa or Alameda contrained and the Contra Costa or Alameda costitution, applications from Tamiko Nameda 1235 Solano Ave. #5, Albany, CA 94706, 510/ 526-1539, or Immura@uclink4.berkeley.edu. REMONT Mon. May 26—Memorial Day service RENO

RENO Sun. Sept. 21—Fish fry, into: Cynthia Lu, chapter pres. 702/827-6385 Sun. Oct. 19—Hallowe'en potluck. Sun. Nov. 16—Mochtisuki Sun. Dec. 14—Holiday Season potluck. Sun. Jan. 18—Installation / potuck. SACRAMEND Sun. June 1—47th annual JACL Community

Sun, June 1—Nikkei Widowed Group, 2-4.p.m., info: Flave Uyeda Chung, 415/221-0268, Kay Yamamoto S10/444-3911. Through June 28—Lacquer picnic sets from Osaka, 9:30 a.m.5 (Wed-Sun), Asian Art Museum Golden Gate Park, info: 415/379-8801. NOTE—Lune S4.Sept. 28 Tindia: a Celebration.²¹ incommemoration of 50th anniversary of Indian Indemondence in 1997.

in Commemoration 01 Soft anniversary of initian independence in 1997. Sat, July 12 through Oct. 31—Premiere: Nikker Musicmakers Reminiscing in Swing Time, Herbst Exhibition Hall, The Presidio, Main Post; inito: NIAHS, 415/431-5007. NOTE—The NIAHS annual members & board meeting July 16-20.

Community for his contributions. SAN MATEO San, June 1—Discussion Group: "Onnagata, " Kabuki actor Bando Tamasaburo's portrayal of temale roles, 1:30 p.m., home of June Sughara in San Francisco, dinner tollows at local restaurant; info: Tamiko Miyauchi, discussion leader 415/343-2793. Through June 20—JACL Community. Center tickets for Giants vs. Dodgers game June 21,1:05 p.m., available, 415/342-2793. NOTE—Seats in lower reserves section.

ower reserve section.

Southern Cal

GARDENA-MINIDOKA Sun. July 27—Minidoka Camp Reunion, "Sharing Sun, July 27—Minidoka Camp Reunion, "Sharing Memoriars", Luncheon, Sea Empress, Sealood Restauranti, Gardena, RSVP, info.; Betty (vamauchi bendo 213/321-3279, Toshi (Shoji) Ito 909/861-9676, NOTE—Poet Mitsuye (Vasutake) Yamada, authon of Camp Notes (Harmony and Minidoka) and Other Poems,

Sat. Oct. 18—7th annual Japanese American Historical Society of So Calif. community heritage

Historikama-awards dimee. LOS ANCELES Sat. May 170–85. Mary sannual bazaar-carnival, 11 a.m.-8 p.m., 961 S. Mariposa, info: 213/387-- Am Studies Citr-Visual

1334. Sat. May 17—UCLA Asn Am Studies Ctr-Visual Comm Independent Feature workshop, James West Alumni Center, info: 213/680-4462. Wed. May 21—Film premiere: "Visas and Virtue," 7 p.m., Laemmle's Sunset's Theatre, 8000 Sunset

Wed, May 21—Film premiere: "Visas and vinue. 7 p.m., Laemmel's Sunset Sthater, 8000 Sunset Blvd., indo: Cedar Grove Productions, 213/668-1018. NOTE—Five dates: May.24, 25, 26, 31, June 1, 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. Frii-Mon. May 23-26—Japanese American Korean War Memorial Wall dedication and reunion, JACCC; Sat. banquet at Hyatt Regency,

Small kid time

6

1

HEY BATTOR!

Hey BATTER!

HEY BATTER

Picnic, 10 a.m.4 p.m., William Land Park, adjacent to Riverside Blvd. across from Jewish Temple. NOTE—Taiko Dan concert, noon; kiddies; races, adult games, 12:30 p.m., free Bitigo 3 p.m. SAN GABREL VALLEY Mon, July 7—151 annual JACI Scholarship goli Mon, July 7—151 annual JACI Scholarship goli

PACIFIC CITIZEN, MAY 16-JUNE 5, 1997

Pacific Southwest

Pacific Southwest National Jack YouTH Fri-Sun, June 20-22—Nat'l Jack Youth Conference, UC Ivrine; info: Nat'l HQ 415/ 921-5225. Hinomi Ueha 71/4824-7414 day, 559-1353 eve, huueha@uci.edu. NOTE—550 regis (postmarked by May 30, 325 after May 30; commuter package $25: meal, parking and conference lees; Vision Awards Saturday dinner, $25] includes conference, 2 nights say, meals barbecue, workshops, movienight, luncheon, Sat dinner, Rappir' among the Generations, Closing speaker, Warren Furuttani. There is no shuttle service from John Wayne Airport to UCI 2 miles away. TRI-DISTRICT Fri-Sun, June 6-8—CCDC hosts: Tri-District PSW/RC/NC/NC/NPC Conference, Stardus Hotel-Casno, Las Vegas: mice Tartical Tai, CCDC

PSW/CC/NCWNP Conference, Stardust Hotel-Casino, Las Vegas: info: Patricia Tsai, CCDC director. 209486-6815: NOTE—For "JACL Group 697" room reservations 800/634-6757. The Stardust is unable to accept any Satruday

DISTRICT COUNCIL Sun. May 18—2nd Quarterly Session, Willow Street Center, 4101 E. Willow St., Long Beach info: 213/626-4471. NOTE—Greater L.A.

Singles host. ARIZONA 1998: Jan. 5-Feb. 19—Smithsonian Institution's www.ling_exhibit: "A More Perfect Union,"

1998; Jan. 5-Feb. 19—Smithsonant Linearing Traveling exhibit: "A More Perfect Union," Phoenic Public Library. AFAN (kan Pac Am Network) Wed. May 28—Deadline for chapter scholarships to college-bound Asian/Pacific Islander high school graduates; applications/ info: Elaine Kojima 310/473-7094; Eric Kurimura 310/782-9765.

Kurimura 310/782-79765. GREATER L.A. SINGLES Sun. May 18—Hosting 2nd PSWDC sessio Willow Street Center, 4101 E. Willow St., Lor Beach, 310/426-0555.

LAS VEGAS Sun. June 29—22nd annual International Foud Festival teriyaki/sushi booth, 10^{-a}.m.-7 p.m., Cashman Field Exhibit Hall, info: 702/658-

SOUTH BAY/AG Fri. May 16—XAG general meeting. 8 p.m., IANM, 369E.1 st St., Little Tokyol (stetentative): nich: Hotine 31085344570. VENTURA COUNTY Fri. July 4—Ventura Street Fair food booth: goza and shaved ree, SE corner of Figueroa and East Main St. near the park. 7 a.m. setup. sales from 10 a.m.5 p.m.; info: Any chapter board member. Chuck 805/484-0676. Sun. Oct. 5—Cultural Heritage Day.

Sat. June 1—Buddhist Temple benefit bazaar 11. a.m.-5. p.m., 2929. Market St., info: 619, 239-0986. NOTE—Ethnic food, taiko & cultural

Sat. May 3—Fuji Matsuri Festival, 11 a.m.-7 p.m., Oxnard Buddhist Church, 250 S. H St.; info: 805/483-5948

Nev adda LAS VEGAS Through June 1997—"Beyond Gum Sann: a History of the Chinese in Nevada," 9 a.m.-5 daily, Nevada State Museum, 700 Twin Lakes Dr., Lorenzi Park. LAS VEGAS-CILA RIVER Fri-Sun, June 6-8—Fun reunion, 6 p.m. Fnday reception, Sat. 2001 Lawrence To Sat. Las Ver Gaughan's Plaza Hotel; into: Ben Tonooka 310980-537. Chickon Masia, 2161 W 182nd St. #101, Torrance, CA 90505. LAS VEGAS—Reunion VI, Plaza Hotel; into: packet for former internees who have never gitended a previous Reunion, Contact Bacon Sakatani. 210x. Shadylane Aver, West Coyana, CA 91790, B18/386-8310. RNO. Ending April 30—"Strength & Diversity: Japanese American Women" exhibit, Nevada

REND_ Ending April 30—"Strength & Diversity: Japanese American Women" exhibit, Nevada State Library, Carson.

PHOENIX Coming in 1998: Smithsonian's 'A More Perfect Union' travel exhibit, Jan. 5-Feb. 19. Local committee information, info-Amy Williams, Phoenix Public Library, 1221 N. Central Ave., Phoenix, AZ 85004, 602/262-7939.

Thu. May 15-June 26-Smithsonian's 'A More

Thu: May 15-June 26—Smithsonian's 'A More Perfect Union' Lovasca Public Library (level 3), Anchorage. NOTE—7 pm. program speakers. May 20: Ron Inouye. UA Fairbanks, "Impact on Japanese American internment (116 were evacuated firm and talk by Sylvia Kobayashi, Honor Bound; June 3: Discussion on Cuterson's Snow Falling on Cedars, June 11: Film and talk by Mary Io and Michel Thill, producers of Alket Texaculion; June 5 and 12: Brenda Wong Aoki, storyteller.

The correct address in the letter from Mas Hatano (p.9, May 2 P.C.) is: 111 I St.Sacramento, CA 95814-2265.

Gwen Muranaka

Mom

SHE ALWINK

POESITTO

DISTRICT COUNCIL

SOUTH BAY/YAG

venturances. VENTURA COUNTY Sat. May 3—Fuji Mat

Nevada

Arizona

Alaska

CORRECTION

IT'S JUST PEG WEE

Mon

PHOENIX

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY Mon. July 7—1st annual JACL Scholarship golf tournament, Sierra La Verne Country Club; info and scholarship fund donations to: Toshi Ito, 1824 Leaning Pine Dr., Diamond Bar, CA STOCKTON

STOCKTON Sat. May 24—JACL Community picnic, 10 a.m., Micke Grove, Lodi; info: Ruby Dobana 209/957-1801, May Saiki 4655-8107. Edwin Endow 477,6905. NOTE—Turn right-at main gate to the San Joaquin section. WEST VALLEY/ARXT CENERATION

7-8-Vo

Asia San, June 74a-Volleiyallournament, 30 teams on six courts, Foothill College, Los Altos Hills; info:Steve Ade 4082415-749, Iroy Takao 408/482; NOTE-Seconditournament Iollows Aug; 32-24 al San Jose State Through Aug; 10—Ten/week Volleyball League (5)eyb dates; 7-10 p.m., Campbell Community Center; info: Steve Able 408/241-5749, Troy Takao 408/4482, NOTE-Instructions from Coach Ruben Nieves, head coach, Stanford University Meris Team; Tom Shoda, NG volleyball director.

Central California

TRI-DISTRICT TRI-DISTRICT Fi-Sun, June 6-8—CCDC hosts: Tri-District PSW/BC/NCWNP Conference: Them: Betting on the future to build a stronger IACL: Stardust Hotel-Casino, 3000 S. Las Vegas Blvd. Las Vegas; info: Patricia Tsa, CCDC director 209/ 486-6815, Larry Idshimoto 209/627-0422 NOTE —Paul Igasaki, keynote speaker: For "IACL Group 697" room reservations 800/634-6757. The Stardust is unable to accept any entry arrivals.

6757. The Stardust is unable to accept any Sturday artivals. DISTRICT COUNCIL Stat. Jug. 23—CCDC 3rd Quarterly Session Sun. Sept. 7—Shinzen Rum, into: Bobbi Hanada 20(H341-1662. Sat. Oct. 25—CCDC 4rd Quarterly Session Sat. Nov. 8—CCDC installation banquel FRESNO

NO Sun., July 5-6—3rd annual Fresno IACL ichi Baseball Tournament, participants io, Lodi, SantJose, San Fernando Valley Omachi

Sanger LIVING570N-MERCED Sat. July 19—family Fun Night, into CCDC Gov Grace Rimoto 209394-2456 Sat. Nov. 1—Bus trip to Tahoe. Sat. Dec. 6—family Fun Night.

6 p.m., info: Mini Tonai 818/591-1269, Robert Wada 714/992-5461.
Wed. May 28—U.S. premiere of Japanese animations "Anime." 7 - 850 p.m., Electronic Cate International, 1649-18th St., Santa Monica, SKVP Iapan America Society 213/627-6217 - 17. NOTE—In: conjunction with Mixx Publications and Electronic Cate.
Sat. May 31—JANM Book party with Al Sakatan: Molly Fumia/Shoro Thy Children, 1-3 p.m., JANM, 369 E. 1st St., RSVP recommended, 213/627-6414.
Sat. June 7—Nikkei Singles June Mono dance, 1-10 p.m., VEW, 1964 W. 152nd St., Cardena; into: Bea 213/9358648.
Sat. June 7—Nikkei Singles June Mono dance, Cate.
Sat. June 7—Sage United Methodist Church bazati, 11a.m.? p.m., atnew church location: BSOW Hellman Ave., Alhambra 78 Bills west of Atlantic Bird3, into: 818/570-4500.
Through June B—Sahbit. "The Kona Coffee Story, "JANM, 369 E. 1st St., 213/626-0414.
Sat. June 7—Nikkei Sandard Battanic Bird3, June B—Sahbit." The Kona Coffee Story, "JANM, 369 E. 1st St., 213/626-0414.
Weid Hannic B—Sahbit." The Kona Coffee Story, "JANM, 369 E. 1st St., 213/6276-0416.
Sat. June 7—Nikkei Sandaro, 2010, sater/Saberette Youth Basketball Org, "Casino Night", 6:30:11 p.m., Center Gym, 1203 W. Puente Ave., West Covina, inico. 818:912-8908. Sat.-Sun, June 14-15—fathers Day celebration, Japanese Village Plaza, Little Tokyo; info: Kathern Inouye 818/280-4432. Thu. June 19-29—UCLA Film - TV Archives? Pan-Asian Cinema Festival, "Electric Shadows," details TBA, Bing Theatre, La-County Museum of Museum of Art; co-sponsors. Visual Communication. LAFCMA

Fair-Soul Carbinal Excitation Effects and Owner devise TBA. Imp Texture Actions Museum Communication. LACMA approver Visual Communication. LACMA approver Visual Communication. LACMA approximation of the Sun. June 29—PANA Friendship golf tournament 950 am. Los Amigos Golf Course. 7295 Quill Dr., info: Seicho Egiptawa, PANA USA, 431 Crocker St., Los Angeles, CA 90013, 213/626-9458. Thu-Sun. July 24-27—9th PANA Convention at Mexico City, info: Convertion regis fee 5300 (payable to PANA-USA, c/o Emest Hida), US. delegates to stay at Nikko Hotel, details from Emest Hida, American Holdiay Travel, 312 E. 1855. Suite 341, Los Angeles, CA 90012, 213/ 625-2332.

Ist S., Suite 341, Los Angeles, CA 90012, 213/ 625-232. IOS ANGELES-POSTON I Fri-Sun. Oct. 24-26—55th Year camp reunion, Torrance Marriott Hotel: info: Shiz Tanäka-fujimoto 714/540-4969, Mary Kinoshita-Higabi 310/832-6303, Nancy Matsumoto-Matsuda 213/888-992, NOTE-Because many have moved in the past five years, the committee is unable to contact all former residents. ORANCE COUNTY Fri-Mon. May 16-19—Asian Film Series NETPAC/USC, National University, Costa Mesa, info: An Pac Media Cr. 213/743-1939. SAN DIECO SatLMay 10—Union of Pan Asian Communities Magic of Asia⁻ dinner, 6 p.m., Sheraton San Diego, RSVP by May 2, UPAC, Lana Tom 619/ 232-6454.

SWING!

LAME-O!

HA! HA!

By the Board

By RICHARD UNO Re: Committee appointments, Media bashing

anksto P.C.'s "By the Board", for this opportunity to commu-nicate. It is important for na-tional JACL officers to be accessible to the membership. To that end, I and most of the national board will be attending the upcoming Tri-Dis-trict convention (NCWNDC, CCDC and PSWDC) in Vegas, June 6-8. I further plan to attend the PNW-IDC Bi-District in Seattle July 18-19, and the EDC-MDC-MPDC Tri-Dis-trict in Chicago July 31-Aug. 3. The round table discussions give you, as members, an opportunity to hear what's going on with national as well as ask a few questions of your leadership.

On a final note regarding accessi-bility, I plan to travel to Philadelphia binky, iplan to trave to Philadelphia this summer to meet with the con-vention committee. My apologies to Herb Horikawa, Grayce Uyehara and Tom Kometanifornot yet sched-uling such a meeting. I will do so in the near future. I know that you and the convention committee already the convention committee already are hard at work. Ever mindful of the need to in-crease JACL membership, our (Irene and my) son, Richard Joel, was born on May 9.1 believe that the Florin Chapter membership chair, Tommy Kushi, has already mailed an appli-cation for him. All kidding aside, Tommy is really on the ball, bringing on new members for our chapter. As VP of General Operations, 1 have several committees under my have several committees under my "jurisdiction." I have been able to recommend a number of individuals for chairpersonships. After my recommendation, the president, Helen Kawagoe, has the option to accept or reject those recommendations. Those accepted then have to be approved by the National Board. All of my recommendations "passed muster" and are as follows:

Convention Committee: Herb

H ouse Speaker Thomas P. (Tip) O'Neill, Jr., once claim-ed that "all politics is local." Despite the wheeling and dealing that goes on inside the Beltway, congresspersons ultimately respond to their home voters. Many examples of that truth were evident in JACL's

American Redress legislation, HR442, the Civil Liberties Act of HR442, the Civil Liberties Act of 1988. The monumental challenge was to get the support of con-gresspersons across the 50 states, most of which had virtually no Japa-nese Americans much less people that have even heard of the mass that have even heard of the mass incarceration of Japanese Ameri-cans. In fact, 80 percent of the con-gressional members came from states east of the Rocky Mountains, where only 20 percent of the Japa-nese Americans resided. The network of 114 JACL chap-ters unconstraid.

ters was crucial in securing grassroots support across the coun-grassions supple, networking helped get the vote of a key congressperson from West Virginia. Early in the Redress campaign, JACL Legislative Education Com-mittee (LEC) strategist Grant Ujifusa

CAREER OPPORTUNITY

Horikawa, Philadelphia chapter. Nominations Committee: (co-chairs) Kim Nakahara, Washington, D.C. chapter: other co-chair is pending board approval. Credentials Committee: Grace Kimoto, Governor of CCDC, Livingston Merced chapter. Awards & Recognition Committee: Henry Tanaka, past National president, Cleveland chapter. Japanese American of the Bim Committee: chair is pending nni ennium Committee: chair is pending board approval. Resolutions Committee: Andy Hamano, Mile Hi chapter. There are two ad hoc committees Helen Kawagoe authorized and desig-nated the VP/GO to appoint chairs for: Bylaw & Constitution Revisions Committee: chair is pending board approval approval. Chapter Relations Committee: (co-chairs) David Kawamoto, governor, PSWDC, San Diego chapter; other co-

I will, in a future article, talk a little bit about each of these chair persons and announce the other chairs once the National Board has had an opportunity to consider and approve them.

I consulted with the district governors in making these suggestions for committee chairs as I recognize for committee chairs as i recognize that, as a national organization, our key people should reflect the geo-graphic diversity of our group. I am confident that these individuals bring solid credentials to their positions as chair and will act in the best interests of JACL through their hard work and compitment. work and committment good that when I asked people to serve as a chair of a national committee, by and large they stepped forward. A couple of people who declined to serve carefully explained that they had other pressing obligations at work and in the com-munity, i.e. they wanted to serve, but didn't have the time. The point I would like to make is that JACLers and Asian Pacific Americans in general must step for-Amencans in general must step tor-ward and get involved in this organi-zation or in leadership positions in the Asian Community. This is impor-tant for our long-term organizational health as well as the community's well being

All of us recognize the media bashing of Asian Americans (usu-ally tied in with non-U.S. Asians) that has grown out of the alleged wrongful solicitation of campaign do-nations from foreign sources by John Huang. Some quarters say that the climate fostered by these misguided attacks on Asian Americans has had a "chilling effect" on our involvement in electoral politics, from campaign-ing for viable candidates to running for office to seeking appointments. I encourage you to actively par-ticipate in the JACL whether it is at the chapter, district or national level Your involvement in activities and leadership will strengthen our orga-nization which has spoken out against the media bashing of Asian Americans. Each of us should consider becoming active in leadership roles in our communities. This can mean involvement in the campaigns of candidates that are responsive to our concerns, running for school board or serving on a local board or commission.

As JACLers we must be active and cannot be passive in the face of media attacks on Asian American involvement in electoral politics. The last time I checked, these were con-stitutional rights. ■

Richard Uno is National Vice President for General Operations and an attorney, and writes from Sacramento

JACL LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE DELEGATES -Seated (from left): JACL LEADEHSHIP CONFERENCE DELEGATES—Seated (from left): Pathy Wada, Grace Kimoto, Assemblyman Nao Takasugi, Ross Kakinami. Standing—Richard Uno, Mrs. Mike Sawamura, Karen-Liane Shiba, Natsuko Sakai, Lori Fujimoto, Alice Ishigame-Tao, Patricia Tsai, Yoshiaki Kubota, Emily Murase, Al Muratsuchi, Mark Mitani, Herb Yamanishi, Craig Osaki. Photo taken in the State Capitol's Senate Hearing Room.

'Inside' view of state politics seen

BY EMILY MURASE

n Francisco JACL member What does it take to run for political office? Does the money for the California lottery really go to educa-tion? What is the outlook for restoring welfare benefits to legal immints?

These were a few of the dozens of questions we posed to state legisla-tors and policy-makers at the Cali-fornia Legislative Leadership Con-Galifornia-Western Nevada-Pacific District Council on April 20-22. The JACL delegation included representatives from all over the

Alice Ishigame-Tao (APAN/ Alice Isnigame-Tao (APAN/ Selanoco chapter), Ross Kakinami (Fresno chapter), Grace Kimoto (Livingston-Merced chapter and CCDC District governor), Yoshi Kubota (Riverside chapter), Mark Mitani (Watsonville chapter), Randy Okamura (San Jose chapter), Craig

See MURASE/ page 4

BY YOSHIAKI C. KUBOTA

Riverside JACL member Asian Americans represent approximately 10 percent of the popu-lation in California, yet they represent less than 2 percent of the mem-bership of the state legislature. Only two of the 80 Assembly members are Asian, none among the 40 in the state senate. There is a need to increase Asian American representation at the state level. How can Asian Americans, who represent 10 percent of the population, have so little representation at the legislative level?

Between April 20-22, the JACL-NCWNP District sponsored the Califormia Legislative Leadership Con-ference, a three-day crash course in state politics, to introduce JACL members to individual California political leaders and teach them ways to bring influence to the state legislative and administrative process The 14-member JACL delegation

See KUBOTA/ page 4

By the Board BV TOM KOMETANI

The value of networking and Director Grayce Uyehara to-cused lobbying efforts on the mem-bers of the House Subcommittee on Administrative Law and Governmental Relations.

HR442 was stalled in the sub-committee (most bills die in sub-committees) and it was critical to move the bill on to the full committee before a full floor debate and vote could take place

Half of the subcommittee supported the Redress bill. Although, subcommittee member Rep. Harley O. Staggers, Jr., (D-West Virginia) favored the bill, he declined to commit support because he had not heard from his constituents concerning the issue. Grayce asked me, as the Eastern legislative coordinator, to get con-stituent letters to Staggers' office urging support for Redress. Since Americans in West Virginia, we had to look for other connections.

I was a lay member of the New Jersey United Methodist Confer-ence. The Conference, as well as the National United Methodist Organization, had already passed reso-lutions supporting HR442. Bishop

Neil Irons had just been assigned to Neil frons had just been assigned to the New Jersey Conference from the West Virginia Conference and was able to provide names of sev-eral West Virginia clergypersons. After many telephone calls, I per-suaded several members of the elocat to write Dan Change and clergy to write Rep. Staggers and get others to do the same. One of these people was the minister of Harley Staggers' brother in Keyser. Another minister turned out to be a classmate of the Congressman (Who, Bucky? Gosh, I went to high school with him—sure, I'll write him). In a short time, about a dozen letters out to "Blund" and he signed acts got to "Bucky" and he signed onto the bill, which was then reported out to the full Committee. The "Methodist connection" is an example of effective networking. I am continually amazed at the potential influence individual Japanese Americans across the U.S. can ex-ert in their work and home commu-nities. JACL has achieved its legislative goals over the decades by calling on its network of diverse tal-ents and connections to gain the support of other Americans. JACL has worked in concert with other groups and organizations on common issues and concerns. We need to keep that network alive and well... Recognizing the value and ne-cessity of networking, the 1997 EDC/ MDC/MPDC Tri-District Conference in Chicago July 31-August 3 will feature a Networking Workshop con-ducted by Janice "Sam 'Sears of the Southeast JACL Chapter. Sam de-volenced the variables for searced veloped the workshop for personal effectiveness in the business com-munity and has adapted it for volun-

Hunny and has adapted in to vour-teer organizations. I hope many of you will take ad-vantage of this opportunity to sharpen your networking skills.

Tom Kometani, Eastern District Council governor, writes from War-ren. N.J.

Announcing new auto rates & terms

AUTO LOANS

Used cars^{*}: Up to 48 mos. Borrow up to $50,000 auto loan

*100 PERCENT OF HIGH BLUE BOOK *OAC. DOES NOT INCLUDE: TAXES, LICENSE, EXTENDED WARRANTIES, BASED ON 100% OF BLUE BOOK

OTHER LOANS Signature Loans 12.9% or Share Secured 6.5% opr 7 Other Secured 12.5% our

Try our new Telephone Teller 24 hr. 800.498.5225 Local 363.5225

Join the National JACL Credit Union. Call, fax or mail the information below. We will send membership information.

Nome

EGENCIAL STATES CALL STATES AND A STATES AND

Editor/General Manager

CS Pacific Citizen

MURASE

(Continued from page 3)

Osaki (APAN chapter), Natsuko Sakai (APAN chapter), Karen-Liane Shiba (Selanocó chapter), and my-

Shiba (Selanoco chapter), and my-self (San Francisco chapter). We came from diverse back-grounds (social work, farming, law, education, health science, retail, tions) and ages (college-aged to semi-retired). And our opinions were sometimes divided (e.g., on the proper role of government, equity of the criminal justice system, and the economics of labor rights). But our goal was a common one: to under-stand the legislative process and to exchange views with key policymakers on issues important to our community. -In the executive branch, we spoke In the executive branch, we spoke with Assistant Secretary of State Jeff Uyeda about voting rights and statewide elections; Henry Der, Deputy Superintendent for External Affairs at the Department of Education, about strengthening high school curriculum; and Attorney General Dan Lungren about countering hate crimes. Al Lee, Chief Deputy Director of the Employment Development Agency, offered advice on effecting policy change by working coopera with government agencies. A light of the conference was a tively high tour of the state vault with Assistant tour of the state vault with Assistant Treasurer Joseph Yew. We also met with legislators from all over the state. Assemblyman Steve Kuykendall of Long Beach discussed bipartisanship. Senator Patrick Johnston of Stockton talked about school standards: Assembly about school standards; Assembly-man Nao Takasugi of Oxnard shared his experiences as an elected offi-cial; Assemblyman Mike Honda of fered strategies for a successful campaign. Priscilla Ouchida of Senafor Johnston's office took us on a privileged "behind the scenes tour" of the building. Tom Keaney, Chief of Staff to Congressman Robert Matsui, traveled from Washington, D.C., to meet with us after hours to discuss the view from Washington.

In all swer to our questions, As-semblyman Honda offered his ad-vice about what it takes to run for political office: know yourself and develop a wide network including not only Japanese Americans, but a variety of ethnic and community

Variety of entries and services of the service of t

And, according to several mem-bers of the legislature engaged in restoring welfare benefits to legal immigrants, there is reason to be optimistic. Of course, the outcome will be influenced by the degree to which community groups continue to push for legislation to modify pu-nitive welfare reform measures.

What was most impressive about our briefings was the network of smart, talented, and very dedicated Asian Pacific Americans involved in state government: Our session with legislative staffers Jody Fujii of As-semblyman Machado's office and Bill Wong of Assemblyman Honda's office on the "Do's and Don'ts of Lobbying" was one of the most informative

And there is also a strong network of Asian Pacific Americans in the local media, covering the news in and around the state capitol. News producer Stanton Tang of the Sac-ramento NBC news affiliate and local FOX news reporter Lonnie Wong provided insights on how best to engage media for community issues events

It was clear in the wrap-up session that we had emerged from the conference more knowledgeable about the political process and energized to play a role in it—as a future candidate, cabinet member, community advocate or organizer. This was JACL at its very besttraining leaders for the community

A very special thanks to Patty Wada (NCWNP Director), Lori Fujimoto, vice president for Public Affairs, John Hayashi (San Fran-cisco chapter) and Mark Morodomi (Florin chapter) for organizing the activity. And thanks to JACL staff Al Muratsuchi (PSW Director), Patricia Tsai (CCDC Director) Herb Yama

Japanese Phototypesetting

ALOHA PLUMBING

nishi (National Director), and Rick Uno (National Vice President for General Operations) for their leadership during the conference. We · Payment cannot be made unless you have sufficient funds in your account

I f you are a member of JACL and eligible for Medicare, you now have more affordable health care options to choose from. That's because you qualify for the Shield 65 Medicare HMO offered expressly to IACL members.

At an informal meeting in your area, Blue Shield will help answer your questions about health care. Find out exactly what Medicare covers and how Shield 65 can provide you with more than Medicare.

To find out more about a meeting in your area or for more information about Shield 65, please call 1-800-977-8998 or the JACL Group Health Trust office at 1-800-400-6633. If you are not a current JACL member, you may sign up to become one at one of the informational meetings."

®Registered mark of the Blue Shield Association. ©1997 Blag Shield of California A sale, representative will be present with information and applications. Blue Shield of California is an HMO with a Medicare contract. Anyone muth of the Blue Shield As AL ACA are can apply

KUBOTA

(Continued from page 3)

represented a diverse group of Asian Americans hailing from all across California. [Their names are listed in the companion piece by Emily Murase of San Francisco.] We discussed politics and policies with lea-cussed politics and policies with leg-islators, state agency administra-tors and top policy makers. Getting a legislator to pay atten-tion to the Asian American may seem difficult, but it is not impossible. The amicuit, but it is not impossible. The process of influencing the state leg-islative and administrators was out-lined by legislative staffers Jodi Fujii for Michael Machado and Bill Wong for Mike Honda. Tom Keaney, Chief of Staff for Congressman. Matsui, discussed the process at the federal level. The other directed by discussed the process at the rederal level. The staffers discussed how through working relationships with legislators and staff. Once these relationships are established with Asian American activists, then the Asian American community as a whole will benefit from its increased political stature.

The media is another vehicle by New provide units option and policy can be changed. Stanton Tang of NBC News and Lonnie Wong of FOX News provided insight into this pro-cess. The media set the agenda for what issues are deemed to be important on any given day, thus it is essential to get your message un-derstood by those in the media. How is this done? It helps to know someis this done? It helps to know some-one on the inside to have your mes-sage heard; for example, know your local newspaper editor. The ability to have an impact on a policy or law does not end when it is implemented. Once a bill becomes low it must be performed by the or law, it must be enforced by the ex-ecutive branch. The administration is not immune to public pressure or is not immune to public pressure or public concern, It operates with the public in mind. Jeff Uyeda, Assis-tant Secretary of State, spoke about voting rights and statewide elec-tions. Henry Der, Deputy Superin-tendent for External Affairs at the Deardment Echuration discussed Department of Education, discussed affirmative action and education; Jo-seph Yew, Assistant Treasurer, spoke about the Treasurer's office and impact of economic policy; Al Lee, Chief Deputy Director of the Employment Development Agency, gave an overview of its services: and Attorney General Dan Lungren spoke about California's Anti-Hate-Violence Project

The most influencial policy mak-ers are the legislators themselves. The following legislators addressed The following legislators addressed the Conference, Senator Patrick Johnston of Stockton, Assembly-man Steve Kuykendall of Long Beach; Assemblyman Nao Takasugi of Oxnard; and Assemblyman Mike Honda of Santa Clara. Johnston discussed school standards, while Kuykendall spoke on bipartisanism and legislation.

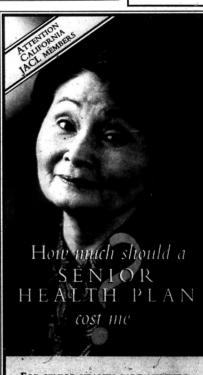

The conference highlight was the meeting with Assemblyman Takasugi and Assemblyman Honda.

Takasugi (R-Oxnard) demon-strated an inherent understanding of how to affect policy at the local and state level. His involvement with politics was accidental. A busines man who became dissatisfied with local government, he understood that the only way to change the system was to get involved. He not only got involved but soon found himself the mayor of Oxnard. Takasugi was so successful as mayor, local community leaders pushed him into the race for Assemly seat. Honda, (D-San Jose) discussed his experiences as a state legisla-tor. His political career began when he was appointed to the San Jose Planning Commission. He was elected to the San Jose school board and then to the Santa Clara County board of supervisors. One of the most dynamic and personable speakers, he explained the key ele-ments of what is necessary to run for office: know yourself; be honest with yourself; cultivate relationships; and work hard at fund-raising. The conference demonstrated that influencing policies, at any level, is not impossible. Simply put: Asian Americans must get involved.

Americans must get involved. The conference was a great suc-cess. Special thanks to Patty Wada, Lori Fujimoto, John Hayashi, Mark Morodomi and Herb Yamanishi for organizing and hosting the Califor-nia Leadership Conference. ■

FOR SENIOR HEALTH CARE ANSWERS, CALL THE JACL GROUP HEALTH TRUST AT 1-800-400-6633 OR OUR HEALTH CARE PARTNER, BLUE SHIELD OF CALIFORNIA, AT 1-800-495-7887, REF. #424.

For Your Information

There are many individuals who have been actively promot-ing the JACL Curriculum and Resource Guide across the country, some since the first publica-tion of the Guide back in 1992, others who have been involved in outreach by making presenta-It outreach by making presenta-tions in classrooms when invited. It is our intention to recognize some of these volunteers and share their stories with the read-ers of the Pacific Citizen. If you In our someone who is, or has been, involved in efforts to reach into the education community and bring the story of the interment into the classroom, we would like you to contact the Pacific Citizen.

HE Education Committee of Washington, D.C. Chapter has accomplished a great deal through exemplary teamwork.

One of those team members was One of those team members was Marilyn Nagano-Schlief. She at-tended the National JACL Educa-tion Workshop over the Memorial Day weekend in 1994 where she first saw the Curriculum and Re-source Guide and participated in the workshoe. workshops, offering many positive comments and suggestions. Upon her return to D.C., she presented the "team" with her enthusiasm and the Guide which resulted in a three pronged program.

The first prong was the oral his-tory interviews of local Issei and Nisei with a focus on the personal impact the interment experience had on them. This was initiated by Leslie Hatamiya while she was in Washington, D.C. Financial support came from many sources including the Eastern District Council and Legacy Fund grants. The second prong was to utilize the latest technologies to share and disseminate information about the information about the Interment camps in the United States. This involved volunteer tech-nical assistance from ToKyo Broad-casting Company and the Educacasting Company and the Educa-tion Committee was able to record eight interviews in addition to the 13 oral histories and two written ones. At present, they are investigating how to develop an educational CD-ROM about the internment.

The Committee worked with stu-dents from Thomas Jefferson Science and Technology Magnet High School. They put together a nine-minute video with excerpts from the many interviews that the Committee had completed and it was screened at the 50th anniversary of the Chapter last year.

An ongoing part of the third prong includes the continued outreach to the local school districts through chapter-sponsored teacher work-shops like those conducted at Montgoméry County School District in Maryland and Arlington Public School District in Virginia. Copies of the JACL Curriculum and Resource The JACL Curriculum and Hesource Guide were provided to the educa-tors attending the workshop. The speakers' bureau, consisting of vol-unteers, respond to requests from local schools, churches, and comnocal schools, charactes, and com-munity organizations to have some-one talk about the intermment and the constitutional violations that occured during World War II against Americans of Japanese ancestry. The Committee continues to work on developing a resource library for use by the volunteers of the speaker's bureau, as well as for educators who are seeking supple-mental material and information about the internment.

With the commitment of each of With the commitment of each of the team members George Wakiji, Betty Wakiji, Clyde Nishimura, Su-san. Higashi-Rumberg, Julia Kuroda, Yuka Fujikura, Fumi Nishi, Mary Oda, Carol Izumi, Mary Toda, and Karen Makkreel, a former Mike Masaoka fellow, briev have come a long way in bringing the interment experience into the classroom. Their stories will serve as a lesson so such an experience will never happen again to any group in the United States. They demonstrate what can be accomplished together and exemplify the best of JACL volunteers,

Okura Mental Health Foundation names 1997 interns

BETHESDA, Md.—Ten appli-cants were selected by the Okura Mental Health Foundation as White House Fellows/Interns for this year, and the Week in Washans year, and the week in wash-ington leadership seminar, held April 20-26. More than 40 appli-cants had applied. The 1997 Felcants had applied. Inc 155, 1ct lows are: Alvin N. Alvarez, Ph.D., senior staff psychologist, Director, Outreach & Con-sultation, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pa. Jacqueline J. Berganio, Program Ana-lyst/Trev. Coordinator Seattle-King Co.; Dept. of Public Health, Div. of Alcohof ism and Substance Abuse Services, Se-withe Weak

ism and Substance Abuse Services, Se-attle, Wash, Karin H. Chao, Psychology Master Program, California State University, Long Beach, Calif. Chetra A Keo, Parent/Community Educator, United Cambodian Commu-nity, Long Beach, Calif. Andrew Y. Kim, Director, Asian Ameri-can Counseling & Learning Center, Chantilly, Va. Jocelyn A. Lui, Manager, Children, Youth and Pamly Program, Asian Coun-seling Referral Serv., Seattle, Wash. Hoang Thanh Nguyen, Data Analyst, University of Texas, Medical Branch at Galveston, Galveston, Texas. Ly Nguyen, Graduate Intern, Ameri-can Psychological Association, Washing-ton, D.C. Marie P. Ting, Program Coordinator, ton, D.C. Marie P. Ting, Program Coordinator, Office of Academic Multicultural Initia-tives, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Mich. Julie C. Yi, Ph.D. Candidate, Columbia University, New York, N.Y.

tion last year as a nonprofit Wyo-ming corporation "to educate the public about the significance of the Serving on an interim board until a permanent board is seated in-clude Foundation president David Reetz, Paul Tsuneishi (Sunland, Calif.), Carolyn K. Takeshita (Den-ver), Barbara Uriu Ralston (Cheyenne, Wyo.), Antonette C. Noble (Cora, Wyo), historian; Advisory Council: Alan K. Simpson, Norman Mineta, Sue Kunitomi Embrey (Manzanar Committee), Lane Ryo Hirabayashi, Ph.D. (University of Colorado-Boulder) and Nancy

Reetz sought to merge two Powell groups interested in preserving the Heart Mountain Camp history: the

H.M. Relocation Center Memorial

ssociation and the H.M. Japa-

Araki (JANM, Los Angeles)

Heart Mountain, Wyo., Foundation

organized, charter members sought

(Excerpts from Washington Post staff writer Phil McCombs' interview with Joseph Ichiuji last Octo-BETHESDA, Md.—"He's just another guy. You'd pass him in the Safeway and never look twice. You wouldn't know he's an American hero nero. "Of ourse, he'd seriously object to any such designation, and prob-ably wouldn't have given me an interview if he'd known I'd call him that. (His name is Joseph Ichiuji and he lives with wife, Susie (or Asako, take your pick), in a nice house up in Bethesda—a perfectly, mild-mannered, soft-voiced retired Agency for International Develop-ment accountant in gray sweats with a Dior logo stamped on the jacket, 77 winters at his back, and pictures of his beloved grandchildren all over the living room." That's how McComb sizes up the Washington, DC JACLer who grew up in Pacific Grove, Calif., where with six children, and then after Pearl Harbor was evacuated with his family and interned in Poston, Arizona

The reporter also remembered his own grandparents lived in San Bernardino during the period and that his grandfather, Elmer McCombs, a Prudential insurance affice manager, had defended a family that was shipped to the camps: "He had risked his stand-ing in the community for writing letters vouching for their loyalty and praising them as exemplary attractors." Here's where the "hero part' in McCombs' story begins. "Joe's family had gone to Poston in August '42, and the following

The 'real' right stuff: the GI Joes in the 442nd Regt.

March he volunteered for military service. ... Joe already had been drafted into the Army and served briefly, only to be kicked out after Pearl Harbor. Now, volunteering, he felt it was 'my choice again to serve my country and show my loyalty because the United States is my home, my country. 'Talk about attitude.

Joe trained with the 522nd Field Joe trained with the 522nd Field Artillery at Camp Shelby, and McCombs then cites the military record and casualty numbers (57%) of the 18,000 men in the 442nd) and the remarks of President Truman when he attached the sev-enth Presidential Unit Citation on the 442nd RCT colors: "I can't tell the 442nd RC1 colors: "I can't tell you how much I appreciate the privilege of being able to show you just how much the United States thinks of what you have done. You fought not only the enemy, butyou fought prejudice, and you won." McCombs adds: "Joe remains typically modest about all this, as real heroes tend to be. Just GI Joe." (Ichiuji was not personally a part of the Presidential review.) Of the 522nd's liberation of the Nazi concentration campat Dachau on April 29, 1945, Joe recalls his battalion was heading toward Munich. "I was in the middle of the convoy and when I went by the entrance it had already been liberated by our advance scouts. The Jewish prisoners were coming out of the gate They were skin and bones. When you think about, it makes you almost cry. "We went around and bivouacked

5

we gave them C rations and K rations. We found later we weren't supposed to do that because the food was too strong for their systems

"It didn't dawn on me until later, and I realized it was sort of ironic that several lof us came from relocation camps, and to run into this type of concentration camp in Germany! Of course, the American version of a camp was just for in-ternment, temporarily, till the war was over; but the Germans were exterminating the Jews." In the fall of 1994, Joe attended a banquet in Broyeres on the 50th anniversary of the town's libera-tion by the 442nd. One of the liberated Dachau prisoners showed up. "I took a picture of him. I also have his number that was assigned to him in Dachau. It was something to see him He hugged me, em-braced me, he was so happy to see us. He was Jewish He thanked us very much.

Again Joe said: "When you think about it, it makes you almost cry."— HKH. ■

*FORT SAMMERS'—Ken Uchida of Ogden, Utah (left), is about to introduce Sam Itaya of Stockton at the FL Sam Houston AJA Veterans Reunion held in Las Vegas April 21-23.

Ft. Sam Houston AJA reunion vets meet, vow to return in '98

LAS VEGAS-The 1996 Ft. Sam Houston AJA Reunion veterans swapped war stories, exchanged swapped with sories, exchanged notes about their recent operations and determined to come back to Vegas next spring. Counting spouses and friends, close to 70 gathered April 21-23 at Fitzgerald's Hotel on Fremont.

Missing his first reunion last year because of a debilitating ill-ness, reunion chair emeritus Ken Uchida of Ogden was warmly welcomed and appreciated the prayers, support and calls. With him were his wife Susan (nee Mukai) and their son, Don, who was born in San Antonio. He "made the day" for the P.C. editor emeritus when he said that he had to come to hear the main speaker. In remarks at the dinner, interim editor Harry K. Honda cov-ered his 50 months in the Army, starting with basic training in Fort Warren, Wyo., in October, 1941, and describing the cordial Japanese community in Cheyenne. Because community in Cheyenne. Because of a connection from a Maryknoll schoolmate who knew Fumi Ota, Honda said, he was privileged through her to meet the Issei and Nisei pioneers of Wyoming. The morning after Pearl Harbor was bombed, Honda recalled, the commanding general at Fort War-ren noted the presence of Ameri-can soldiers with German, Italian and Japanese names in training and Japanese names in training. "We are all Americans, wearing the same uniform and in the same the same uniform and in the same Army to be treated all alike. Any-one thinking otherwise, he warned, would be facing charges. "For me, that was the best news about Pearl Harbor," Honda said.

One of the estimated 3,000 Nisei GIs who served WWII within the 48 States, he spiced his stories with humorous accounts and ob-servations of local Nikkei he met while in Texas, Louisiana, Penn-sylvania and South Carolina, be-ing discharged on Christmas eve

Ing discharged on Christmas eve 1945 in Chicago. Fort Sam Houston, the largest U.S. army post during WWI, has been "home" to two U.S. presidents, Teddy Roosevelt and "Ike" Eisenhower, and General Pershing, who use American Envirthment who was American Expeditionary Force commander in 1917. Ken Uchida is included in that proud company in a 1993 painting of 12 soldiers projecting the "tradition of service." He rose from the rank of master sergeant with the War De-partment Personnel Center to the rank of colonel with service in both the Reserve components and De-partment of the Army Civilian... Tat and Nora Hataye of Berke-ley, and Casey and Yoshie Kasuyama of Los Angeles were singled out for their reunion know-boy and compilement maintain how and commitment, maintaining the classic touches Fort ing the classic toucnes Fort Sammers have come to relish. George and Betty Suzuki of Bellevue, Wash., continue to shoot the reunion photos. Duke Ogawa, who served as L.A. Mayor Tom Bedlevie the temperature for more Who served as L.A. Mayor Tom Bradley's photographer for many years, assisted. Ted Ohira of Gardena not only opened with his favorite 442nd Fight Song but cracked Army-style jokes that added to the reunion spirit.

Vote at the morning breakfast approved the 1998 reunion be held again in Las Vegas. Date and place are to be announced.

POWELL, Wyo.—The Heart Mountain, Wyoming Foundation (HMWF) is conducting its first membership drive since its formanese American Memorial Founda-tion, "but it did not occur, through no one's fault, "he explained. How-ever, the latter group has since dissolved and donated its assets to the Heart Mountain, Wyoming Foundation public about the significance of the historical events surrounding the internment of Japanesé Americans during WWII, and especially the experiences of Japanese Americans who were interned at the Heart Mountain camp near Powell, Wyo." Sonring on an interim bendustil

Reetz added that the HMRCMA under leadership of Mary Black-burn has pledged "to not stand in the way of the formation of the new group," and said "The fine heritage and hard work of the Blackburns over the years have served as an as an inspiration in preserving this im-portant part of history." Membership appeals have been mailed to, over 1,100, including those who attended the 1995 Heart those who attended the 1995 Heart Mountain Symposium at North-west College and past informa-tional events in Powell, and to former internees, said Reetz (307/ 754-3471).

Charter member rates through 1997 are $100 businesses/corpora-tions, $50 families/nonprofits, $25 single, $20 seniors 60+, and $15 students with IDs, attn: Heart Mountain, Wyoming Foundation, P.O. Box 547, Powell, WY 82435. The HMWF annual meeting will be held June 20-21 at Powell. ■

Teachers publish own Asian American histories for classroom

RICHMOND, Calif -In the 1970s the Richmond United School Dis trict organized several Asian American faculty members during the summer of 1972 to start doing some-thing about the dearth in the classrooms of the history of the Chinese-and Japanese-Americans in California.

The teachers strove to fill the gap between specialized academic stud-ies suitable for university students on one end and the short, sporadic and spotty inserts in general read-ers on the other end. The project entailed extensive research and writing for use by elementary and secondary students.

secondary students. Under subpervision of Leland Shimada (Berkeley), Yas Aoki (el-ementary), June Kodani (second-ary), Shirley Wong Easton (el-ementary), Annie Soo (secondary) and Sue Yusa (elementary), histo-nes were produced of their respec-tive othoric for chors tive ethnic communities for class-

The Richmond Unified School District also supplemented the project with workshops for teachers, to facilitate the successful incorporation of the materials into their lesons, In 1992, Chizu liyama and June

Kodani were able to secure support of the school district (now renamed the West Contra Costa Unified School District), for recognition of the (Feb. 19) Day of Remembrance, and the distribution and utilization of and the distribution and dulization of an extensive wartime intermment cur-riculum guide, which the two active Contra Costa JACLers had helped to prepare. School teachers have requested School teachers have requested copies of the guide to serve as a. model for other school districts, Kodani added. Copies are still avail-able through the Contra Costa JACL, P.O. Box 5482, Richmond, CA 94805.—The Rappa, CCJACL Newsletter. ■

New Mexico Nisei named to senior hall of fame

ALBUQUERQUE N.M.-The Senior Foundation, Inc., will induct three seniors for outstanding achievements and contributions, among them S. Ruth Y. Hashimoto, a long time JACLer from prewar Seattle and San Jose and founder of the New Mexico chapter post-war, to the Senior Foundation Hall of Fame at ceremonies to be held June 8 at the Bear Canyon Estates Retirement Resident, 4440 Morris NE. ■

AADAP celebrates 25 years of serving APA community

"I came to AADAP because it was Asian and I felt more comfortable," explained Nakanishi. He could talk about his drug addiction with other Asians who were going through the same thing. "I didn't realize all the issues I had with being Asian," such as the pressure of living up to high expectations and growing up in Fullerton, a mostly White neighborhood, he explained. "But it's important to understand."

Aukanish beneves drug addic-tion is something most Asian Americans still have difficulty dis-cussing openly. "There's a lot of shame involved...for me there was a lot of shame." he added. "But drug addiction has no walls," it offerts oil wittynes and communic affects all cultures and communi-

"Drug addiction affects certain

Nakanishi believes drug addic-

BY CAROLINE AOYAGI

LOS ANGELES—In a span of three decades Masani ("Mas") Fukai has managed to go from scapegoat to hero in the eyes of the Asian American community. In the '60s he was often criticized by community members for bringing the problem of drug abuse among Japanese American youth to the forefront.

But on April 10, Fukai was rec-ognized for his leadership and con-tributions by the Asian American Drug Abuse Program (AADAP), a group he helped found, at its 25th anniversary celebration. Approxi-mately 500 people attended the dinner held at the Inter-Continendinner held at the Inter-Continen-tal Hotel in downtown Los Ange-tes. Haru Yamasaki, a longtime supporter of AADAP and a current board member, was also recognized for her many years of service. "I didn't know I was going to be honored," said 70-year-old Fukai humbly, as well-wishers shook his hand and congratulated him every w minutes. Fukai was Commissioner of the Los Angeles County Narcotics & Dangerous Drugs Commission in 1972 when he used $2,000 of his ADAP. Twenty-five years later, the nonprofit organization continues to offer drug abuse programs specifically for the Asian Pacific Islander communities in Los Angeles.

In addition to their outpatient, inpatient, and prevention units, AADAP offers job training and housing project services. And to better serve the increasingly di-verse Asian Pacific Islander community in the '90s, AADAP has added programs such as the Asian Pacific Youth Project, Indochinese Youth Center, Special Deliveries Perinatal Program, and the East/

West Community Partnership. "When it [AADAP] first started I didn't think they would make it," said Fukai. "But with strong lead-ership they were able to overcome the controversy. Not all parents agreed with what we were doing." agreed with what we were doing. But when 31 Japanese Americans But when 31 Japanese Americans died from drug overdose in 1971, "Jashad to wake up," he explained: The community finally realized that something was needed to fight the drug abuse problem. Fukai, a longtime Gardena Val-ley JACLer, believes education is still the key to combating the drug abuse problem in the Asian Ameri-can community. "Education has to can community. "Education has to be number one. Educate not only the young people but ALL people," he emphasized.

Dean Nakanishi and Mark Manzo have practiced what they preach. A few years ago they were recovering from drug addiction in AADAPs' inpatient program. To-day, Nakanishi and Manzo are day, Nakanishi and Manzo are AADAP staff members, using their AADAP stall memoers, using them experiences to educate the public about drug abuse. As an AADAP job development counsellor, Nakanishi, a Yonsei, helps recovering drug addicts get back into the worksforce. He adback into the workewhere. He ad-mits he doesn't fit the typical im-age of a past drug abuser. "My family life was pretty much fine and I was pretty successful at sports," explained the 28-year-old. But at 18 Nakanishi started us-ing domain and fine the started using drugs and for the next seven years he fought an addiction to cocaine and marijuana. "I would get clean and than have a relapse,' e said. Nakanishi first learned of AADAPin an advertisement played late one night on the radio. A year late one night on the radio. A year into his addiction, he decided to give AADAP's inpatient program a try. He lasted only four months. But he was soon back, and the second time he stuck with it.

MAS FUKAI WITH daughter Janice Fukai, a Deputy Public Defender, at AADAP's 25th anniversary dinner celebration in Los Angeles.

beautiful people

The problem is, some don't have the will to quit ... they don't want to, yet." He said he had the right incentives to quit, he knew he had incentives to quit, he knew he had the potential and he had the sup-port of his family. "I still think we [Asian Ameri-cans] have a way to go," said Nakanishi. "But it's good because we now have a place to go.

Growing up wasn't easy for Mark Manzo, the son of a Japanese American mother and Mexican American father. Now 40, he re-called how the mostly Hispanic kids in his neighborhood would KIGS in his heighborhood would "make fun of my eyes." Though he did well in school, wasathletic and musical, "it wasn't enough for me inside," explained Manzo. He eventually started hanging around a group of mostly White works in the start of the start was start of the start of the start of the start was start of the start of the start of the start start of the start of the start of the start of the start start of the start of White surfers in high school who were into drugs. "It made me feel more whole, but it was a false identity." For the next 20 years Manzo was a drug addict. "When you're party ing, most people grow out of it. I didn't," he explained. "I did drugs in general — nothing specific everything." By 1993 Manzo was finally able to overcome his addiction and now works as the manager of AADAP's works as the manager of AADAP's MTC Construction project. In ad-dition to various construction and remodeling jobs, MTC has done most of the renovations on AADAP's buildings. "AADAP enabled me to find out who I was," said Manzo. "Getting okay with my identity and rein-stating the morals and values I was taught."

In the inpatient program people from a variety of ethnic groups are forced to get along, said Manzo. Once the group was able to start talking about their problems, the patients realized they could relate to one another and their similar experiences, he explained. "If they were longit Varbane inpater Theme experiences, he explained. "If they were lonely, I've been lonely. There was that common link." Manzo still sees a refuctance to discuss the topic of drug abuse in the Asian American community. "A lot of it's the pride," he said. "They don't wanf to believe their family member has a problem." But talking about his past drug.

But talking about his past drug addiction has helped heal some of his old wounds, he explained. Some of the laborers at the MTC Conof the laborers at the MTC Con-struction project are AADAP pa-tients and confide in him as they work. It helps them get through their drug addiction, he said. "But they have to go through it...To give up the pain and agony and move on. They need to come to terms with it and get it on the table. That's the only way to get it resolved.

"But it wasn't always fun...it wasn't always easy," he added. "By far, it was the hardest thing I've done

Come-on sense

viven the recent celebration of the AADAP 25th tion of the AADAP 25th anniversary, it seems fit-ting that one recalls the intrinsic involvement of JACL in the forma-tion of such service delivery sys-tems. There were JACLers everywhere in assisting the formation of this service delivery program to JAs and AAs. It should not be unacknowledged. On Thursday, April 10, the Asian American Drug Abuse Program (AADAP) celebrated its 25th anni-versary. This was a milestone for Asian Americans as a whole and. more specifically, Japanese Ameri cans

As the vernacular press printed "... there was a time, when ... programs for Asian and Pacific Is-lander communities did not exist." Now, after 25 years, a direct ser-vice program facilitated by JAs is commemorating its silver anniver-

The issue was an ugly one. Youth deaths from drugs. Haji and its deaths from drugs. Haji and its associated descriptive terminolo-gies were deeply set in stone. Drug overdoses were "taboo" among AJAs and many of us would have nothing to do with it; or so we hoped. Youthful deaths were at-tistuated "engline unit" and we hoped. Youthful deaths were an tributed to "cardiac arrest" not drug tributed to "cardiac arrest" not drug abuse; thus more acceptable, and the family tragedy was kept within a very small circle. Then things exploded. In 1971, there were 31 JA over-dose deaths in L.A. alone. The situdose deaths in LA alone. The situ-ation became so large that cos-tumes for ostriches were in short supply—manyofuskept*ourhëads in the sand." But, no one really knew what to do. On one hand there was pressure to do some-thing, but the alternatives were too vacue to understand. On the too vague to understand. On the other hand, the solutions required that a quiet community admit that it needed help beyond itself. This was new territory; this was some-thing that "...just wasn't done." Somehow, a service program was Somehow, a service program was designed, developed and imple-mented. AADAP was formed and provided an acceptable alternative for Japanese Americans, and Asian-Americans as a whole. The Asian-Americans as a whole. The horror stories about its formation and those that opposed it are si-lently inscribed in the memory of but a knowledgeable few; and right-fully so. The AADAP story is part of this 25th anniversary celebra-tion.

Yet, there is another story that has yet to be told. The story is about what JACLers did to contribute to the solution. This is an "untold story," yet it is a journey into the inner workings of the League that were inherent to the vice to Asian Americans. It is a matter of fact, that JACL resources were instrumental in bringing were instrumental in bringing many of the service programs to the forefront. JACL people were everywhere, and while not always wearing the "JACL hat" their contributions were. The AADAP program marches on after 25 years, and now begins to explore new options and fuller visions. AADAP, as a comprehensive pro-gram, looks for self-sufficiency and independence. It now expands its wings and files into territory that is apart from its traditional line of is apart from its traditional line of direct patient care. It is the AADAP legacy that provides its basic foun-dation to survive, and drives its energy forward.

For 25 years, AADAP filled a critical void in the health service safety-net for Asian Americans. It did this without fanfare or a string of trumpets. It performed its mis-sion skillfully, promptly and cost-effectively. It deserves the commit-effectively. It deserves the commit-ment of community support. SIDEBAR: The East Los Ange-les-based program "Go For Broke" was one of the early nodes for the development of AADAP. GFB's logo was the Daruna. The création of the program warranted the first eye

eye. Now, after 25 years, it's time to paint in the other eye. Come-on sense: It isn't as im-portant that AADAP was one of the first, rather it's important that AADAP remains one of the best JACL should look to formalize its support for this critical public service and those others that it supported in years past.

Karl K. Nobuyuki is a co-founder of AADAP

Seattle to open home for elderly Asians

SEATTLE—"Village Square," a blace Asian elders can call home in Seattle's International District (at the southeastern corner of 8th Av-enue South and So. Dearborn St.), is scheduled for completion late this year, according to project di-rector Wendy Watanabe. The $19.5-million housing and

veloped by the Seattle Chinatown International District Preservation and Development Authority. Village Square will have 75 apartments, spaces for the Asian Counseling and Referral Service, an employment opportunities cen-ter, multicultural child care, Head Start.clinic and community health services. The project hopes the 5,000 square feet for retail space will be occupied by a restaurant.

No-bid Treasury Dept. contract for Frank Sato under Senate probe

WASHINGTON—Allegations that Treasury Department Inspec-tor General Valerie Lau arranged to award a no-bid contract to a longtime acquaintance came un der the scrutiny of Sen. Charles E. Grassley (R-Iowa), chairman of the Judiciary Committee's subcommittee on administrative oversight and the courts, the Washington Post reported April 24.

Lau was seeking a speedy review of her office in order to con-duct a department-wide audit. The Post was told by a Treasury official who asked not to be identified that the contract for the review was awarded on merit to Frank S. Sato in December 1994. A Treasury De-partment spokesman said the $113,000 contract was approved, and eventually $90,776 was paid

OAHU

(Continued from page 1) the month.

As investigators continued their analysis, maintenance crews and volunteers began removing the red spray paint. Over 700 had signed up, after seeing the news on TV, to help at the Punchbowl where many WWII Nisei soldiers from the 100th/442nd are buried.

The park manager said crews ere able to erase most of the graffiti, as the red paint was easily removed from the granite head-stenes, but not the soft rubber-based paint on some memorials.

At the Punchbowl on April 21, while graffiti clean-up was under-While granitic clean-up was under-way, a 21-gun salute echoed across the grassy plains for Masaji "Shadow" Kurozumi, 81, who served for 37 years as president of the Service chapter of the 442 Club. Near the gazebo where the Rev. Calvin Takara of Kaimuki Chris-tian Church was leading the acro tian Church was leading the were dozens of structures hit vices were dozene of structures hit by the vandals. The words "Hawaii is phony" marked the entrance to the columbarian. Inside were ob-scenities splashed across bronze to Sato & Associates. Sato had served as inspector gen-eral with the Veterans Administration and Transportation Depart-ments during the 1980s.

on the review team was at least one other former inspector gen-eral, who hea investigated the Reagan-era scandals at the De-partment of Housing and Urban Development. On the review team was at least

Development. According to the Post, Sato had urged a White House official that Lau be considered for inspector general jobs at the Treasury, the Transportation Department, or the Office of Personnel Management. Grassley'explained that no-bid contracts "are usually reserved for matters of 'unusual and compelling urgency.' This contract clearly was neither..."—EM ■ plaques honoring the dead. As fellow 442nd veterans ex-pressed their anger and outrage, one adding bachi - something bad isgoing to happen to the vandals — Rev. Takara said after the service, We're in a different kind of war today ... in a war of values and ideology. We fave to be vigilant in this war as those people were in World War II and World War I."

At Honolulu Memorial Park across the Pali Highway from the Punchbowl, the ohaka of about 60

Punchbowl, the ohaka of about 60 Buddhist families were splashed with obscene messages. On Sun-day, April 20, Wilfred Sumida, 57, was there visiting his parents" grave to observe the seventh anni-versary of his mother's death. As he tried to rub off the graffiti, he told the Honolulu Advertiser reporter on the scene, "It's coming off, but I'm still mad. It actually hits the whole family." He was us-ing Simple Green. household cleaner, but a faint impression of ing Simple Green household cleaner, but a faint impression of the red lettering remained. The memorial park serves Bud-dhist families, some of whom brought remains from Japan and Okinawa dating to the 1800s so entire families could be inurned together. — AB

PACIFIC CITIZEN, MAY 16-JUNE 5, 1997

To paint in the other eye

By KARL NOBUYUKI

types of people," he said. "I see drug addicts as more sensitive. They take things to a different level," he explained. "They are very courageous people ... sensitive

National Park Service with NJAHS assures unfolding of Nisei MIS saga BY HARRY K. HONDA

PRESIDIO OF SAN FRAN-CISCO—Long wrapped in govern-ment secrecy, the accomplishments CISCO-Long wrapped in govern-ment secrecy, the accomplishments of Japanese Americans during WWII fighting the enemy Japa-nese has acquired a permanent exponent through facilities of the National Parl Service/Golden Gate National Recreation Area and ef-forts of the National Japanese American Historical Society (NJAHS). This partnership wascel-ebrated.May 4 at Crissy Field Build-ing 640, the hangar where the Army established the Military Intelli-gence Service (MIS) Language School in November, 1941. Its first class was graduated May 7, 1942. Park perintendent Brian O'Neill and retired Santa Clara County superior court judge, Taketsugu Takei, co-chaired the pre-noon program under a bright pre-noon program under a bright sun and breezes that bathed the Presidio, which the National Park Service added to its Golden Gate National Recreation Area in October, 1994. Approximately 400 at-tended the open-air festivities; 260 were accommodated at the luncheon that followed at the historic Officers' Club

Adding a human touch to Bldg. 640, an abandoned WWI-vintage hangar housing three classrooms, a small office and quarters for 60 students and four Nisei instruc-tors, Col. Thomas T. Sakamoto (ret.) of San Jose, a member of the (ret.) of San Jose, a memoer of the first class, introduced instructors who taught at Crissy, Shigeya Kihara (Monterey) and Dr. Toshio Tsukahira (Los Angeles) and fel-low classmates, Gene Uratsu, Gary Kadani, and Steve Yamamoto.

In the five-minute speeches of the day, Sakamoto, current NJAHS president, focused on the first MIS president, focused on the first MIS class and his wartime experiences. Sansei attorney iDon Tamaki, a lead attorney in the Coram Nobis Team, provided a deeper under-standing to the significance of Ex-ecutive Order 9066 and what was going on in 1942 in the Japanese American community on the West American community on the West Coast. It was recalled the Evacuation orders were designed at 4th

Army headquarters at the Presidio. A plaintiff in the Coram Nobis case, Fred Korematsu, and his wife Catherine were introduced. He, Minoru Yasui and Gordon Hirabayashi had appealed to have their wartime cases overturned and were unsuccessful except for their individual conviction

A highlight of the Park-Partner Ceremony was the belated U.S. Army recognition, in the name of the President of the United States, of seven MIS combat linguists who were decorated. The Legion of Merit of seven MIS combat linguists who were decorated. The Legion of Merit "for exceptionally meritorious ser-vice" was awarded to Yoshikazu Yamada, Masaru Ariyasu, Rusty Kimura, Shigeru Yamashita, and posthumously to George (Yama-shiro) Sankey of North Hollywood and Harold Fudenna of Fremont. The Bronze Star Medal with "V" for Valor (signifying a second for Valor (signifying a second award) was awarded to Roy Matsumoto of Berkeley, a member of Merrill's Marauders who fought in Burma. Inducted into the Ranger Hall of Fame at Fort Benning, Ga., in 1993, he won the Legion of Merit and the Bronze Star for his death-and the Bronze Star for nis dealn-defying actions. Sankey and Yamada had trans-lated at ATIS (Allied Translator and Interpeter Section) with three Caucasian MIS officers Operation "Z," a document retrieved by Fili-pino fishermen from a Japanese plane that had crashed in a storm plane that had crashed in a storm off the southern Philippines. Op-eration "Z" was Japan's naval counter-attack strategy in the Cen-tral Pacific, and its knowledge by all U.S. naval flag officers enabled the U.S. carrier fleet in June, 1944, to strike a devastating blow upon the Japanese fleet and their air force force

Masaru Ariyasu achievements behind the lines at Guadacanal in August, 1942, decoding and translating enemy documents and Shigeru Yamashita's exceptional accomplishments providing ground commanders accurate and timely front-line intelligence. The award for Rusty Kimura cited his work with the Australian forces. Harold Fudenna was told he would be held responsible for the accuracy of his translation of the accuracy of his translation of the radio message he had intercepted in New Guinea, which specified the exact time of arrival of Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto, commanderin-chief of the combined Japanese iu-chief of the combined Japanese fleets. Only recognition he received were words of appreciation from the Fifth Air Force for his part in the successful mission of P-38s ambushing and shooting down Yamamoto's plane on April 18, 1943, which resulted in his death. General MacArthur deemed this was "one of the most significant actions in the Pacific War" was "one of the most significant actions in the Pacific War." Closing the outdoor event was Tamary Hedani read a page found in the Bancroft Library of a child at Topaz WRA Center school yearn-ing tog back to San Francisco. The drums of the San Francisco Taiko Dojo and presentation of colors by the Golden Gate Nisei VFW Memorial Post 9879 opened the program. Dr. Harry H.L. Kitano, UCLA professor emeritus of social work, was keynote speaker for the luncheon.

Civic dignitaries present in-cluded San Francisco Mayor Willie Brown, State Assemblyman Nao Takasugi (who read a message from Governor Pete Wilson), Assembly-woman Carole Migden, Assembly-man Kevin Shelley; San Francisco man nevin Sheiley; San Francisco supervisors Michael Yaki and Leland Yee, U.S. Attorney for Northern California Michael Yamasaki, and former California Supreme Court chief justice Rose Bird

Among Nikkei personalities in-troduced were JACL National President Helen Kawagoe, Sue Kunitomi Embrey of the Manzanar Committee, San Francisco Fire Commissioner Steve Nakajo, Yaye Commissioner Steve Nakajo, Jave (Furutani) Herman, a WAC gradu-ate from MISLS, Allen Okamoto, president, JCCCNC; Marvin Uratsu, Harry Fukuhara, MISLS Norcal; George Kanegai, Jim Mi-ta, MISClubofSo.Cal; and Minoru Tonoi IACCc provident

Tonai, JACCC president. At the Presidio's Visitor Center, the 45-minute film, "Fifty Years of Silence," relating the MIS story was also being shown. ■

"But it makes a difference when you visithere. It brings it all home." Aki Maehara, director of Asian Pacific Student Services at Loyola Marymount, has been bringing stu-dents to the Manzanar Pilgrimage every year for five years now. "It's very important to pass down the legacy and history," he said. "To bring them here to feel the experience

A few years ago the Manzanar Historical Site was hit with bad Historical Site was hit with bad weather. The Kyodai students got a true feel for what it was like to live with blinding sandstorms and the desert heat, said Maehara. "They couldn't imagine having to stay out here for three years," he said. "Ithelped to raise their awareess and consciousness." Cal State Fullerton's Japanese Student Association was just re-cently formed, but group members made it a point to drive the four and one-half hours from Orange County to make the pilgrimage "We're appreciative of and grateful to the generations before us that had to go through the hardships, said club vice president Brian Ikeda. "We've had an easier life and we appreciate what they went through for our benefit."

Sue Embrey, chair of the Man-zanar Committee, the L.A. based non-profit educational organization, said she's not surprised by the large turnout of young people. Youth have been coming out regularly to the annual pilgrimage, she ariy to the annual pup, names, and explained. "I'm tired, but I'm relieved," said Embrey towards the end of the day. "It took a lot of work to get to this point." The Committee had been campaigning since 1994 to get the Manzanar Historical Site transferred to the federal government and finally saw their efforts pay off. "We had people working behind the scenes," she added. "Things people didn't see that made

T.

SAKANIWA ontinued from page 1)

community under particularly intense scrutiny because of the campaign finance scandal, many community inance scandal, many community leaders were in town not only to show solidarity with other APA groups during this very trying time but also get as much information from collegenee no excellent from colleagues as possible and to see what the atmosphere was really like here in the nation's capital. The CAPACI dinner was an especially telling barometer of how the APA community is being per-ceived by the nation's leaders.

Noting that for the past two years the president of the United States had spoken at this event, the APA community was hoping to get some kind of sign that the current campaign finance scandal was not tainting the entire community with suspicic

Obviously, the president was not going to be able to show up, since he was in Mexico for an important summit meeting. However, to send another important official be it the vice president or a cabinet member would have sent a very welcome would have sent a very welcome message to the community. In the end the best that the White House could offer was a very important aide at the sub-cabinet level. CAPACI rightly chose to pass at that offer and with no Republican from the leadership ranks on Cardid Hill the leadership ranks on Capitol Hil accepting, the dinner committee de-cided on having no keynote speaker this year (although there were two guest speakers). In the view of many in the APA in the view of many in the APA community, a very important oppor-tunity was missed by the White House and Republican leaders on the Hill. Any elected official showing up at the dinner would have been implicitly making the statement, " support your community and under stand that the alleged wrong doing of a few, who happen to be mem-bers of your community, in no way reflects on the important contributions your community provides to our system of democracy." I understand that there are schedules and commitments that politi-cians have that are made months in

PERU

(Continued from page 1)

Professor Yuji Ichioka, re-American Studies Center, intro-duced Fukumoto as "born, raised and educated a Peruana." She has read papers on the Peruvian Nikkei at Pan American Nikkei Association (PANA) conferences since the mid-80s and has just published her book (in Spanish), Hacia Un Nuevo Sol, about the Japanese and their descendants in Peru. With a doctorate from the University of Texas, Austin, the cultural anthro-pologist teaches at the Catholic Pontifical University in Lima.

Her topic was "more timely than anticipated," being presented at UCLA a week after all the 72 hostages were rescued from the Japanese Ambassa-dor's residence. Ichioka said the UCLA Asian American Studies Center had invited her as a visiting scholar, un-der auspices of the Japanese Ameri-

the adspices of the Japanese Ameri-cans Studies Chair, months before the hostage crisis began Dec. 17. Besides adding her personal bit as a party-goer when the rebels, stormed the residence and being released hours later with all the women and the elderly, Fukumoto

this possible."

"This is a very happy day for me," said Rose Ochi, Assistant Attorney General, Director of Com-munity Relations, and a member of the Federal Manzanar National Historic Site Advisory Commission from Washington, D.C. "It's unfor-tunate, but if you talk to the average American they have no knowl-edge that the federal government deprived 120,000, mostly citizens, of their liberty and property," she said. "The memorialization of the internment experience is in portant," she added. "But at the same time, only in America can there be not only an acknowledgement of a past, injustice, but the creation of a monument for future generations."

advance. However, all those scheduling details are weighted by such factors as the importance and impact that any one meeting or event may have for that politician.

7

I also understand that it is difficult for those who are not familiar with the APA community to fail in distin-guishing between foreign Asians and Asian Pacific Americans (and I permanent residents), but when the nation's political leaders begin appearing as if they cannot make these distinctions, this should be a matter of concern for us all.

There was an event during There was an event during CAPACI's legislative conference that gave me some hope for the future. There was a workshop at the end of a very long day of meetings at which 60 people attended to discuss the need and possibilities of forming some sort of alliance/coalition/umbrella/council of APA groups so that there would be a more unified APA voice and to be the coordinate a plan of action for the very diverse APA community. Norm Mineta opened the session by describing why the community needs to be thinking about this type of endeavor.

There is no doubt that to form anything that is to last more than for the duration of the current crisis much planning is needed. The pur-pose and goals must be agreed upon, the structure must be worked out, obstacles must be identified and overcome; and finally, commit-ments have to be made to make it a reality. On top of all of this, we are talking about dealing with organiza-tions that have their own boards and procedures with which to contend procedures with which to contend. Ultimately though, regardless of the scope, structure or even pur-pose of this, as of yet, undefined entity we are trying to develop, there is one thing that is clear: there is a need for the APA community to make policy makers sit up and listen to our community's concern and to get their community's concern and to get their attention we, as a group, need a higher profile. If we had more political stature as a community one thing would be certain — getting a key-note speaker for a major dinner would not be an issue.n

opened her presentation with a review of the Japanese social and political climate in Peru, a topic of her first lecture, "The Nikkei in Peru: a New Culture and Identity." Her public lecture on the Nikkei

Her public lecture on the Nikkei in Peru Saturday (May 3) at the Maryknoll Japanese Catholic Čen-ter was co-sponsored by the Peru-vian Nikkei Association of Southern California and UCLA Asian American Studies Center. She completed her California stay with lec-tures in Berkeley and in San Francisco Japantown, with the Japa-nese Peruvian Oral History Project ect nese Peruvian Ural History Project and the JCCCCNC as co-sponsors. Asked about the time when President Fujimori shut down the Congress in August 1992 to fight corruption and drug trafficking, she said the Peruvians accepted it she said the reruvians accepted it because "Congress wasn't doing anything and it was a good thing anyway." There is a popular ex-pression you hear today in Peru, "We're still poor, but it's better than before," Dr. Fukumoto rethan before, Dr. Fukumoto re-marked. "And President Fujimori is better than before, too," as re-flected in the opinion poll after the hostage crisis ended April 22. Ambassor Morihisa Aoki, well-liked in the Japanese Peruvian liked in the Japanese Peruvian community, was an outgoing per-sonality, very concerned about their welfare. The evening of the day when he and the hostages were rescued turned out to be a celebra-tion of joy in the Japanese commu-

tion of joy in the variance. During the hostage crisis, Peru-vian Nikkei were reassessing their own standing in the overall com-munity, she observed. Some felt the raid upon the Japanese Ambassador's compound would from the Japanese community-Ambassador's compound would affect the Japanese community-at-large. On the other hand, the unwavering stand of President Fujimori to hold the jailed terror-ists was widely supported. A by-product of the hostage cri-sis was the presence of interme.

sis was the presence of interna-tional journalists who reported on the Peruvian Nikkei in Lima, where there is no Japantown, but found a close-knit community of 80,000 people.

MANZANAR (Continued from page 1) Water and Power to the U.S. Na-

Water and Power to the U.S. Na-tional Park Service was celebrated at this year's pilgrimage. Deputy Secretary of the Interior John Garamendi and Harry Sizemore, an executive with the LA.D.W.P., made the historic transfer official. This year was also the 55th anni-versary of the signing of Executive Order 9066 and the fifth anniver-sary of the Historic Site designation.

Representatives from L.A. Representatives from L.A. Mayor Richard Riordan's office, Councilwoman Ruth Galanter's office, National Park Service and Bureau of Land Management wit-nessed the handover. The National Coelities for Dedered Parating Coalition for Redress/Reparations, JACL, and Campaign for Justice were also present. Entertainment featured performances by artist Jude Narita and Jishin Daiko of Cal State Northridge's Nikkei Student Association.

Wada was 21 when she, her parents, and two younger brothers were uprooted from their home in Glendale and brought to Manzanar. After a year she left the camp to attend the University of Maryland and has lived on the East Coast since then. This was the first time Wada has seen the white cemetery monu-ment with the kanji characters in brush, "Ireito" ("In memory of") that stands at Manzanar today. "I think it's good to have a memorial here...for the Issei who struggled," she said. "We need to have some-thing to memorialize their lives."

thing to memorialize their lives." A former secretary in Manzan-ar's education department, Wada says she feels no anger, no bitter-ness today ábout her internment. "My recollections are of happy memories," she said. "Happy mem-ories of the people I met here."

But what the U.S. government did to the JAs, mostly American citizens, "was an act of indigna-tion," said Wada. "They deprived citizens of their rights." And she sees an eerie similarity in the back-lash against legal immigrants in America today. The JA internment America today. Ine JA internment experience "needs to be publicized more," said Wada. "To say this shouldn't happen again. to make sure that acts of discrimination against all minority groups never organ."

occur Wada's great-niece, Stacey Toda 19, is a veteran of the pilgrimage, having visited so many times she's having visited so many times she's lost count. Now a history major at UC San Diege, she made the trip with her great-aunt to research a project she's working on. The theme for this year's pil-grimage, "Bridging Generations: Keeping Memories Alive," empha-sized the important role young people play in duracting the public people play in educating the public of the JA internment experience.

But "a lot of young people don't know the story," said Toda. "I don't think they're interested in the ex-perience." Since the third grade, perience." Since the third grade, she has made an effort to learn more about her family's intern-ment at Manzanar, but her JA ment at Manzanar, but her JA friends have shown ne'interest in learning about the camps, she said. But a lack of young people was not a problem at this year's pil-grimage! JA student groups came out for the event including Loyola Marymount University, Cal State Northridge and Cal State Fuller. Northridge and Cal State Fuller-

Libby Trietsch is a 19-ye r-old sociology major at Loyola Mary-mount and came with Kyodai, a JA student group at the university. This was the second pilgrimage for Trietsch, who's half German and half French Canadian. "I think a lot of students know because of the history classes they take," she said of the JA internment during WWII.

Opinion

From the Frying Pan

Very truly yours

BY HARRY K. HONDA More on Perú

S INCE President Fujimori's win in the Hostage Crisis, our free hours have been immersed in re-reading the surge newspaper clippings from onetime P.C. pard member George Wakiji in Alexan-dria, Va., and digesting them for print. Though the type is small, there of not was no way a fortnightly could accommodate so much in a timely fashion. We said in 1990 that his inauguration as president of Peru was "the biggest and most historic Nisei news story of the century." So a number of us from story of the century. "So a number of us from Southern California were credentialed to cover the event in Lima, Peri. And at UCLA the first week of May, visiting scholar Dr. Mary Fukumoto from Peru called him "the most famous Japanese descendant in the world." The voters' mandate to ćarry on indicates that-56% in the June 1990 run-off and a 64% landslide (the biggest in Peru's history) at the primaries in April, 1995. How the eminent British financial weekly, The Economist, (April 26), phrases the Fujimori's victory in Peru lends an interna-tional line that's unlike the Latin American tional line that's unlike the Latin American look from the U.S. sphere. To wit:

look from the U.S. sphere. To wit: VIOLENCE pays. The world's underground move-ments have proved that repeatedly in the past 50 years ... They are not to complain when governments respond with violence-and more of it. That is the short answer to the criticism already being heard of the sudden assault that ended Peru's four-month-old hostage af-fair. President Fujimori did not rush in to violence. It was the Tupae Amaru guerrillas who did that-not for the first time-when they invaded the Japanese ambasador's residence in December. [We missed that story] ... What (Peru's) or (Fujimori's) faults, or those of its army or courds-it has a president recently re-elected Still the government was ready to talk the talked, and talked, and talked. It was ready to law the guerrillas set passage to asylum in CUba. It was they.

talked, and talked, and talked. It was ready to allow the guerrillas safe passage to asylum in Cluba. It was they, not the government, who blocked that way out. So, in the end-but only then-Mr. Fujimori ordered an armed assault. In it, all the hostage-takers were killed, including some ready to surrender. In a better world that would not have happened. But it did, and in the reai one it is hypocrisy to shed many tears: the guerrillas took to the sword and they perished by it. The Brearenied Chuba and they perished by it.

The Economist further notes the chal-The Economist further notes the chal-lenge now "for those in elected power and (though it is less often remarked) for those who champion the poor: how to improve social conditions without reverting to the old ways of dealing with them ... If they ex-pected free-market ideas to bring instant miracles, they know better now. What they do not know is the answer-how to handle the transition to a better life." Nor does the magazine, though its final comment Bears a hint. looking ahead.

magazine, though its final comment bears a hint, looking ahead. "... Its hotably Amerindian [after all, Peru is a part of America] poor would still remain a century behind the modern world, espe-cially in their children's schooling. Presi-dent Fujimori has met one challenge; huge ones still lie ahead, for him and his succes-

Intersection of the analysis of the accounts "before and after" of the LA. riots. They were frank and true, dwelling on the Korean resurgence "before" and the re-building the ruins "after." The riots made the city's Koreans visible and their determi-nation seems to have reaped rewards. The Economist concludes: "Now that the old black-lewish alliance that used to run Los Angeles has withered away, the time may be ripe for the enterprising Koreans to come forward." A great challenge, if there ever was one, for a community of Asian Ameri-cans in the Southland. cans in the Southland.

Those who've visited London may want the connection this magazine provides-through the public library. A single copy is priced at $4.95.■

Except for the National Director's Re-

* Except for the National Director's Report, news and the "Views" expressed by columnists do not necessarily reflect JACL policy. The columns are the personal opinion of the writers.
* "Voices" reflect the active, public discussion within JACL of a wide range of ideas and issues, requiring clear presentation though they may not reflect the Pacific Citizen.
* "Short expressions" on public discusses.

Pacific Gitizen. * "Short expressions" on public issues, usually one or two paragraphs, should include signature, address and daytime phone number. Because of space limita-tions, letters are subject to abridgement. Atthough we are unable to print all the letters we receive, we appreciate the in-terest and views of those who take the time to send us their comments.

By BILL HOSOKAWA

hould the word "Jap" be included in the monument that the National Japa-nese American Memorial Foundation

nese American Memorial Foundation is building in Washington, D.C.? That was the question discussed long and not without heat at the recent quarterly meeting of the Foundation's board of direc-tors in Chicago. No consensus was reached. So I am asking readers of this column to express your opinions to help the board decide.

This is the background. Congress has pro-vided a very desirable site, not far from the U.S. Capitol, for a monument with three purposes: To commemorate the faith and patriotism of Japanese Americans during World War II, to honor the nation for admitting it erred in imprisoning them on the basis of race and vowing never to make the same mistake, and to remind all of democracy's imperfections and the constant democracy's imperfections and the constant vigilance necessary to make it work. To get this done, the monument needs to provide historical background. Viewershave to be told something of the temper of the times and what people in authority were saying at the outbreak of war about the danger to the nation posed by Japanese Americans. It is proposed to do this on the monument by quoting some inflammatory remarks based on prejudice or ignorance. One proposed paragraph is as follows: "Using an offensive racist epithet, Gen-eral DeWitt told Congress: 'A dap is a Jap. There is no way to determine their loyalty.

. It makes no difference whether he is an American citizen; theoretically he is still a Japanese, and you can't change him by giv-ing him a piece of paper..." Some members of the Foundation Board find the word "Jap" so offensive that they object to it being preserved for posterity in the marble of the Monument no matter who is being quoted. Its presence, they contend, would revive it, perpetuate it, even legiti-mize it even though the word is described as mize it even though the word is described as "an offensive racist epithet" or some similar explanation. They just don't want the word on the Monument. Some express concern that seeing the word will encourage its use. Others contend that since DeWitt was the principal advocate of Evacuation he should be quoted accurately without pulling punches. They point out that many persons puncies: I ney point out that many persons who use the word today use it as an innocent contraction for Japanese the way Swede is used as a contraction for Swedish or Brit for British, that they mean no offense, and that it would be educational to state clearly on the "Monument that "Jap" is an "offensive racist epithet" or words to that effect. One word he point the dismute new did het.

can citizen etc

Can citizen, etc. This would eliminate the five words that have divided the Foundation's directors. It would also cause some Monument visitors to become very curious about what words were so terribly offensive that they couldn't be mentioned, the way forbidden profanity or obscenities tantalize children.

Japanese Americans find the word offen-Japanese Americans find the word often-sive because of its historical context. It was used by the racists and hate-mongers dur-ing the years of anti-Japanese agitation and is regarded by Japanese Americans the same way Afro-Americans regard "nigger." But now the issue is whether it ought to be expunged because it is distasteful, or etched into marble as part of the stark historical record

Undoubtedly this issue will stir the general Japanese American public as it has members of the Foundation Board. What do you think?

The National Japanese American Memorial Foundation invites your comments. Its address is 2445 M Street N.W., Suite 250, Washington, D.C. 20037.

And when you write, please enclose a generous contribution, it's tax-deductible and you'll get an acknowledgment. The Memo-rial is a worthy project that will cost a lot of money and they have only a couple of years to raise millions. to raise millions.

Hosokawa is the former editorial page editor for the Denver Post. His columns have ap-peared regularly since June 1942 in the Pacific Citizen.

East wind

S BEEN SAID that in the vital wartime task of translating Japanese mili-tary documents in the battlefields of the Pacific War, the contributions of Kibei men.

Pacific War, the contributions of Kibei men, invariably more facile than the Nisei in the Japanese language, was critically all-im-portant. While Nisei linguists' contributions were legion, when the chips were down, and major battle decisions hinged on the preci-sion and fullness of the Japanese-to-English translation of captured Japanese military documents, the translating team which in-cluded a Kibei provided that reassuring edge of confidence. That the Kibei, who were at times viewed with reservation if not out-right suspicion, played such a critical role is yet another irony of the World War II period. But what is a Kibei?

IN THIS COLUMN, I once defined a

Who, what is a Kibei?

By BILL MARUTANI

turning to America."

I THEN THOUGHT I'd take a look at an THEN THOUGHT I'd take a look at an English dictionary to see, if perchance, the term "Kibei" appeared therein. Random House Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, 1995 ed., p. 743 contained the following: "Kibei, a person of Japanese descent born in North America buteducated mainly in Japan. Com-pare Issei, Nisei, Sansei [≿ Japan]." "North America" may be an accurate geographic point of reference: Canadian neigh-bors include Nisei who returned to Canada bors include Nisei who returned to Canada after studying in Japan. But the "bei" (America) part would not apply to those Canadians of Japanese ancestry. So while the prefix may be "Ki," the suffix has to be something other than "bei." In Nihongo, "Canada" is written in katakana as "ka-na-de."

Furthermore, there are Nikkei residing in Furthermore, there are Nikkei residing in South America (Brazil, Peru, etc.) many of whom received some of their schooling in Nippon. In Nihongo 'South America' is 'Nan-bei' (literally "south" and "America'). So what do they call their counterparts of our Kibei?

I HAULED OUT a 1974 edition of Webster's New Twentieth Century Dictio-nary (Unabridged) to check if perchance the word "Kibei" appeared therein. Right smack at page 1,000 appeared the following: "[Ja-pan] a native American citizen born of Japa-nese parents but educated largely in Japan; distinguished from issei, nisei." While a 1974 edition may be old, I buy that definition as being appropriate.

OTHER THAN the Kibei possessing a far greater mastery of Nihongo, do they differ from the Nisei? I've not heard the differ from the Nisei? I've not heard the Kibei's response to this query, and not very many from Nisei. Meanwhile I've, held a tentative opinion on the subject which goes something like this: Kibei seem better as-sured in their views than Nisei who tend to be equivocal. This I ascribe to the Kibei having been raised during his formative (schooling) years in a milieu where his race need not be defended, whereas the contem-portary Nisei prew up in a culture where porary Nisei grew up in a culture where one's race was constantly targeted, in small and big ways. Such was bound to stunt full potential while promoting reticent postures. Of course, there are exceptions on both sides, it.

After leaving the bench, Marutani resumed practicing law in Philadelphia. He writes regularly for the Pacific Citizen.

including some glaring ones Well, right or wrong, that's the way I see

Letters

Redress for railroaders: My father was denied

This is written in behalf of my father, Kinsaku Inouye, who lived to the age of 97. He worked for the Southern Pacific for 25 exemplary years and was fired on Feb. 18, 1942, for being Japanese. (A copy of a Confidential Mailgram, dated Feb. 19, 1942, referring to a Feb. 17 letter to Mr. A. Mercier, listing 39 Japanese workers being removed from service is enclosed.) He was enied his redress from the ORA who declared losses are not within the definition of suffered losses as result of actions taken by or on behalf of the U.S. government. When the head of household of a family of seven (1) loses his source of income, (2) has his home and personal property searched/seized by generating and the searched/seized by generating and the searched seized property, (4) has imposed by the government a9 p.m. curfew and (5) is subject to community hostility how much greater can a loss be? Further quoting: "ORA was un-able to locate any definitive government documents to support the of employment as a result of leral Government action re-Federal specting the evacuation, relocation spectang the evacuation, relocation or intermnent program solely on the basis of Japanese ancestry." I have in possession copies of correspondences between (a) the railroad administrators to the FBI providing a list of Japanese (citi-zen/alien) employees and restrict-ing their travel; (b) Office of Miliing their travel, (b) office of Mini-tary Intelligence to the railroad stating that suspicious individuals should be reported to the FBI; and (c) railroad administrators to J. Edgar Hoover (FBI director) stat-ing that "We are removing Japamese from assignments where they might be made the victims of sabo-tage committed by others." The letters succinctly informed the FBI of the railroad companies' concern regarding Japanese employees. It is inconceivable how 39 railroad workers of Japanese ancestry employed by Southern Pacific Rail-road from the western states can be dismissed in the span of six days without some directive from the Federal government (italics for

Federal government (italics for emphasis). If the U.S. government was pro-cessing 120,000 Japanese to con-centration camps, logic would sug-gest that the Federal Government would have no qualms about dis-missing 39 railroad workers from their jobs with the Southern Pa-cific Railroad in the name of na-tional security. Under the circum-stances of the times the presence stances of the times, the presence of racial prejudice, war hysteria, failure of political leadership and the creation of military zonin various cites, decisions needed to be made quickly by all U.S. government age encies

Not all directives are n ily written correspondence. A simple verbal directive from the U.S. Government would have eas-ily initiated the removal of Japae railroad workers.

DRA needs to revealuate their guidelines in processing claims. Sometimes common sense may be the only and the strongest reason-ing in making just decisions.

Mitzie Yamamoto

San Pablo, Calif.

ADDENDUM: The confidential ADDENDUM: The confidential mailgram lists by Division, the Names (Alien or Citizen), Loca-tion, and date (all Feb. 18, 1942, except one person) and time of Re-moval from Service, as follows: STORES DEFT.-Geo. Yamashita (alien), and Hayaji Oda, (citizen), West Onkland 3 n.m.

STORES DEL 1-Galen), and Hayaji Oda (citizen), West Oakland, 3 p.m. SACTOSHOPS—Tomozolshii (a), Bob M. Hayashido (c), Sacramento, 4:30 p.m. WESTERN—Kiyoshi Kotoku (c), West Oakland; James Tsujimoto (c), Harry Kašku (c), Kenneth Sawada (c), George Masumiya (c), Ichiljiro Kaneyuki (a), Sadlaljiro Kato (a), F. Tsujimoto (a), all Tracy, 6 p.m.

Voice of a Sansei

matter

SACRAMENTO (all aliens)—Kigo Y. Hirano, Biggs, 5:45 p.m.; Waichi Wata-mura, 4:40 p.m., Matsuo Kashili wabara (och Yolo), 6:30 p.m.; Tetsuji Munekawa, Nelson, 6:25 p.m.; Tokusuke Oshiro, Rosele, 4:15 p.m. SHASTA—Kaichi Maekawa (a), Dunsville uir, 11 a.m. PORTLAND—Takeshi Fujisaka (c), eaverton, 10 a.m., 2/19/42. COAST (all aliens)—Moichiro Sano, dna 5p.m.; Seiji Nakanishi, S.L. Obispo, B P.

COAST (all altens)—MOIGHTO DAINO, Edna, 5 pm. "Seiji Nakanishi, S.L. Obispo, 4:15 pm." SALT LAKE (all aliens except one)— Soto Kaneko, Ogden, noon; Takutaro Yagi, Corinne, 3 pm.; Tetaudo Fujita, Lucin, 6 p.m.; Cohohachi Fujita, Valley Pass, 2 pm.; Kenichi Ogasawara, Battle Min., noon; Takuji Okamoto, Kay Yoshiti Sune, Mas Nakamura (of Likely), 4 p.m.; Unosuke Fujita, Yoshida Takida; Katsudo Kawaguchi, Heshiro Oda, Sataro Kimsliro Itakura, Kinsaku Inouye (both Carlin, Nev.), noon; Koichi Kozuma (c), Sparka, 4 p.m. Sparks, 4 p.m.

There were no Japanese employ-ees on the San Joaquin, Tucson or Rio Grande Divisions. In connec-tion with Los Angeles Division, a report covering two part-time Commissary Department employees there as well as the four in that department at West Oakland was furnished previously to Mercier. The signature on the report reads: "J.H. Dyer."

We were denied

My father was a Union Pacific railroader and we were all origi-nally denied redress. While the nally denied redress. While the "Redress plea made for Japanese American railroaders" by Michi Weglyn (Feb. 21-March 6) is not clear as to the action being taken, our family is wondering if we should take individual action or wait to see what decision the Office of Re ss Administration mak I know this is a complicated

Lucitle Agemuna

Chicago

© By AKEMI KAYLENG The first good Nisei man

sian girls need/want Whitementoguidethem Awhite men to guide them because Asians aren't good enough" Myoutmarriage to a mainstream Anglo has been the source of head-

Anglo has been the source of head-aches for me. No, we aren't divorc-ing. We've been happily together forovertwentyyears. It's this White Man/Asian Woman perceptions based on annoying stereotypes. Let's set the record straight. My first real hero was indeed a White, guy, and he was my hero because my Asian family truly wasn't good guy, and the was my nero because my Asian family,truly wasn't good enough. But the full story will alter the stereotypical conclusions some of you may have jumped to. Tve read numerous articles about what fair skinned African Ameri-man hum and afficient to simple cans have endured from their own Their internalized racis people see them as White. Now if the fair skinned Black were really White fear of the White race and the con-skinned Black were really White, fear of the White race and the con-sequences of attacking a White person would have kept things under control. But the light com-plexioned Black isn't really White. He's White enough to be safe. The poor Black gets it in his face. I understand. I was a real anomaly in my childbood commu-nity, for I spoke like a Caucasian. And that was just the start of things. My body language and so cial style and general psycholog-ical patterns were all White. Keep in mind, all this was going on over thirty years ago in a family of long decreased Issei. I was the White Devil. They cringed and cowered in my presence, blew up in explosiona. of terrifying rage, acted inferior and embarrassed, or were fawning and trying toget my approval. They were putting me through hell, the way the ghetto turns on the pale Black.

Somewhere during this period, I encountered the man who saved me. His name was Atticus Finch, the lawyer in Harper Lee's novel, To Kill A Mockingbird. Like me, he was unpopular. He was not the norm, in the same way I was differ-ent. By defending a Black man accused of raping a White woman, he was endorsing Blacks. By speak-ing English without a Japanes-accent, I was endorsing Whites. We both had endorsed the enemy. Somewhere during this period, I

We both had endorsed the enemy. Iwatched the town turn on Atticus, and I saw myself in him. My com-munity was turning on me. Young as I was, I sensed some-thing strange was going on which had nothing to do with me. My family said I felt superior to them, ashamed of them, and so forth. I ashamed of them, and so forth. I was puzzled and frightened, for those were not my feelings. So where were their perceptions coming from? To Kill A Mockingbird explained it all. Something called racism permeated the town. Individual per-sonalities and actions had no sig-nificance relative to the race issue. We were seen in terms of our per-ceived racial identities, rather than ve really were. as Att Atticus Finch became my role model for coping with my problem. He understood what the town's situation was. He realized he could not easily change people, so he did not try to aggressively persuade them to his point of view. On the other hand, he did not yield to the town hangement, He process actended other name, he did not yield to t town's pressures. He never agree with them or apologized or change his actions. He quietly and persi-tently did what he knew was be Following his tently did what he knew was best. Following his example, I chose to ignore my family's comments, and just keep moving on, living with the silent knowledge within that they were the troubled ones, not me.

Atticus Finch was my hero, White man who I wanted and needed to guide me because my own race wasn't good enough.

But he was not "good" in the manner which racist/sexist White men obsessed with the "Oriental Airline Stewardess" nonsense think Asian women adore. He wasn't glamorous or charismatic. He wasn't a stylish dresser, in some executive position with a salary which enabled him to keep his Oriental Doll in style. Professionally he was very competent. Character wise, he was very ethnical. He was a plain and func-tional man who lived modestly. He had no great personal style or charm. He was extraordinarily cacharm. He was extraordinarily ca-pable of enduring great hardships, never losing sight of his larger goal. He worked quietly and persistently for what he knew was a moral obligation. He had gaman and giri. He was of his people, serving a poorly educated and depressed town. He was Nisei man.

My first real hero was indeed a My next real nero was indeed a White min because my own kind weren't "good enough." But they weren't bad because they lacked WASP glamour. They were break-ing under the stresses of accul-turation. Atticus Finch was not the man Oriental Airline Stewardess ed White men think I adore He was really an Anglo version of the Japanese American elders I had loved, before racism made them turn on me.

Akemi Kayleng Knight is San Fernando Valley chapter president and contributes regularly to the Pacific Citizen.

T.

Thank you, Michi Weglyn

I am ope of the survivors of the degrading and humiliating experi-ences that some railroad compa-nies imposed upon us during world War H. I have been following with great interest, beginning with Girlt Warber's neither in the Be great interest, beginning with Michi Weglyn's article in the Pa cific Citizen (Feb. 21-March 6) and every little item pertaining to this issue. Jeanne Konishi's letter (March 21-April 3 P.C.) described similar experiences that my par-ents and family endured. We certainly owe Michi Weglyn a debt of gratitude for champi

y our cause. am wondering how many were victimized by the railroad compa-nies. I would appreciate hearing from anyone who is willing to write.

Ida Otani

9

5385 Sierra College Blvd. Rocklin, CA 95677

TOM SAKAMOTO'S SPEECH: Most Nisei Gls in WWII fought two wars simultaneously, but MISers faced a third

Col. Thomas T. Sakamoto (ret.), San Jose, addressed the momentous "Park-Partner" ceremonies between the National Park Service and the National Japanese Ameri-can Historical Society May 7 at Presidio of San Francisco's Crissy Field hangar, Bldg. 640. He recounted his first days as a member of the first MISLS class in November 1941, to being assigned to the Allied press corps to witness the signing of the surrender. aboard the USS Missouri on Sept. 2, 1945, and added personal comments for the record and italicized for em-phasis. asis

Here is the text of his speech for the P.C. Archives Editor

T IS MY privilege to represent today the graduates of the first class of a then-secret Army Language School of this 55th year anniveranzy. This Partner-ship ceremony is indeed significant as we play an active role in furthering the public understanding of Japanese American expe-rience at this Presidio of San Francisco. In 1941, the U.S. Army survey revealed that the country faced the reality of a po-sible war with Japan and with virtually no Japanese linguistic ability in combat and in Japanese linguistic ability in combat and in the collection of intelligence. A few in the U.S. Army intelligence took a calculated risk and made a critical decision to place its trust and confidence in Japanese American soldiers to serve in combat intelligence du-ties in the Pacific.

When we reported for classes (an Nov. 1, 1941), we were greeted by Col. John Weckerling, and Col. Kai Rasmussen who became our commandant, and four civilian instructors. We were shocked to see that this (school building) was a very old air-plane hangar in the advanced state of di-lapidation. The hangar was nothing more than a large empty and cold warehouse with cement floor and an open latrine at the for end. Classrooms were crudely parti-diar end. Stassrooms were crudely parti-diar end. Stassrooms were crudely partihan a large empty and cold warehouse with cement floor and an open latrine at the far end. Classrooms were crudely parti-tioned with plywood walls. The group was divided into three classes, according to the level of Japanese language skills. Here we began our spartan life with rows of double-deck bunks and one footlocker each. We Kibei (those educated in Japan) were in the advanced class and the pace of our course was especially intense with the attack at Pearl Harbor as we concentrated on military-related subjects. It is sad to report today, after 55 years, time has taken its toll, and over half of the teachers and those students who graduated have passed on from the scene. Today, we are fortunate to have with us two original civilian instructors and four veterans from the first class. Let me introduce them: (a) the teachers Shig Kihara and Dr. Toshio Tsukahira; (b) and students from the first class, Garty Kadani, Gene Uratsu, Steve Yammoto and myself. Despite the fact that our families were foreibly incarcerated in the American in-terignal 58 Japanese American students who reported to duty here one month before Pearl Harbor were all volunteers. Forty-two of us completed the course; 32 were immediately ahipped to combat areas of the Pacific theater extending from Alaska to Guadalcanal. They remained buck privates for over a Pacific thester extending from Alaska to Guadalcanal. They remained buck privates for over a year. While some of us were promised a promotion to second listutenant, none of us were given promotion upon graduation. Nine of us eventually became NCOs [non-com-missioned officers] as instructors at the expanding Army Language School, which was moved from San Francisco to Minne-sota in May 1942. Events of war took a rapid turn for me. In HeSoruary 1944, i found myself in combat in the South Pacific. As a loce Nisei as-signed to a brigade-size reconnaissance task force aboard one of the nine destroyers, on Feb. 9, 1944, we landed under enemy fire on the Admirally Islands in the Southwest Pacific. Soon after in the hiet of battle I remer-the Admirally Islands in the Southwest Pacific. Soon after in the jeast of battle, I remem-ber trying to interrogate the first captured Japanese prisoner of war. He was semi-conscious with a serious wound. As I began to speak in Japanese, he realized I looked Japanese. He suddenly became alert and with fire in his eyes, abouted: "You bastard" Are you Japanese? Are you a braitor?" He insisted on being killed on the spot. The interrogation was not successful. On the second day after I landing, I was able to find among captured enemy docu-ments, a military operations order which outlined an all-out enemy attack plan for that evening. This timely inform General Chase, commander of General Chase, commander of the 1st Cav-alry Brigade, to counter-attack immediately. This forced the Japanese battalion com-mander to make a futile banzai suicide attack, just 35 yards from our co attack, just 30 yarus iron our command post. During the final phase of the Pacific War, on Aug. 30, 1945, I found myself at Atsugi Airbase with elements of the first U.S. forces to invade Japan. As I stood at the foot of General MacArthur's plane, Batoan, General MacArthur's plane, Batoan dark giasses and a well-worn garrison cap, holding an extra-long costboo pipe, before descending the ramp. He besi-tated a moment, gazed toward the horizon viewing from left to right and took a momen-tury pose which reminded of the victor and confueror. He then proceeded to a press conference.

conjueror. He then proceeded to a press conference. On Sept. 2, 1945, I was privileged to witness at close range the surnder cer-emony aboard Battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay, I watched the Japanese delegation headed by aged Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu leaning heavily on his cane, the chief of staff of the Japanese Army, General Yoshijiro Umeru and his military delega-tion, now sucordless and subjected to the peteraring stars of hostility, standing on mid-deck for a long time. They seemed to be ignored. This silent scene on the Battleship Missouri seemed to epitomize a total dis-grace of a defeated nation. Beven Hays later on Sept. 9, 1945, as a language officer I accompanied the US. press corps and flew to Hiroshima City. It was see at first-hand the effects of the atomic bomb dropped on that city one month ear-lier. The newsmen were all excited to be the first Americans to cover the aftermath of the atomic bomb.

the atomic bomb.

the atomic bomb. But after visiting the Red Cross hospital and seeing the flash burns which literally melted the skins off the faces of children and women, the newsmen were overwhelmed and astily retreated from the hospital. No one poke during the return flight back to Tohastily

This hangar before you is the birth place of the U.S. Army Language School, which moved to Minnesota in 1942, and again moved back to the West Coast in June 1946 to become the Defense Language Institute at the Presidio of Monteerr

Monterey. On Nov. 1, 1993, we of the First Class and Teachers of the Army Language School re-turned here to dedicate a monument. The Only of 1, 1993, we of the First Class and Theorem of the Army Language School re-gunde here to dedicate a monument. The method of the Army Language School re-duction of the Army Language School re-duction of the Army Language School with the second school of the Army Language School to future gen-grations in the outward repay. It is an ever repay. The objective was not to glorify war but to leave an educational message from the fraction of the Army Language School to future gen-grations that, despite the outright bigoty atmosphere that prevaled, there were Japa-times and the field of battle. The said that most Japanese American beyong the said that most Japanese and the states and to fight two wars simulta-beously-one against the enemy and the states that the field of battle. The third borrier which faced up was the discrimination and distrust within the military tilef. We corrised not only most of the language work, but did not get full out until Argunt 1945 when the war was solved to finder rank.

ing our ca

Something Strong Within'

BY CAROLINE AOYAGI stant Editor

Memories inevitably fade over time but two Japanese American documentaries have ensured that the suffering of thousands of Japa-nese Americans interned during World War II will never be forgotten. Close to 400 people, of all ages and backgrounds, came to see "Cel-ebrating Community Film: The Topaz Footage and Something Strong Within "at Los Angeles' Ja-pan America Theatre on April 3. Huell Howser, host and producer of the TV series "California Gold," emceed the screening sponsored by the Association of Moving Im-age Archivists, the Getty Research Institute for the History of Art and

Institute for the History of Art and the Hymanities, the Japanese American Community and Cul-tural Center (JACCC), and the Japanese American National Museum (JANM).

Ten minutes from David Tatsuno's historic home movie foot-age, taken during his internment at Topaz from 1943-45, were viewed by the capacity audience. Something Strong Within, a 40-minute documentary of other home video footage taken by JA intern-ees, including Tatsuno's films, was ees, including Tatsuno's films, was then shown in its entirety. Di-rected and edited by Robert A. Nakamura and written and pro-duced by Karen L. Ishizuka, the film has won a number of awards including the Chris Award from the Columbus International Film and Video Festival and a CINE Golden Eagle award. Tatsuno's color films of Topaz atsuno's copr nims of 10paz were recently added to the Na-tional Film Registry by the Librar-ian of Congress. Only 25 films are added to the Registry each year, and Tatsuno's film is just the secand Tatsuno's filp' is just the sec-ond home movie ever chosen. (Zapruder's footage of President Kennedy's assassination was the first.) Films are judged on their enduring cultural, historical, or aesthetic significance. Ishizuka, a Senior Curator at the JANM and also a Visiting Scholar with the Getty Research Institute nominated Tatsuno's film for the Registry. "Having it se-ceted out of a thousand (entrice)

Institute normatice factors of similar for the Registry. "Having it se-lected out of a thousand (entries) really acknowledges this govern-mental body recognizes the impor-tance of Japanese Americans and the community to the history of the United Strate," abe sid.

United States," she said. Nakamura, a professor of Film and Television at UCLA and co-founder of Visual Communications, a non-profit media arts organiza-tion, first met Tatsuno in 1990. When he and Ishizuka explained to him the historical significance of the Topaz footage, Tatsuno humI'm not an historian.

ies. I'm not an historian." "We spent time letting David know how really important his films were, not only to the Japanese American community but to the country as a whole," said Ishizuka.

Tatsuno could not attend the screening because of a sickness in his family, so Ishizuka spoke on his behalf. She said that Tatsuno's love of home movies began in 1936. That year his good friend passed away and the movies Tatsuno had taken of him gave him some solace. The 84-year-old resident of San Jose, Calif., has filmed events in his life ever since. He recently finished his 134th videotape.

When he was sent to Topaz in. 1942, all cameras were considered contraband, so he sent his to a white friend in Oakland, Calif. But Walter Honderick, a War Reloca-tion Authority staff member at Topaz, helped sneak an 8mm camera into the camp for him. Over a two-year period he used up 25 fifty-foot roles of film shooting through a baby's shoe box. "Despite the loneliness and de-spair that enveloped us, we made, the best we could with the situation," wrote Tatsuno. "I hope when you look at these you see the spirit of the people; people trying to re-construct a community despite overwhelming obstacles. This, I feel, is the essence of these homes You'll see no guard towers or barbed wire fences in Tatsuno's Topaz footage, for he couldn't film in the open view of the authorities. Instead, images of a young girl ice-skating on a man-made patch of ice, cooks busily preparing meals in the mess hall, and close-ups of smiling children fill up the screen. Only the occasional shots of thick icicles hanging from rooftops and the barren landscape of desert and mountain hint at the harsh and lonely conditions nearly 8.000 JAs had to endure.

had to endure. There is no narration in Some-thing Strong Within. Instead, video footage of everyday life in the vari-ous internment camps (Minidoka, Rohwer; Heart Mountain, Tule Lake, Jerome, Topaz, Amache, and Manzanar) is accompanied by a moving musical score and some original sound. The name of the Illumpker and an ovasional writ. original sound. The name of the filmmaker and an occasional writ-ten explanation are all that has been added to the images. A Christ-mas celebration, a school gradua-tion, and traditional mochi-making illustrate the internees efforts to carry on some semblance of nor-malcy behind barbed wire fences.

The creators of Something Strong Within consciously made few to the original WWII video footage. "It was a chance to show the internment experience through their own eyes," said Nakamura. In the past, documentaries about the JA internment have been told from the outside, said the former Manzanar internee.

"It was a strategic decision we made," added Ishizuka. "We wanted to provide a real view from within the camps." Also, "We wanted to intensify the interaction between the audience and the reached to be the the strate." people who took the movies.

people who took the movies." Home movies "provide a real his-tory of Japanese in America," said Ishizuka, who developed the JANM's Moving Image Archive, a collection dedicated to the preser-vation of home movies. "For people of color, the mass media has not documented our communities. So we rely on home videe " we rely on home videos.

Dozens of former internees from the various camps attended the screening. San Fernando Valley JACLer Ron Yoshida, 69, was in-terned at Topaz and lived in Block 4. He first viewed Tatsuno's video footage at a Topaz reunion a few years back. Yoshida was a teenager when Tatsuno gothis camera and vaguely remembers him filming in the camps. He appears in the historic video footage but, he said, "You gotta be real alert to see me." At the time, Yoshida said, he had no idea the films would have any historical significance. "He had a lot of foresight.

Takew him very well," said 83-year-old former Topaz internee Fred Hoshiyama of Tatsuno. "Dave and 1 go back to the 1929 YMCA days." Tatsuno was his YMCA club leader and they grew up together playing football and competing in track. They still keep in touch. "I think the film is the stark naked truth,"said Hoshiyama, who had already left the camp to fight in the war when Tatsuno got his camera. "It tells the truth of what happened in the camps."

in the second se young staff members. "Some are completely ignorant of what hap-

Missouri alumni fetes Sansei educator

COLUMBIA, Mo.-Missouri University Alumni Association ex-presses its pride and appreciation to faculty and alumni for their to faculty and alumn for their achievements and service to higher education through its Faculty-Alumni Award. The current recipi-ent is Professor Michael C. Hosokawa of family and commu-nity medicine, assistant dean for curriculum and minority affairs at e Columbia campus. On the faculty since 1974 to de-

On the faculty since 1974 to de-velop an accredited program in public health, his career expanded in 1981 to faculty development and writing more than $10 million in federal training grants in his de-partment. In 1994, with a $1.4 million grant which he co-wrote, provided health professions train-ing in rural Missouri. Acassistant dean he completely

As assistant dean, he completely revised the Medical School's fouryear curriculum which serves as a model for other universities. He has written in journals and authored a major book on the clinical teaching in medicine. As dean of minority affairs, he is developof minority anarrs, he is develop-ing programs to increase the num-ber of medical students who are racially, culturally, geographically and economically disadvantaged. He is the son of the Bill Hosokawas of Denver and is the father of two children.

admit there were times when they admit there were times when they could have done better, but few have done so in a manner so public and so wrenching as Al and Jane Nakatani [then]ofSan Jose," Mer-cury News writer Lori Eickmann cury New oserved. (Nakatani is scheduled to speak obs

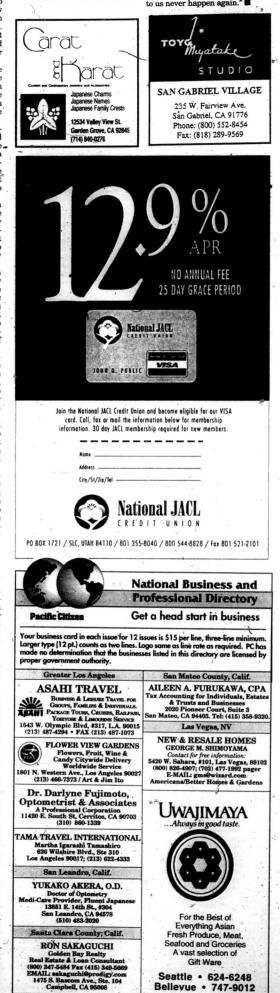

May 31 at the Japanese American National Museum 213/625-0414).

pened," said Hoshiyama. "And this is 1997, and they're college educated.

There's mom and also a need for America to understand this, to be America to understand tins, to be-come a more solid, democratic soci-ety," said Hoshiyama. "To make sure that the things that happened to us never happen again."

PACIFIC CITIZEN, MAY 16-JUNE 5, 1997

A scene from "Something Strong Within" directed and edited by Robert A. Nakamura and produced and written by Karen L. Ishizuka.

Inspiration from tragedy: the Nakatani story

RICHMOND, Calif .- "Just a RICHMOND, Calif.— "Just a reminder," the Contra Costa JACL pegged an upcoming event, Fri-day, May 23, 7:30 p.m., at Arling-ton Community Church, (52 Ar-lington Blvd., Kensington), to hear Al Nakatani of San Jose speak about his book, Honor Thy Chil-dren, by Molly Fumia of Los Gatos (Conari Press, $21:95). "It will be a very special opportu-nity to hear how personal tragedy and circumstances may forever change the lives of individuals. It will be a thought-provoking and educational evening," Ron Shiro-

educational evening," Ron Shiro-moto added. About the book, the story re-volves around the premature deaths of all three Nakatani sons, one, 23, by gun shot (Greg in 1986) during a dispute over a car, and the remaining two, 29 and 26 (Glen in 1992 and Guy 1994), through AIDS. But the forms is not the amediatem But the focus is not the syndrome, but illustrates the "killing power" from the devaluing and demean-ing of young children, San Jose friend Roy Takeuchi said. "Most parents can look back and

PACIFIC CITIZEN, MAY 16-June 5, 1997

Correction: MABOROSHI

There were 14 lines missing (as underlined below) from the "Rare Docu-ment" feature in the last issue, page 6, column 3. Our apologies for the error in making up the page. —Editor

In making up the page --contor Store and the second secon inity convinces of the non-proceed-tion decision. It was Adjutant General Ferrers who informed Mr. Terasaki, the au-thor of Encert's Monologue, of the Allied rowers' conclusion not to pro-ecute the Emperor. By March 20, 1946, the Japanese government al-ready obtained reliable information on the decision.

on the decision. At that time, my father was in Sugamo Prison. On April 18, 1946, Mr. Saburo Ohta, section chief from the Post-War Laisson Office, came to the prison and told my father that the Emperor definitely would not be treated as a defendant or witness, scording to information from sources very close to Mr. Joseph Keenan, the Chief Prosecutor. He also pointed out that accusation would be more severe on my father than it might have been if the Emperor had been indicted. Mr. Ohta advised my father to get prepared to sarrifice himself to pro-tect his master, the Emperor.

Grandson of the eminent states-man Takayoshi Kido who with Takamori Saigö and Toshimichi Okubo was one of the 'three herces of the restoration of the Emperor' in 1867, Koichi Kido (1889-1977) was active in government äkre graduat-ing 1915 from Kyoto Imperial Uni-versity ing 1915 from Kyoto Imperial Uni-versity. During the 1940s he worked closely with right-wing forces supporting the overthrow of the pro-U.S. and Brit-ish cabinet of Admiral Yonai and played a role in formation of the General Tojo cabinet. Tried and con-victed in 1945 as a Class-A war crimi-nal after the Pacific War, he was given a life sentence. In 1953 he was granted a provisional release because of illness.

HATE CRIME (Continued from page 1)

sage that the State of Arizona will sage that the State of Anzona will not tolerate bigotry, and that it is a good place to live and do business," said Joe Allman, vice president of the JACL Arizona Chapter and an active member of the Arizona Hate Crimes Task Force. "This a fine day for Arizona JACL and others who worked hard or this bill."

Symington's signing of the bill was a major policy reversal that repre-sented an uphill battle for the bill's supporters In his le

In his letter accompanying the signing of the bill, Symington acknowledged that crimes committed for discriminatory reasons are on the rise, and that no racial, religious or ethnic group is immune. Hate crimes in Arizona have in-creased steadily in recent years. The Arizona Department of Public Safety announced that in 1996, there

BEAUTY SALON

Located in Santa Monica, CA, U.S.A.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

MEMBERSHIPS AVAILABLE • Affordable 4000 Initiation • 175 Monthly Dues

GENE SARAZEN designed 18

GENE SARAZEN designed 18 Hole Golf Course PALM DESERT CALIFORNIA Member of the SCGA-USSCGA-USSCGA-For more information, call: (760) 346-8242 ony Schieffer - PGA Professional SEADOW MOUNTAIN GOLF (LUB 'S Desert Original'

HOME TYPISTS

PC users needed. $45,000

1-800-513-4343 Ext. B-1317

BILINGUAL Seeking individuals to work in marketing/training/leadership ca-pacity w/ internationally expand-ing company. (213) 782-0400

INTERVIEW COORDINATOR

INTERVIEW COORDINATOR Densho: Japn. Amer. Legacy Proj.-Oversee & manage oral/visual his-tory interviews; Supervise staff/vol-unteers; Schedule, monitor, evalu-ate interviews. QUALS: B.A. in so-cial sc.; journalism, or related + Knowlg/exper. in Japn. Amer. his-tory. Salary Neg. Send resume to: 1414 S. Weller St.; Seattle, WA 98144, Deadline: May 30, 1997.

income potential. Call:

7 Stations. We've been in busi for over 25 years. Call: 310/829-3024 leave message

FOR SALE

Tony

EMPLOYMENT

were 248 reported hate crimes, a 10 percent increase from 222 incidents in 1995. Of the reported hate crimes, there were 84 intimidation cases, 70 vandalism cases, 51 assaults, and 35 aggravated assaults. By far, the largest number of vic-tims were African Americans, with 109 incidents, followed by 31 anti-Jewish crimes and 29 anti-gay incidents

Five anti-Asian crimes were reported in 1996. It should be noted, however, that underreporting of hate nowgver, mat underreporting on hate crimes is seen to be prevalent, par-ticularly in immigrant communities. In Los Angeles, JACL Pacific Southwest Regional Director Albert Muratsuchi said, "Joe Allman and Arizona JACL worked hard for many users to negat this bill."

Anzona JACL worked nardrof many years to pass this bill." "This victory, like redress, is a reminder of the importance for all of us to get involved in the legislative process by writing, making phone calls, and meeting with our legislators."

hashi, 5 gc., 6 ggc. Murakami, Yoneichi Jack, 71, Tacoma Wash., March 28; Eatonville, Wash.-bom

Muratkami, Yoneichi Jack, 71, Tacoma, Wash., March 28; Eatonville, Wash.-born, Wohd War II army veteran, survived by daughter Wendy Salki (Believue), 2 gc., mother Shemiko Murakami (Seattie), Sis-ters Elsie Taki (Seattie), Kazuko Kawachi (Renton), fiancee Chom Simkiss (Federal Way), sister-in-law Jeanne Murakami. Nakamura, Raymond Tokio, 56, Monterey Park, April 15; Hawaii-born, sur-vived by son Derek Nakamura (Kona, Hawaii), daughter Darlene Wright (Eureka), borthers: Edwin, Benson, Melvin, Harvey, sisters Jarie Nakamura, Joyce St. Arnautt, Elaine Ferriandez. Nishimoto, Klyoto Thomas, 76, Se-attle, March 22; Nevasib-born, survived by wife Alice, sons Larry, Steve, daughter Gloria Ce, gc., brothers Yoshiharu, Iwami, sister Toshie Shimokon. Nishitsuji, Fred Hiroshi, 81, Los Ange-borthers Gorge, James, Arthur, Bill, sis-ters May Miyazawa (Colo.), Toshiko Shioshima (Tokyo), Arna Kunugi (Colo.), Irene Shimamoto (Imperial), sisters-in-law romi Nishitsuji, Grace Odama, Dorothy Kada.

Rada. Markada, Global Coalita, Bordari, Rada. Narakada, Global Coalita, Bordari, A. Olshi, Akira, 69, Los Angeles, April 17; Hawail-bom, survived by wile Leatrice, son Robert, brothers Hal, Hideo, sisters Dor-othy, Kondo, Jean Kawamoto, sisters-in-law (Sara and Helen Oishi. Okámoto, George, 77, Sebastopol, April 15; Laurel-bom, survived by wife Lily, sons Byron, Randolf, daughter Nancy Davlin, brothers Robert, Roy, sister Yasuko Ilverda

Davlin, brothers Robert, Roy, sister vasuko Uyeda. Okamuro, George, 70, Rosemead, April 14: Giendab-born, survived by wife Yoshika-Yo, sons Kit, Kirk, Krisi daughter Kerri Sandoval, 6 gc., brothers Jim, Furnio, sis-ter Mary Fundacehi (Hawaii), sisters-in-law Nova and Lu Okamuro, Alkö Fujimura, Miki Uyeda, Rosy Okazaki. Okimura, Noboru, 72, Foster City, April 24; Fiorin-born, survived by wife Mieko, sons Raymond, Joseph, Rickey, Gerald, Gilenn, gc.

Sons Haymono, Josephi, nickey, detawa, Glenn, gc. Okura, Benny, Cincinnati, April 22 World War II veteran, past president of Cincinnati JACL, survived by wife Jc. daughter Shelly, sisters PatiLeiberg, Sally Miciek (Atlanta), Marye Sand Gabbard (W.

Miciék (Atlanta), Marye Sand Gabbard (W. Harrison, Ind.), Ota, Hisa Mary, 84, Fullerton, April 24; Rowland-born, survived by son Michael, daughters, Joan Kawase, Ellen s Ange Takagishi, 8 gc., 4 ggc., brother Henry Mikawa, sisters Toshiko Hiraishi, Masaye Sato, sister-in-law Tsuruko Mikawa. Riva, Michiko, 67, San Francisco, Feb. 13; Osaka-born, survived by daughter Katherine Riva, brother Yoshiaki Matsu-moto (Japan).

Akira, Ben Y., 90, Laguna Niguel, April 7; Honolulu-born, survived by wife Yaeko, son Donald, daughters Joan, Donna, Jeanne, 7 gc., sister Sadako Sagara (Japan). Fujimoto, George Sueharu, 66, San Francisco, April 7; San Juan Bautista-bom, survived by wife Seiko. Fujimoto, Harvey Teruo, 86, Sacra-mento, April 21; survived by wife Mary, daughter Patricia Honbo (Davis), son Rob-et dependent Open mento, April a... daughter Patricia Honbo (Davis), ... et (Portland, Ore.). Fujimura, Rev. Bunyu, 89, Culver City, April 21; Gilu-ken-born, survived by sons Stanley, Robert, 1 gc., sister Kazuko Stanley, Robert, 1 gc., sister Kazuko Stanley, April 8;

April 21; Gitu-ken-born, survived by sons Stanley, Robert, 1 gc., sister Kazuko Okuma (Japan). Goi, Frank, 69, Sacramento, April 8; founding, member, Matsuyama-Sacra-mento Sister City Corp., survived by wife-ressie, son Creston, daughter Renee Kinoshita, 2.gc., brother George, sisters Edith Yotsuya, Barbara Yukinaga. Hayashi, Shigeo, 71, Fort Lupton, Colo., March6; 442nd veteran, survived by sister Tomiko Maedo (Los Angeles), brothers Masami (Satt Lake City), Kazuto. Horita, Henry Haruo, 90, Stockton, March31; Stockton-born, survived by wife Kazuko, brother George (Monterey Park), sister Chityo Kikuchi (New York City). Inadomi, Manuel Kumanosuke, 92, April 24 service: recipient of. the Fourth

April 24 service; recipient of the Fourth Order of the Sacred Treasure, served on the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Los the Board of Harbor Commissioners of Los Angeles, survived by wife Anna, children George, Ihs Teragawa, Jean Islimaru (Ber-keley), Kiyo Tashima, Larry. Kadomatsu, Marian Maruko, 75, Los Angeles, April 10; Los Angeles-born, sur-vived by husband Masso, sons Steven, Gary, daughter Patrice Lujan-Mito, 5 gc., brdh: ar Atrian Katol (Hawain) Taira Kato, sisters Katsuko Odanaka, Seiko Ruby Zonki, Kumiko Karen Hirokawa (San Fran-cisco), Lillan Hiroko Kusayanagi, Florence Haruko Kato, sister-in-law Ruth Chiyo Wattson.

Haruko Kato, sister-in-law Ruth Chiyo Wattson. Kageyama, Noboru, 84, Seatile, Dec. 23; Seatile-born, president of North Ameri-can Post, recipient of the Order of the Rising Sun Gold and Silver Rays, survived by wife Natsuko, daughter Judy Takaya (Costa Mesa), sons David, Arthur (Se-attle), Paul (San Jose), 2 gc., Hatsue Kageyama (Japan) Kanda, Fukuko 'Connie/Cookie', 69, Ontano, Ore., March 25; Kagoshima-born, survived by borther Yasue Kanda (Japan). Kobayashi, Tom Yoshimitsu, 74, Tor-rance, April 24; Compton-born, survived by son Tom.Jr. (Corona), daughters Jeanne Mayeda, Judy Nakamura (Yotha Linda), Terry Nakada, 6 gc., brother Frank Koba-yashi (Anaheim Hills), sister Mary Michan' Takanshi (Long Beach).

yashi (Anaheim Hillis), sister mary markanashi Takahashi (Long Beach). Kuge, Don, 68, Oakland, April 18; Oak Komatsu. Menda, Mitsuyo, 99, Lake Worth, Fla., April 6; Hiroshima-ken-born, survived by son Masao (Chicago), daughters Toshiko Ota (Melbourne, Fla.), Nancy Morimoto (Lake worth, Fla.), Cee Ozaki (Kensington

Monterey Peninsula JACL hosts book signing party on abalone inclustry MONTEREY, Calif.—Scrap, Lundy's pictorial history on the California Aba-fone Industry, covers the development of the abalone diving industry from 1853 to 1994 in both words and pictures. A box, at the JACL Hall, 424 Adams St. Asignificant chapter covering a major role of Issei pioneers and Niskel divers from 1898 Jo 1941 was contributed by the late John Gota, local historian and JACLer. "It's the longest chapter in the book", noted Larry Oda, chapter presi-dent (402/649-8551). Lundy, author and former abalone diver, spent more than six years in re-searching the only published history of the pioneer divers. ■

Takayanagi, Shigeko, 70, Berkeley, April 1; survived by husband Tadao, daugh-ters Emily, Tracy Hui, 1 gc., sisters Yasuko Hitomi, Miyoko Nakagawa. Tsuchiyama, Mitsugu Mits, 75, Gardena, April 16, Bakersheid-born, sur-vived by borther Hiroshi. Tsuchimura, Alice Toshiko, 89, Lafayette, April 11; Fowler-born, survived by daughter Alieen (Lodi), sons Ray (Wai-nut Creek), Hiro (Sunnyvale), 6 gc., predeceased by husband Edward. Watanabe, Yasuo Harry, 67, Gardena, April 15; Hawai-born, survived by wife Evelyn Yoshie, sons Dene, Lee, daughter Staci, 1 gc., borther, Stachsi Istanley, sis-ters Nancy Kumakura, Peggy Takamot. Yamada, Tsunayo, 86, Torrance, April 15; Hawai-born, survived by daughter Miyo Yanaguma.

Koyamatsu, 4 gc., 2 gc., brother Takito Yamatkoshi, Helen Shigeko, Reedley, March 28; Watsonville-born, survived by husband Frank, daughters Agnes Sasaki, Esther Ura, Shiritey Baskin, Lois Yama-koshi, Carole Yamakoshi, 6 gc., brother Tyrone Kuwada, sisters Emily Igarashi, Doris Kunimura, Laraine Nökö, Kathleen Hori, Celeste Kitagawa. Yamauchi, Kaju, 91, Sacramento, April 21; survived by sons Harold, Jim, Thomas, Kari, 2 gc., predeceased by wife Haruye. 68, Northridge, April 10; Riverside-born, survived by husband Hide, son Pyan, daughter Jody Mitsch, 4 gc., brother Harry Kikuta, sisters-in-law Mitsle Kikuta, Kiyoko Vokomizo. Dorther-in-law Mitsle Kikuta, Kiyoko

Vakania, statisterinaw wilser rukula, ruyoko Yokomizo, brother-in-law like Yokomizo. Yorita, Sadao, 78, Sacramento, April 17; survived by sons Jim, Richard, David, Ronald, daughters Evelyn Wakabayashi, Susan Gollas, 11 gc., 1 ggc., predeceased

Norsky, balginets Creini vanabejsan, Susan Gollas, 11 gc., 19gc., predecesaed by wife Kimiko. Yoshida, Chitoshi, Denver, April 17 service; survived by wife Chiyo. Yoshizawa, Marilynn Naoko, 47, Los Angeles, April 16; Los Angeles-born, sur-vived by husband Edwin, son Jeffrey, doughters, Janice Laura father Naoii Bill Kuga, brother Dennis Naoto Kuga, sister Naomi Jean Kishimoto. Yturri, Louis, 84, Ontario, Ore., March 18; Delmar, Idaho-born, 33-year Thousand Club JACL member, survived by wife Elsie, hildren Lou Ann Ylurri, Dolores Biyant, Robert Ylurri (Cascade, Idaho), 10 gc., step-mother Justa Ylurri (Ontario). ■

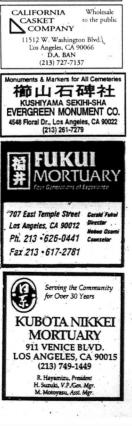

RAE SHIZUE FUJIMOTO

EATH NOTICE

KAE SHIZUE FUJIMOTO SALT LAKE CITY, Utah-Rae Shizue Nakamoto Fujimoto, 89, passed away peacefully on April 20. She was born in San Francisco to Sekitaro and Tamiyo Nakamoto. She married Ed-ward Kanta Fujimoto on Feb. 18, 1940. In 1942, her husband was interned at Bismarck, ND, and Rae and her family ware sent to the Trace relocation como Bismarck, ND, and Rae and her family were sent to the Topaz relocation camp in Delta, UT. Following the war, Eddie and Rae re-established the Fulimoto Miso Co. in Sult Lake City. After Eddie's d-aft in 1956, Rae continued the busi-ness until her retirement in 1976. She Buddhist Temple, Salt Lake JACL, Hiroshima Kenjinkai. Surviving family include a daugh-ter, Grace (Ben) Oshita; sister, Lillian S. Sekino, both of Salt Lake City: sister-in-law, Kiyoko Nakamoto, Bellevue, WA, many nephewa, nieces and grand-children.

children.

Funeral services were held at the Salt Lake Buddhist Temple.

Rancho Santiago College in Santa Ana, Calif. has openings Santa Ana, Cain. nas openings for Tenure Track Coordinator/ Asst. Professor/Success Cen-ter, Asst. Professor/Learing Disabilities Specialist, dead-line: 6/4/97; Asst. Professor/ Automotive Tech., deadline 6/ Automotive Tech., deadline 6/ 20/97, salay: $32,803-$54,454/ yr.; 3 Child Dev. Center Head Teachers, salary: $19,805-$20,415/yr. & 2 Child Dev. Cen-ter Directors, salary: $3,435-$4,177/mo., deadline: 6/11/97; 30 hrs/week Administrative Clerk, salary: $2,149-$2,745/ mo. (to be prograde at 75%) & mo. (to be prorated at 75%) & Science Laboratories Coordi-nator, -salary: $2,706-$3,457/ mo., deadline: 5/27/97; Computer Laboratory Technician, salary: $2,149-$2,745/mo. dead-line: 6/9/97. We are also deven Ine: 6/9/97. We are also devel-oping a pool for part-time/hourly Anatomy & Physiology In-structors, salary: $37.50/lecture hr., deadline: 6/2/97. Contact 714-564-6499 for applications, job announcements & to schedule for typing test. AA/EOE/ADA:

Classified Ads EMPLOYMENT

Takahashi (Long Beach). Kuge, Don, 68, Oakland, April 18: Oak-land-born, survived by wife Hisako, daughter Pamela Kumimoto, 2 gc., mother Aiko Kuge, sister Ida Morikawa. Jo, Taketo, 85, Watsonville, April 20; Los Angeles-born, survived by wife Sa-chiye, son Seiji, daughter Kazuko, 2 gc. Matsuishi, Bob, 93, Torrance, March 30; Hawaii-born, survived by wife Michiye, sons Dick, Ed, Ron, daughters Agnes Yoshikawa, Anna Pattison, 9 gc., 2 gg. Matsuishe, Harry Yoshio, 83, Palo Alto, March 29; survived by wife Mary, son Fonald, daughters Ineo, Diana Okamoto, 4 gc., sisters Sachiko Tademaru, Fumiko Yamane, Fumie Takeuchi, Keiko Nagai (alf of Japa). Mayeda, Harumi Dorothy, 85, Monte bello, April 22; Tacoma, Wash-born, survived by son Glenn, daughter June Komatsu. Menda, Mitsuvo, 99, Lake Worth, Fla.,

Ora (weipourrie, rea.), Naria, Wolfindou (Lake worth, Fia.), Cee Oracki (Kensington Morioka, Makino, 83, Los Angeles, April 19; Pacoima-born, survived by husband Satoru, sons Eddie, David, daughter Joyce Fujita, 5 gc., sister Surniye Suzuki. Mukati, William Aljiro, 83, Seattle, March 30; Alder, Wash.-born, survived by wife Lilly, daughters Gail, Judy. Munemitsu, Seiko Tad', 75, Gardena Grove, April 22; survived by wife Yone, daughter Janice Munemitsu, mother Masako Munemitsu, brother Saylo, sisters Aiko Nakauchi, Kazuko Doi, sisteri-in-law Rakumi Sasaki. Murakami, Toklye, 89, Gardena, April 17; Fukuoka-born, survived by son Frank shinichi, daughter Alice Tetsuko Taka.

on abalone industry

sui Mayeou matsi

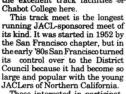

Riva, Michiko, 67, San Francisco, Feb.
 Tosaka-bom, survived by daughter Katherine Riva, brother Yoshiaki Matsumote (Japan).
 Saito, Leo Takeshi, 84, Monrovia, April 20; Fresno-bom, survived by wite Naoko.
 Sons Tom, Steve, Robert, daughter Elizabeth Nola, 5 gc., sister Masako Ir ada.
 Sakamoto, Miyoko Karty, 69, Monterey Park, April 14; Fukuoka-ken-bom, survived by husband Kiyoshi. son Arfen Norwod.
 Sanwo, Allison, 24, Reedley, April 2: survived by parents Richard and Sharon Sanwo, Sisters Karen, Richelle, grandmother Ichika Sanwo.
 Sato, Ichiro, 61, Las Vegas: Long Beach-bom, survived by sons. Dennis (Westminster), David (Torrance), daughters Deth Dazet, Deanne Sato (Torrance), Darlene Sato (Gardena). 2 gc.,sisters Chiyeko Washita (Cypress), Yoshiko Sato, Masako Sato (Carson).
 Semba, Amy T., 84, Tacoma, Wash. Feb. 28; Bellevue, Wash.born, survived by sons Gary, Ron, daughters Nancy Sera, Alice Yahiro, 3 gc., proters Akira Sasano.
 Stewart, June K. Nakagawa, 72, Salem, Ora, Oct. 17; Aubum, Wash.bom, survived by husband Ted.
 Stewart, June K. Nakagawa, 72, Salem, Ora, Oct. 17; Aubum, Wash.bom, survived by husband (Moses Lake, Wash.) Son Karakawa (Japan).
 Stewart, June K. Nakagawa, 72, Salem, Ora, Oct. 17; Aubum, Wash.bom, Survived by husband (Moses Lake, Wash.). Chery Wilson (Pasco, Wash.), son Michael wai (Hillsboro, Ore.), 6 gc., 2 gc., sister Surviva, Sanara Sara (Sumner, Wash.), Chick Dusabion (Las Vegas).
 Suryaan, Sansaku, 86, Seattle, March 9; Japan-bom, Giek (Soattle, Japan-bom, Saler, Chiko, Japan-bom, Saler, Kinkada, Japan-bom, Saler, Kale, Wash.), Jon Kichael Wash. Ji Og.
 Sunghara, Sansaku, 56, Seattle, March 9; Japan-bom, Giek (Shoreline), Alar (Seattle), daughter Carole Burrus (Tukwia) (all Wash.) 10 gc.
 Sunghara, Bursko Burt, Seattle, March 9; Japan-bom, Kales, Alaroka Mash, Jan (Seattle), daughter Carole Burrus (Tukwia) (all wife Susan, sons Glenn (Penton), Stevé (Kirkland), Dick (Shoreine), Alan (Seattle), daughter Carole Burrus (Tukwila) (all Wash.) 10 gc. Sunohara, Tadao, 74, Seattle, March 22; survived by wife Toshiko, daughter Lucy Bloede (Seattle). Suzuki, Minoru, 79, March 10; Hawaii-born, 18-year resident of Las Vegas, survived by wife Karlei, son Blake, daughter Marie Virkus (both of Las Vegas), 5 gc., 4ggc, brothers Yutala (Honoliul), Shinobu Nagura (Tokyo), sisters Suzuno Fujisaki, Sumi Jobert of Honolulu). Taguchi, Hisano, 91, Los Angeles, April 15; Okayama-ken-born, survived by sons selichi, Atsushi, daughter Misako Kurosaki, 3 gc., 1 ggc, brother Hideo Hamada (Japan). Tatkahashi, Chika, 91, Seattle, March 19; survived by daughter Patli Kinara, 2 c. sister Fumiko Yorisada (Japan). Tatkahashi, Chika, 91, Seattle, March 19; survived by daughter Patli Kinara, 27; Hawail-Som educator, executive sec-retary to U.S. Sen. Oren Long, principal of Farrington High Schod, survived by wife Masaki, son James, daughters Joan, Diane, 5 gc., brother Hatashi.

-11

Northern Cal JACL Jr. Olympics set for June 8

HAYWARD, Calif.— On Sun-day, June 8, the Northern Califor-nia JACL District Council will host na JACL District Council will nost its 45th annual Junior Olympics track and field meet. For the past 15 years the meet has been held at the excellent track facilities of

Those interested in participat-ing in this year's event should call

CAPITALS OF EASTERN EUROPE (16 days)..... DISCOVER RHODE ISLAND & CAPE COD (8 days) CANADIAN ROCKIES/VICTORIA (8 days)

CANADIAN ROCKIES/VICTORIA (6 days) JAPAN SUMMER ADVENTURE (10 days) TAUCK COLORADO NATIONAL PARKS (6 days) EUROPEAN INTERLUDE (12 days) MAUI GOLF HOLDAY (6 days) TENNESSEE/BRANSON/KENTUCKY (Shoji Tabuch: Show, 9 days) EAST COAST/FALL FOLLAGE (11 days) JAPAN AUTUMN ADVENTURE (11 days) PRINCESS PANAMA CANAL CRUISE (Early Boxount, 10 days) PRINCESS PANAMA CANAL CRUISE (Early Boxount, 10 days)

1997 ESCORTED TANAKA TOURS

CALL OR WRITE TODAY FOR OUR FREE BROCHURES •

Tanaka Travel Service is a full service agency and can assist you in issuing individual air tickets, cruise bookings, & other travel plans at no additional charge. TANAKA TRAVEL SERVICE 441 O'Farrell St., San Francisco, CA 94102 (415) 474-3900 or (800) 826-2521; CST #1005545-40

PANA-Mexico to host July 23-27 convention, program details set Details of the 1997 PANA con-vention at Mexico City July 23-27 karaoke contest, spec

MAY 10 JUN 6 JUN 18 JUL 7 SEP 4

SEP 0 SEP 9 SEP 22 SEP 13 OCT 5 OCT 13 NOV 15

were announced by American Holiday's Ernest Hida, PANA-USA travel coordinator. The $300 regis tration fee for participants from the U.S., Canada and Japan in-cludes:

Opening ceremony, all panels, simultaneous translation, coffee breaks, three luncheons, two banquets with Mexican entertainment and dance, reception at the Japa-nese Embassy, convention booklet, transportation to the events Steve Okamoto, 415/981-6212(day) for more information or check with the local JACL chapter.

and airport, ticket for PANA karaoke contest, special program for young people and the "full love from the Mexican Nikkei."

from the Mexican Nikkei." Stay will be at Hotel Nikko, Mexico City. Registrations, pay-able to PANA-USA, attn: E. Hida, 312 E. 135 L. #341. Los Angeles, CA 90012, submitted after May 30 will be $330.

Artist of the month

Artist of the month A reception for abstract painter Yayoi Ailene Shibhata by Angel Gate Cultural Center, 3601 S. Gaffey St., San Pedro, Calif., for its "Featured Artist of the Month" was held Sunday, May 11. On display through May 31 (Wednesday through Sunday, 11 am. 4 pm.), is which narrates her family history and personal identity, and explor-ing her heritage through the me-dium of textures, colors, shapes and fabrics. Shibata, a UCLA fine and fabrics. Shibata, a COLA fine arts graduate, has exhibited since the 1960s in Los Angeles, San Fran-cisco, New York and Tokyo. ■ Harvard bound Steven Ujifusa, 17, senior at Horace Greeley High, Chappaqua, N.Y., was admitted as an Early Action candidate to Harvard, class of 2001. His interests include architecture and history. He is the son of JACL redress leader and '65 Harvard graduate, Grant and Amy • Ujifusa.

PACIFIC CITIZEN, MAY 16-JUNE 5, 1997

MEMBE

					MEMBER
			(CST No. 101		ASTA
DATES		AR	1997 TOU		American Society of Travel Agents	ESCORT
June 8-15			uise - 8 Days, Inside Pas ncouver, Juneau, Skagw	sage aboard the		Lilly Nomura
June 16-30	Y	amato Hokkaido a	nd Tohoku Tour - 15 Day e Toya, Hakodate, Towa	s: Sapporo, Kav	vayu	Peggy Mikuni
July 13-21	Y. C	amato Northern S learlake to Sparks	ierra Tour - 9 Days: San by Skunk Train, Sparks/	Francisco, Fort E Reno casinos ar	Bragg, nd Yosemite.	Steven Nakamoto
July 31-Aug.	N	lew Brunswick, Pri	nada Tour -11 Days: Mo nce Edward Island, Nova	Scotia.		Lilly Nomura
Oct. 6-17	B	aseball Hall of Far	/Fall Foliage Tour -12 Da ne/Cooperstown, William ountry, Washington, D.C	stown, Lincoln, E		Lilly Nomura
Oct. 24-30	Y	amato Steamboat	Cruise - 7 Days, aboard buis to Hannibal, LaCross IP AIRPARE IF DEPOSI	the Mississippi C se, Red Wing en	ding in St. Paul.	Steven Nakamoto
Oct. 27-Nov.	10 Y	amato Deluxe Aut	umn Tour to Japan - 15 [to, Beppu, Hiroshima and	Days: Kyoto, Kura		Peggy Mikuni
Nov. 7-21	C	ambridge, Rotorua	v Zealand and Australia a, Christchurch, Fox Glac	ier, Queenstown	Sydney and Cain	Lilly Nomura
Dec. 6-11	M	loments and Silver	Tour to Branson - 6 Days Dollar City and 6 shows s, Bobby Vinton, Andy W	: Shoji Tabuchi, I	Lennon Brothers,	Peggy Mikuni e Ito.
			call Yamato Travel Bureau ne 213, 310 and 818 area co

YAMATO TRAVEL BUREAU 200 South San Pedro Street, Suite 502, Los Angeles, CA 90012

"Give Your Mother A Permanent Place In Japanese American History. - George Takei

There is no way to repay your mother for all the things she has done for you.

But you can start by preserving her name for all the generations that follow her.

For a $250 contribution, her name will be permanently inscribed in the outer Glass Walls of the new Pavilion of the Japanese American National Museum.

In addition to preserving your family name, you will be helping to preserve Japanese American history. And at the same time, you'll also be giving everyone a reason to visit the Museum and discover firsthand important information that isn't found in history books. Space for the names is limited, and the earliest respondents will receive priority placement, so please act promptly.

To receive a "Windows to the Future" registration packet, please complete the form below and return it-to the Museum.

Or call our Development Office at (213) 625-0414. Outside of the Los Angeles area, call toll-free (800) 461-JANM

COMPLETE INSURANCE PROTECTION Aihara insurance Agency Inc. 250 E. 1st St., Los Angeles 90012 Suite 700 (213) 626-9625 Funakoshi-Ito Ins. Service, Inc. 99 S. Lake Ave., Pasadena 90012 Suite 300 (818) 795-(818) 795-7059 Ota Insurance Agency a 9110 35 N. Lake Ave., Pasadena 91101. Suite 250 (818) 795-6205 Kagawa Insurance Agency Inc. 50 E. 2nd St., Los Angeles 90012 02 (213) 628-1800 Suite 302 J. Morey Company, Inc. One Centerpointe Drive, La Palma 90 na 90623 te 960 (714) 562-5910 Ogino-Aizumi Insurance Agency 1818 W. Beverly BI, Montebello 90640 Suite 210 (213) 728-7488 Ota Insurance Agency 35 N. Lake Ave., Pasad Suite 250 na 91101 (818) 795-620 Isu-Tsuneishi Ins. Agency, Inc. 250 E. 1st St. Los Angeles 90012 Suite 1005 (213) 628-1365 Suite 1005 Sato Insurance Agency 340 E. 2nd St, Los Angeles 90012 300 (213) 680-4190 T. Roy Iwami & Associates Isu-Quality Ins. Service, Inc. 241 E. Pomona Blvd., Monterey Park 91754 (213) 727-7755 (213) Jerrine Charles M. Kamiya & Sons, Inc. Dea Kenneth M. Kamiya Ins. 373 Van Ness Ave., Torrance 90501 374 Lan Ness Ave., Torrance 90501 (310) 781-2066 Frank M. Iwasaki Insurance 1 N. Woodburn Drive, Los Angeles 9004 (213) 879-2184 121 N 0.57

VAL

Los Angeles Japanese Casualty Insurance Assn.